Irisali Khidirov, 2012-03-14. Now neutron diffraction is widely applied for the research of crystal magnetic structure and internal stress of crystalline materials of various classes including nanocrystals. In the present book, we make a practically short excursion to the modern state of neutron diffraction researches of crystal materials of various classes. The book contains a helpful information on a modern state of neutron diffraction researches of crystals for the broad specialists interested in studying crystals and purposeful regulation of their service characteristics since the crystal structure basically defines their physical and mechanical properties. Some chapters of the book have a methodical character that can be useful to scientists interested in possibilities of neutron diffraction. We hope that results of last years presented in the book can be a push to new ideas in studying of crystalline magnetic structure and a macrostructure of usual crystal materials and nanocrystals. In turn, it can promote working out of new materials with new improved service characteristics and to origin of innovative ideas.

Brief Person-Centred Therapies Keith Tudor, 2008-06-24. This is a book that the person-centred psychotherapy community has been waiting for. This book opens a creative space in which the ongoing conversation about therapeutic efficacy in times of shrinking resources can be successfully engaged. Professor Maureen O'Hara, Chair, Department of Psychology, National University, La Jolla, California. A wide-ranging and scholarly book which shows that person-centred therapy is fully alive to the challenges of the twenty-first century and is breaking new ground both clinically and theoretically. Professor Brian Thorne, Emeritus Professor of Counselling, University of East Anglia. Likely to be of interest to anyone involved in counselling. Times Higher Education Magazine, May 2009. Can the person-centred approach work in time-limited psychotherapy and counselling? This is a question that many practitioners grapple with as demand for brief therapy increases particularly in the public sector. Brief Person-Centred Therapies is the first book to tackle the subject, bringing together the experience and insights of a leading international team of person-centred therapists. The book examines the philosophical and theoretical fit between the person-centred approach and brief therapy. It also explores the issues which arise when working briefly in a range of different settings including primary care, higher education, business, and prison, with couples and groups. Brief Person-Centred Therapies is essential reading for all person-centred trainees and for practitioners who want to work in services where brief or time-limited work is required or favoured. Keith Tudor is a UKCP registered psychotherapist and has a
