Barrie, Susan Broomhall, 2016-04-22 Volume 2 of this two volume companion study into the administration experience impact and representation of summary justice in Scotland explores the role of police courts in moulding cultural ideas social behaviours and urban environments in the nineteenth century Whereas Volume 1 subtitled Magistrates Media and the Masses analysed the establishment development and practice of police courts Volume 2 subtitled Boundaries Behaviours and Bodies examines through themed case studies how these civic and judicial institutions shaped conceptual spatial temporal and commercial wide ripples of destruction caused when the justice system fails the burden felt by ethical individuals working within that system and the importance of its victims finally being heard

A Viable Suspect Barry Ruhl, 2014-10-29

For more than 30 years retired Ontario Provincial Police Sergeant Barry Ruhl has believed that a criminal with whom he had a violent encounter early in his career might be responsible for a string of unsolved murders of young women in Ontario including the 1959 death of 12 year old Lynne Harper The only suspect ever investigated in that sensational case was 14 year old Steven Truscott who was convicted and sentenced to hang before being cleared almost 50 years later But in the 1980s Ruhl had approached his superiors with a theory about an alternative suspect in the Harper murder and other similar cases A Viable Suspect tells the story of how Ruhl arrived at his conclusions his frustrated attempts to prompt the OPP to thoroughly investigate Talbot and the tragic irony of how just when it seemed police were finally taking Ruhl's theory seriously the suspect slipped out of reach permanently

Policing Child Sexual Abuse Paul Bleakley, 2021-09-15 Policing Child Sexual Abuse provides a historical overview of the evolution of policing child sexual abuse in Queensland tracing a legacy of failure even corruption in the decades leading up to the foundation of Task Force Argos a branch of the Queensland Police Service created in part as a response to criticisms of police shortcomings in this area The book uses archival material as a foundation to trace the shifting approach to policing child sexual abuse CSA from the 1960s when juvenile justice first became a central focus of policing in Queensland to the 2010s at which point Task Force Argos made international headlines for its primary role in bringing major international CSA offenders like Shannon McCool Benjamin Warhead Faulkner and Richard Huckle to justice Examining archival material to pinpoint the reasons that CSA was not dealt with effectively in the past the book shows that often these reasons were political unrelated to the policing of CSA at all Policing Child Sexual Abuse stands as a testament to the victims of CSA who have been failed by the system in the past In addition the book acts as a case study of how a police force with such a negative track record in policing this area was able to correct its path and reform its practices to the point that it could emerge as a world leader in policing CSA Though nominally focused on policing in one Australian state the implications are global with Task Force Argos's work naturally impacting on the CSA investigations of all of its partner agencies both in Australia and internationally Demonstrating how even in contexts where police responses to CSA have been met with significant criticism an opportunity still exists to reject historical failures in favour of a renewed commitment to proactive policing this book will be of great interest to scholars of policing historical criminology and child sexual abuse
