Amsterdam's People of the Book Benjamin E. Fisher, 2020-03-30 The Spanish and Portuguese Jews of seventeenth century Amsterdam cultivated a remarkable culture centered on the Bible School children studied the Bible systematically while rabbinic literature was pushed to levels reached by few students adults met in confraternities to study Scripture and families listened to Scripture based sermons in synagogue and to help pass the long cold winter nights of northwest Europe The community's rabbis produced creative and often unprecedented scholarship on the Jewish Bible as well as the New Testament Amsterdam's People of the Book shows that this unique Bible centered culture resulted from the confluence of the Jewish community's Catholic and converso past with the Protestant world in which they came to live Studying Amsterdam's Jews offers an early window into the prioritization of the Bible over rabbinic literature a trend that continues through modernity in western Europe It allows us to see how Amsterdam's rabbis experimented with new historical methods for understanding the Bible and how they grappled with doubts about the authority and truth of the Bible that were growing in the world around them Amsterdam's People of the Book allows us to appreciate how Benedict Spinoza's ideas were in fact shaped by the approaches to reading the Bible in the community where he was born raised and educated After all as Spinoza himself remarked before becoming Amsterdam's most famous heretic and one of Europe's leading philosophers and biblical critics he was steeped in the common beliefs about the Bible from childhood on

The Jewish Encyclopedia: a Descriptive Record of the History, Religion, Literature, and Customs of the Jewish People from the Earliest Times to the Present Day ,1906 The Three Voyages of William Barents: To the Arctic Regions

(1594-1596) Gerrit de Veer,2011-01-01 The three voyages undertaken by the Dutch towards the close of the sixteenth century with a view to the discovery of a north east passage to China are deservedly placed among the most remarkable exploits of that enterprising nation while the ten months residence of the adventurous seamen at the furthest extremity of the inhospitable region of Novaya Zemlya within little more than fourteen degrees of the North Pole and their homeward voyage of upwards of seventeen hundred geographical miles in two small open boats are events full of romantic interest The republication by the Hakluyt Society of the narrative of these three voyages is most appropriate at this particular juncture when public attention is so painfully absorbed by apprehensions as to the fate of Franklin and his companions At all times would this work be read with interest as giving in plain and simple language which vouches for its truth the first account of a forced winter residence in the Arctic Regions patiently and resolutely endured and successfully terminated but at the present moment it acquires a far deeper importance from its representation faint perhaps and wholly inadequate to the reality of the hardships which must have been undergone by our missing countrymen happy if some of them shall have survived like Gerrit de Veer to tell the tale of their sufferings and of their final deliverance from their long captivity In adverting to the causes which led to these three expeditions it would be quite superfluous to enter upon the general history of Arctic discovery All that is requisite for the proper elucidation of the present subject is an investigation of the actual state of our knowledge respecting the precise field of the labours of our Dutch navigators previously to the date of their adventurous undertaking Three centuries have now elapsed since the first attempt was made to discover a north east passage to China and India The circumstances under which this took place cannot be better detailed than in the words of Clement Adams in his account of the newe Nauigation and discouerie of the kingdome of Muscouia by the north east in the yeere 1553 which is printed by Hakluyt in the first volume of his Principal Navigations At what time our marchants perceiued the commodities and wares of England to bee in small request with the countreys and people about vs and neere vnto vs and that those marchandizes which strangers in the time and memorie of our auncesters did earnestly seeke and desire were nowe neglected and the price thereof abated although by vs carried to their owne portes and all forreine marchandises in great accompt and their prises wonderfully raised certaine graue citizens of London and men of great wisdom and carefull for the good of their countrey began to thinke with themselves howe this mischiefe might be remedied Neither was a remedie as it then appeared wanting to their desires for the auoyding of so great an inconuenience for seeing that the wealth of the Spaniards and Portingales by the discoverie and search of newe trades and countreys was marueilously increased supposing the same to be a course and meane for them also to obtaine the like they thereupon resolued upon a newe and strange nauigation And whereas at the same time one Sebastian Cabota 1 a man in those dayes very renowned happened to bee in London they began first of all to deale and consult diligently with him and after much speech and conference together it was at last concluded that three shippes should bee prepared and furnished out for the search and discoverie of the northerne part of the world to open a way and passage to our men for trauaile to newe and vnknown kingdomes And whereas many things seemed necessary to bee regarded in this so hard and difficult a matter they first make choyse of certaine graue and wise persons in maner of a senate or companie which should lay their heads together and giue their iudgements and prouide things requisite and profitable for all occasions by this companie it was thought expedient that a certaine summe of money should publicly bee collected to serue for the furnishing of so many shippes And lest any priuate man should bee too much oppressed and charged a course was taken that euery man willing to be of the societie should disburse the portion of twentie and five pounds a piece so that in short time by this meanes the summe of sixe thousand pounds being gathered the three shippes were bought the most part whereof they prouided to be newly built and trimmed The Jewish Encyclopedia: Apocrypha-Benash Isidore Singer, 1902

