Bachateros Julie A. Sellers,2017-03-22 The guitar based music known as bachata was born in the Dominican Republic in the early 1960s Brought to the U S by Dominican migrants it has continually developed to reflect the changing tastes of fans and musicians Bachata became increasingly popular among younger Dominican Americans in the 1990s and 2000s This generation of artists reshaped the music blending multiple genres with Spanish and English lyrics to reflect their multicultural reality In this book 27 artists share their personal and collective insights into how modern bachata provides an intimate representation of what it means to be Dominican Latino multicultural and bilingual in a transnational setting

OUTBACK HUSBAND Jessica Hart,2014-08-15 Juliet Laing couldn t bring up twin toddlers and run her beloved cattle station single handed She needed a manager and quickly Cue Cal Jamieson With arrogant self assurance the irritating Australian claimed the post as his and promptly moved into the homestead Now he seemed intent on proving that the Outback was no place for an Englishwoman captivating her two baby boys and driving her to distraction Juliet resolved to teach Cal just exactly who was boss Until she discovered his true motive for coming to Wilparilla It was the perfect excuse to fire him so why couldn t she do it The dominance of the male gaze in Hollywood Films Isabelle Fol,2006-03-16

Inhaltsangabe Abstract The way in which media systems reflect our social environment and specifically how they represent and disseminate gender role models and have a lasting effect on the construction of identity is of long standing interest both in Gender Studies and in the literary and the visual arts In order to examine in particular the representation of women in the visual art of popular cinema The Dominance of the Male Gaze in Hollywood Films will thus focus on the image of women in mainstream Hollywood films Although media and specifically television and films are often considered to act largely as a social mirror films in fact often distort social reality and continue to reflect traditional stereotypical gender constructions In fact these traditional gender images are not simply mirrors of real life but also ideological signifiers In many mainstream films that pretend to depict reality a time lag separates true social circumstances from the film reality the movie produces Consequently this time lag also manifest in filmic representations of gender roles means for the women s movement that feminists have hardly been able to enact new images of women outside the patriarchal context of popular films or change female stereotypes and incorporate feminist thought into mainstream films Thus mainstream films do not propagate an image of emancipated women quite the reverse women are subordinate objects of the male gaze This general assumption has led to this thesis which will deal with the question of whether Hollywood films as representative of mainstream culture still disseminate patriarchal images of women dominated by the male gaze even though feminist thought has been part of our society for some decades now Located at the intersection of Media Studies Cultural Studies Sociology and Gender Studies this thesis will mainly follow the theoretical approach of the feminist film critic Laura Mulvey who developed the concept of the male gaze in her essay Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema Mulvey's concept shall contribute to the analysis of the thesis that the images of women in Hollywood films still correspond to conservative patriarchal stereotypes Within the scope of this still valid thesis one of the major restrictions was to narrow down the film analysis to merely Hollywood film production The reason for this restriction is first of all that Hollywood films representative of popular taste are globally

Is that a Gun in Your Pocket? Rachel Abramowitz,2000 Women and power perhaps no other confluence of subjects has launched as many myths or stirred as much gossip Eight years ago a remarkably talented reporter named Rachel Abramowitz began interviewing the women of Hollywood to in her words puncture the mythology and to circumvent the silence of this rarefied world At the time women directors agents producers and studio executives made up only a tiny minority of the industry Abramowitz wanted to find out what had allowed this handful of women to infiltrate the male dominated world of moviemaking and what was keeping other women out Is That a Gun in Your Pocket is a vibrant social history that brings to light the previously untold saga of the rise of women in Hollywood over the past forty years In these pages some of the most famous most powerful and most outrageous members of the film industry go on record with their war stories From superstar actors to independent directors women in all arenas of the moviemaking business opened up to Abramowitz Their firsthand tales of jealousy struggle sexism and success make for a fascinating behind the cameras look at what it is really like to be a woman in Hollywood Abramowitz s insight and novelistic style make for a fantastic romp through every major studio every agency and hundreds of sets back lots and dressing rooms Here in their own candid and pro vocative words are Jodie Foster Penny Marshall Dawn Steel Sue Mengers Sherry Lansing Polly Platt Barbra Streisand Paula Weinstein Nora Ephron Carrie Fisher Meryl Streep Jane Campion Amy Heckerling Callie Khouri Joan Tewkesbury and many others Together they form a community of friends colleagues and competitors that constitutes one of the most riveting casts you re likely to find in fiction or nonfiction Woven throughout the individual dramas is a strikingly original analysis of the films of the last four decades that fairly and accurately shows the difficulty women have faced in getting their stories on screen With telling details from the insiders them selves Abramowitz reveals the almost reflexive sexism that exists in Hollywood and traces how the male dominated atmosphere influences what is seen by moviegoers around the world Inspiring scandalous poignant and hilarious this is both a landmark look at the evolution of women s place in filmmaking and a glimpse inside one of the most powerful industries in American culture Manufacturing Consent Institute of Policy Alternatives (Montréal, Québec),1994
