Academic Writing and Reader Engagement Niall Curry, 2021-06-28 Academic Writing and Reader Engagement offers a concise linguistic description of the use and functions of questions in English French and Spanish and discusses their value to the teaching of academic writing This book Enables a better understanding of how writers engage readers in academic writing in English French and Spanish and where each language behaves similarly or differently

Explains how authors express opinions organise discourse and create relationships with readers via questions in their academic writing and the various functions questions perform Brings together research on corpus and contrastive linguistics highlighting how these two fields can support one another Offers a thorough investigation of reader engagement markers from a range of linguistic perspectives and considers how knowledge of these markers could be applied to the teaching and learning of academic writing in each language Employs corpus data totalling approximately 1 2 million words from all three languages to illustrate the varying roles and representations of questions in each language Providing an invaluable resource for scholars learning to communicate successfully within their academic community as well as teachers of English French and or Spanish for academic purposes this book is key reading for students and researchers of academic discourse contrastive linguistics and corpus linguistics

The Doctrines of US Security Policy Heiko Meiertöns, 2010-06-10 The practise of outlining principles for the conduct of US security policy in so called doctrines is a characteristic feature of US foreign policy From an international lawyer s point of view two aspects of these doctrines are of particular interest First to what degree are the criteria for the use of force as laid down in these doctrines consistent with the limitations for the use of force in international law Second which law creating effects do these doctrines have Furthermore the legal nature of these doctrines remains uncertain These matters are examined beginning with the Monroe Doctrine of 1823 and taking into account the Stimson Doctrine of 1932 the doctrines of the Cold War period and the Bush Doctrine of 2002 The Bush Doctrine in particular has generated controversies concerning its compatibility with Article 51 of the UN Charter due to its principle of preventive self defence

A Corpus-based Contrastive Study of the Appraisal Systems in English and Chinese Scientific Research Articles Xu Yuchen, Yan Xuan, Su Rui, Kou Ying, 2021-12-28 Appraisal is the way language users express their attitude towards things people behaviour or ideas In the last few decades significant achievements have been made in Appraisal Theory research yet little attention has been paid to appraisal in scientific texts especially in relation to the contrast to how it is applied in English and Chinese This title examines the similarities and differences of Appraisal systems in English and Chinese scientific research articles Using a self constructed corpus of scientific research articles the authors make cross linguistic comparisons in terms of the quantity and distribution patterns of categories of appraisals They creatively categorise articles into theoretical scientific research articles and applied studies and discover that for both languages each genre can have its own favorite mode of distribution for the realization of appraisal systems In addition this research helps appraisal theory systems to become more explicit specific and more applicable for the analysis of scientific research articles Students and scholars of applied linguistics comparative linguistics and corpus linguistics will find this an essential reference

Eastern Christians' Engagement with Islam and the Qur'ān Octavian-Adrian Negoită, 2025-04-21 This volume explores how Eastern Christians of various religious traditions engaged with Islam and its Holy Book By employing a long dur e perspective the volume will explore both continuities and disruptions as well as diverse ideological positions among the Eastern Christians in their approach towards Islamic tenets religious practices and interpretations of the Qur'an. The essays included in the volume investigate texts written in Arabic, Armenian, Bulgarian, Ethiopian, Greek, Slavonic and Russian. The essays discuss the knowledge regimes of text production and shed light on the Eastern Christians' conceptualization of Islam until the dawn of modernity. This volume is a contribution to the entangled and cross-cultural history of Eastern Christians with Islam through the centuries from the Mediterranean to Russia via the Balkans and the Caucasus. Eastern Christians' intellectual responses to the religious challenges posed by Islam were shaped by diverse multicultural and multi-confessional contexts which ultimately played a significant role in defining their religious identity and the dynamics of communal life.

Rules of Engagement and the International Law of Military Operations J. F. R. Boddens Hosang, 2020-01-31 The book systematically analyses the relationship and interaction between rules of engagement (ROE) and the legal framework regulating armed conflicts both at the international and national levels. At the international level, the relationship between ROE and human rights law and international humanitarian law is explored. At the national level, the book relates ROE to comparative criminal law. A separate chapter analyses the complex relationship between self-defence law and rules of engagement. It is the first monograph to comprehensively examine these issues and to analyse how ROE interact with the various sources of the international law of military operations both in terms of the law as a source for these rules and how the law is reflected and implemented through them. In doing so and based on the author's own experience, the book provides examples of how complicated, often controversial issues of law can be resolved while keeping the rules understandable at all levels of military operations. Aimed at both scholars and practitioners, the book provides a bridge between the academic world and the operational world. It provides new insights for both of those audiences in terms of understanding how the law applies to and through the rules on the use of force for military operations.

Writing the Ottomans Anders Ingram, 2015-07-24 Histories of the Turks were a central means through which English authors engaged in intellectual and cultural terms with the Ottoman Empire, its advance into Europe following the capture of Constantinople in 1454 and its continuing central European power up to the treaty of Karlowitz in 1699. Writing the Ottomans examines historical writing on the Turks in England from 1480 to 1700. It explores the evolution of this discourse from its continental roots and its development in response to moments of military crisis such as the Long War of 1593–1606 and the War of the Holy League, 1683–1699, as well as Anglo-Ottoman trade and diplomacy throughout the seventeenth century. From the writing of central authors such as Richard Knolles and Paul Rycaut to lesser-known names, it reads English histories of the Turks in their intellectual, religious, political, economic and print contexts and analyses their influence on English perceptions of the Ottoman world.
