House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on Africa, Global Human Rights, and International The Hunting and Killing of Rwandan Refugees in Zaire-Congo 1996-1997 Laurence Operations, 2006 Binet, 2014-04-01 The Hunting and killings of the Rwandan refugee in Zaire Congo case study is describing the constraints and dilemmas faced by M decins Sans Fronti res teams in 1996 and 1995 when trying to bring assistance to the Rwandan refugees in Eastern Zaire after their camps had been attacked by the rebel forces supported by the Rwandan army could MSF extrapolate from the little known conditions of these refugees and their health needs to speak out about their presumed current plight despite the fact that it had no access to them Conversely given lack of access should MSF refrain from making predictions Is it wise for a humanitarian organisation to predict the worst Given that MSF was being used to lure refugees from hiding should the organisation cease activities in the area or pursue them condemning manipulation in the hope of preventing massacres but at the risk of endangering its teams and other operations in the region Should MSF call for the refugees to remain in eastern Zaire with its deadly dangers or participate in their forced repatriation to Rwanda where their security was not guaranteed either The Rights of Refugees under International Law James C. Hathaway, 2005-09-15 This book presents the first comprehensive analysis of the human rights of refugees as set by the UN Refugee Convention In an era where States are increasingly challenging the logic of simply assimilating refugees to their own citizens questions are now being raised about whether refugees should be allowed to enjoy freedom of movement to work to access public welfare programs or to be reunited with family members Doubts have been expressed about the propriety of exempting refugees from visa and other immigration rules and whether there is a duty to admit refugees at all Hathaway links the standards of the UN Refugee Convention to key norms of international human rights law and applies his analysis to the world s most difficult protection challenges This is a critical resource for advocates judges and policymakers It will also be a pioneering scholarly work for graduate students of international and human rights law The Borders of "Europe" Nicholas De Genova, 2017-08-26 In recent years the borders of Europe have been perceived as being besieged by a staggering refugee and migration crisis The contributors to The Borders of Europe see this crisis less as an incursion into Europe by external conflicts than as the result of migrants exercising their freedom of movement Addressing the new technologies and technical forms European states use to curb control and constrain what contributors to the volume call the autonomy of migration this book shows how the continent's amorphous borders present a premier site for the enactment and disputation of the very idea of Europe They also outline how from Istanbul to London Sweden to Mali and Tunisia to Latvia migrants are finding ways to subvert visa policies and asylum procedures while negotiating increasingly militarized and surveilled borders Situating the migration crisis within a global frame and attending to migrant and refugee supporters as well as those who stoke nativist fears this timely volume demonstrates how the enforcement of Europe's borders is an important element of the worldwide regulation of human mobility Contributors Ruben Andersson Nicholas De Genova Dace Dzenovska Evelina Gambino Glenda Garelli Charles Heller Clara Lecadet Souad Osseiran Lorenzo Pezzani Fiorenza Picozza Stephan Scheel Maurice Stierl Laia Cuba's Cosmopolitan Enclaves Frances Peace Sullivan, 2025-05-27 This book explores how Soto Bermant Martina Tazzioli northeastern Cuba became a hub of international solidarity and transnational movements in the 1920s and 1930s showing how the Oriente Province emerged as a focal point for global visions of resistance Reviewing America's Commitment to the Refugee Convention United States.
