

GENERAL

NOTE

Photographs of XL models will be used throughout this process. Although the exact location of the O₂ sensors vary slightly between XL models and XR models, replacement procedures are essentially the same. For ease of installation, note harness routing prior to removal.

See Figure 4-66. The oxygen (O₂) sensors are installed in threaded bosses on the inboard side of front and rear exhaust pipes.

NOTE

Both Oxygen sensors are identical. However, if they will be reused, it is best to mark them FRONT or REAR and return each to the exhaust pipe in which it was originally mounted.

Refer to the electrical diagnostic manual for information on the function and testing of the O₂ sensors.
