Frank Byron JEVONS,1908 An Introduction to the Study Comparative Religion Frank Byron Jevons,1920 An Introduction to the Study of Comparative Religion F. B. Jevons,2019-12-06 In An Introduction to the Study of Comparative Religion F B Jevons presents a compelling exploration of the myriad ways in which world religions intersect diverge and evolve Written during a period characterized by burgeoning anthropological and sociological thought Jevons employs a clear and methodical approach intertwining empirical observation with philosophical inquiry This work serves as a foundation for understanding religious phenomena addressing key themes such as myth ritual and morality while highlighting the methodological frameworks essential for comparative analysis in religious studies F B Jevons a prominent figure in the early 20th century was deeply influenced by the intellectual currents of his time including the rise of modern psychology and the scientific study of culture His background in philosophy and anthropology equipped him with the tools necessary for such a comprehensive examination of religion Jevons commitment to academic rigor is evident in his meticulous research and his ability to synthesize complex ideas into accessible language appealing to both scholars and lay readers This book is highly recommended for anyone interested in the comparative study of religions as it provides invaluable insights into the structures and meanings that underpin diverse belief systems Jevons analytical lens not only enlightens but also cultivates a deeper appreciation for the intricacies of human spirituality making it an essential read for students scholars and enthusiasts alike

An Introduction to the Study of Comparative Religion (Start Classics) Frank Byron Jevons, 2013-10-25 The Hartford Lamson Lectures on The Religions of the World are delivered at Hartford Theological Seminary in connection with the Lamson Fund which was established by a group of friends in honor of the late Charles M Lamson D D sometime President of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions to assist in preparing students for the foreign missionary field The Lectures are designed primarily to give to such students a good knowledge of the religious history beliefs and customs of the peoples among whom they expect to labor As they are delivered by scholars of the first rank who are authorities in their respective fields it is expected that in published form they will prove to be of value to students generally
