English literary afterlives Elisabeth Chaghafi, 2019-11-19 English Literary Afterlives traces life narratives of early modern authors created for them after their deaths by readers or publishers who retrospectively tried to make sense of the author's life and works. In a series of case studies of the reception history of major poets Sidney Spenser Donne Herbert as well as Robert Greene the first celebrity author within a generation of their deaths it shows how those authors were posthumously fashioned and refashioned. It argues that during the early modern period there is a gradual movement towards biographical readings that attempt to find the author in the works which in turn led to the emergence of written lives that consider poets not in terms of their public lives but in terms of their poetic activity i.e. the beginnings of literary biography. Will be of interest to students and scholars of several canonical early modern authors.

Dr. Mark S. Latkovic Associate Professor of Moral Theology Sacred Heart Major Seminary. If his/her understanding was the same as is in the Arabic Text of the Holy Qur'an then we concluded that we have been successful in conveying the Divine Message properly. If his/her understanding was different than what the Qur'anic verses were stating we kept on rewording the translation until those verses were understood properly. It was tremendous patience on part of the participants. May Allah
