Classic Home Video Games, 1985-1988 Brett Weiss, 2012-11-12 A follow up to 2007's Classic Home Video Games 1972-1984 this reference work provides detailed descriptions and reviews of every U.S. released game for the Nintendo NES, the Atari 7800 and the Sega Master System all of which are considered among the most popular video game systems ever produced. Organized alphabetically by console brand each chapter includes a description of the game system followed by substantive entries for every game released for that console. Video game entries include publisher, developer, data release year, gameplay information and typically the author's critique. A glossary provides a helpful guide to the classic video game genres and terms referenced throughout the work and a preface provides a comparison between the modern gaming industry and the industry of the late 1980s.

Science and Golf II Alastair J. Cochran, Martin Farrally, 2002-09-11 This book contains the papers presented at the second World Scientific Congress of Golf. The overall theme of the congress is the application of science, scientific method and scientific research in golf. The congress is intended to provide a forum for scientists of different disciplines to meet and discuss their ideas and research and for practising coaches to interact with scientists.

The New Domestic Automakers in the United States and Canada A.J. Jacobs, 2015-12-16 Over the past forty years state, provincial and local governments in the United States and Canada have provided foreign automakers with approximately 4.80 billion in incentives in order to lure light vehicles assembly plants to their areas. This has included tax abatements, infrastructure construction, land giveaways, job training programs and other subsidies. As of early 2015, ten foreign vehicle makers operated 20 light vehicles in developed North America. Despite the fact that all ten of these automakers have pursued a similar pattern: first exporting vehicles into the United States and Canada before launching vehicle plants in developed North America, each has followed its own specific historical development path and has created its own unique growth trajectory. This book provides a unique historical and qualitative review of these ten vehicle makers from their early beginnings to their export entry into the United States and/or Canada through early 2015. In addition, it chronicles the histories of more than a dozen former automakers and potential future foreign light motor vehicle assembly plants in the United States and Canada. This includes the first foreign automaker to build its cars in the United States: De Dion Bouton of France in July 1900; the early 20th Century endeavors of Fiat, Mercedes and Rolls Royce; and the present day hopes of Chinese and Indian automakers. In the process, the text also provides an assessment of the top competing states and sites for any future plants, the possible incentives packages governments may offer to attract such facilities and an estimated incentive value for each automaker. Overall, the goal of this book is to expand the knowledge of policymakers at all tiers of government in the United States and Canada and to help them take a more holistic look at the pros and cons of attracting Automobile Manufacturing FDI. It is hoped that this will enable them to make more informed decisions when pursuing a new foreign motor vehicle assembly plant. Its findings should also prove informative to urban and regional planning, political science, sociology, economics, labor and