Early Modern Natural Law Theories T. Hochstrasser, P. Schröder, 2013-06-29 The study of natural law theories in the early Enlightenment continues to be one of the most fruitful areas of research in early modern intellectual history In recent years there have been substantial reassessments of Grotius Pufendorf Thomasius 1 and the whole university based tradition associated with the Fr haujkl rung The appeal of the discourse of natural jurisprudence to groups and individuals operating outside conventional educational and political structures such as the Huguenot diaspora has also been highlighted Moreover the contextual understanding of the work of unambiguously major philosophers such as Hobbes and Kant and its reception has been greatly enhanced by studies that have sought to view them as 3 participants in rather than bystanders alongside the discourse of natural law Thus thinkers previously not considered central to this discourse have been incorporated into it afresh However there is no danger of natural jurisprudence going unchallenged as the meta discourse of political theory in this period for recently new studies of the role of libertine and jansenist thought in shaping the priorities of the early Republic of Letters have challenged its position among the intellectual 4 achievements of the social and political theory of the early Enlightenment This volume therefore offers a timely opportunity to reassess both the coherence of the concept of early

Enlightenment and the specific contribution of natural law theories to it      No Man's Land Sir William Martin Conway, 1906 Supplementary Papers Royal Geographical Society (Great Britain), 1892      A Bibliography of Morocco, from the Earliest Times to the End of 1891 Sir Robert Lambert Playfair, Robert Brown, 1893      Ecumenical and Confessional Writings Edmund Schlink, 2016-12-05 Although many of Edmund Schlink's writings have been available in English for several decades the publication of the new German edition offered a significant impetus for providing a fresh and more accurate translation of them Matthew L Becker translated key terms that occur in all five volumes consistently Also he corrected infelicitous and misleading renderings of Schlink's language into English which more or less happened in all of the earlier editions In this first volume Becker presents a completely reworked translation of Schlink's popular work Der kommende Christus und die kirchlichen Traditionen      English Dictionaries, 800-1700 Werner Hüllen, 2006-02-16 Between the beginnings of European lexicography and 1700 many glossaries and dictionaries were arranged not according to the alphabet but in a topical order which followed the influential paradigms of theology philosophy and natural history at that time Together with related text genres like treatises on terminology didactic dialogues and thesauri they constitute the topical or onomasiological tradition which is an important lexicographical tradition in its own right This book discusses the tradition's principles and origins and by way of illustration draws upon early glossaries treatises for the learning of foreign languages and didactic dialogues Later comprehensive works are presented as detailed in depth studies Professor H llen demonstrates that the English tradition is embedded in a complex Continental tradition whose important representatives such as Adrianus Junius and Comenius had a great influence on the English scene      Bibliography Jacques Waardenburg, 1973 Since its founding by Jacques Waardenburg in 1971 Religion and Reason has been a leading forum for contributions on theories theoretical issues and agendas related to the phenomenon and the study of religion Topics include among others category formation comparison ethnophilosophy hermeneutics methodology myth phenomenology philosophy of science scientific atheism structuralism and theories of religion From time to time the series publishes volumes that map the state of the art and the history of the discipline      Bibliography Jacques Waardenburg, 2015-08-31 No detailed Pettegree, 2020-01-20 The history of newspaper advertising began in the seventeenth century Low Countries The newspaper publishers of the Dutch Republic were the first to embrace advertisements decades before their peers in other news markets in Europe In this survey Arthur der Weduwen and Andrew Pettegree have brought together the first 6 000 advertisements placed in Dutch and Flemish newspapers between 1620 and 1675 Provided here in an English translation and accompanied by seven indices this work provides for the first time a complete overview of the development of newspaper advertising and its impact on the Dutch book trade economy and society In these evocative announcements ranging from advertisement for library auctions the publication of new books pamphlets and maps to notices of crime postal schedules or missing pets the seventeenth century is brought to life This survey offers a unique perspective on daily life personal relationships and societal change in the Dutch Golden Age     Asia in the Making of Europe Donald F.
