

Designation: D4726 – 09

An American National Standard

Standard Specification for Rigid Poly(Vinyl Chloride) (PVC) Exterior-Profile Extrusions Used for Assembled Windows and Doors¹

This standard is issued under the fixed designation D4726; the number immediately following the designation indicates the year of original adoption or, in the case of revision, the year of last revision. A number in parentheses indicates the year of last reappraisal. A superscript epsilon (ϵ) indicates an editorial change since the last revision or reappraisal.

1. Scope²

1.1 This specification establishes requirements for the material properties, including dimensional stability, weatherability, and extrusion quality, of rigid poly(vinyl chloride) (PVC) exterior profile extrusions used for assembled windows and doors. Methods for testing and for identifying exterior profile extrusions that comply with this specification are also provided.

1.2 Rigid PVC recycled plastic may be used in this product in accordance with requirements in Section 5.

Note 1—Information with regard to application, assembly, and installation should be obtained from the manufacturers of the profiles and of the windows and doors.

Note 2—Refer to Specification D3678 for interior profile extrusions.

1.3 Color-hold guidelines are provided in an appendix for the manufacturer's product development and quality performance use.

1.4 Color-hold guidelines are presently limited to white, grey, beige, light brown, and dark brown (see Figs. X1.1 through X1.5). Additional colors will be added as color guidelines are developed.

1.5 The values stated in inch-pound units are to be regarded as standard. The values given in parentheses are mathematical conversions to SI units that are provided for information only and are not considered standard.

Note 3—There are no ISO standards covering the primary subject matter of this specification.

1.6 The text of this standard references notes and footnotes which provide explanatory material. These notes and footnotes (excluding those in tables and figures) shall not be considered as requirements of this standard.

1.7 The following safety hazards caveat pertains only to the test methods portion, Section 10, of this specification: This standard does not purport to address all of the safety concerns, if any, associated with its use. It is the responsibility of the user of this standard to establish appropriate safety and health practices and determine the applicability of regulatory limitations prior to use.

by the discovery and use of plastics Today plastic materials are used in a wide variety of applications from building and construction to packaging from sports equipment to transportation The vast number of plastics materials discovered over the past 40 years and their wide range of properties make them uniquely suited to a very broad spectrum of applications This combination of the successful utilisation of the materials and the number of types of material available has led to the growth of an array of technical terms within the field The Dictionary is intended as a reference tool for readers to negotiate these terms The main part of the Technical Dictionary of Plastics Materials presents a comprehensive set of extended definitions of technical terms relating to all facts of the materials aspect of plastics technology The definitions cover the nature of plastics materials their composition including relevant non polymeric components and additives such as stabilisers fillers colourants etc their properties including methods of property determination testing and evaluation their applications and their handling and behaviour in processing In many cases reference is given to the relevant technical standards from the International ISO British BSI and American ASTM standards In addition to the main part of the Dictionary containing the definitions there are two further sections The first gives explanations of the abbreviated terms letter symbols used for the parent polymer and for the other constituents of plastics materials while the second identifies the trade names of a number of plastics materials and their components
