and a hundred million years of history by the bestselling author of Here on Earth Marvelous Publishers Weekly starred review In Europe A Natural History world renowned scientist explorer and conservationist Tim Flannery applies the eloquent interdisciplinary approach he used in his ecological histories of Australia and North America to the story of Europe He begins 100 million years ago when the continents of Asia North America and Africa interacted to create an island archipelago that would later become the Europe we know today It was on these ancient tropical lands that the first distinctly European organisms evolved Flannery teaches us about Europe's midwife toad which has endured since the continent's beginning while elephants crocodiles and giant sharks have come and gone He explores the monumental changes wrought by the devastating comet strike and shows how rapid atmospheric shifts transformed the European archipelago into a single landmass during the Eocene As the story moves through millions of years of evolutionary history Flannery eventually turns to our own species describing the immense impact humans had on the continent's flora and fauna within 30 000 years of our arrival in Europe the woolly rhino the cave bear and the giant elk among others would disappear completely The story continues right up to the present as Flannery describes Europe's leading role in wildlife restoration and then looks ahead to ponder the continent's future with advancements in gene editing technology European scientists are working to recreate some of the continent's lost creatures such as the great ox of Europe's primeval forests and even the woolly mammoth
