States Chiraag Roy,2022-06-06 This book explores middle power engagement in peace processes through the cases of Australian Japanese and Norwegian engagement in Myanmar s peace process a core event in Myanmar s contemporary recent political history The book asks to what extent and how middle powers have engaged in Myanmar s peace process as a form of peacemaking entrepreneurship Underpinning this study is a concern for the lack of clarity surrounding the middle power concept Traditional conceptions of middle powers steeped in idealist thinking locate such states as capable peacemakers without elucidating the motivations that drive middle powers to peacemaking beyond mere status seeking Drawing on recent fieldwork interviews from within Myanmar as well as political economy literature the author scrutinises this notion while concomitantly offering an incisive analysis of Myanmar s peace process Based on the Myanmar context the book argues that middle powers can better be conceptualised as peace making entrepreneurs as actors that use peacemaking as an instrumental tool to cement their status and craft an image which they can then trade upon to secure additional namely commercial benefits Significantly this notion of peacemaking entrepreneurship problematises core theoretical assumptions of middle powers as capable peacemakers presenting implications for future scholarship on middle powers A timely addition as Myanmar continues to grapple with its own future the book is located within the fields of Nelson,2012-01-31 How can countries in the underdeveloped world position themselves to take best advantage of the positive economic benefits of globalization One avenue to success is the harnessing of foreign direct investment FDI in the nontraditional forms of the high technology and service sectors where an educated workforce is essential and the spillover effects to other sectors are potentially very beneficial In this book Roy Nelson compares efforts in three Latin American countries Brazil Chile and Costa Rica to attract nontraditional FDI and analyzes the reasons for their relative success or failure As a further comparison he uses the successes of FDI promotion in Ireland and Singapore to help refine the analysis His study shows that two factors in particular are critical First is the government s autonomy from special interest groups both domestic and foreign arising from the level of political security enjoyed by government leaders The second factor is the government s ability to learn about prospective investors and the inducements that are most important to them what he calls transnational learning capacity Nelson draws lessons from his analysis for how governments might develop more effective strategies for attracting nontraditional FDI      Personnel Information Bulletin United States.
