Motorcycle Accident Reconstruction Christopher D Armstrong, 2018-11-02 The last ten years have seen explosive growth in the technology available to the collision analyst changing the way reconstruction is practiced in fundamental ways The greatest technological advances for the crash reconstruction community have come in the realms of photogrammetry and digital media analysis The widespread use of scanning technology has facilitated the implementation of powerful new tools to digitize forensic data create 3D models and visualize and analyze crash vehicles and environments The introduction of unmanned aerial systems and standardization of crash data recorders to the crash reconstruction community have enhanced the ability of a crash analyst to visualize and model the components of a crash reconstruction Because of the technological changes occurring in the industry many SAE papers have been written to address the validation and use of new tools for collision reconstruction Collision Reconstruction Methodologies Volumes 1 12 bring together seminal SAE technical papers surrounding advancements in the crash reconstruction field Topics featured in the series include Night Vision Study and Photogrammetry Vehicle Event Data Recorders Motorcycle Heavy Vehicle Bicycle and Pedestrian Accident Reconstruction The goal is to provide the latest technologies and methodologies being introduced into collision reconstruction appealing to crash analysts consultants and safety engineers alike

The Invention of Martial Arts Paul Bowman, 2020-12-17 Through popular movies starring Bruce Lee and songs like the disco hit Kung Fu Fighting martial arts have found a central place in the Western cultural imagination But what would martial arts be without the explosion of media texts and images that brought it to a wide audience in the late 1960s and early 1970s In this examination of the media history of what we now call martial arts author Paul Bowman makes the bold case that the phenomenon of martial arts is chiefly an invention of media representations Rather than passively taking up a preexisting history of martial arts practices some of which of course predated the martial arts boom in popular culture media images and narratives actively constructed martial arts Grounded in a historical survey of the British media history of martial arts such as Bartitsu jujutsu judo karate tai chi and MMA across a range of media this book thoroughly recasts our understanding of the history of martial arts By interweaving theories of key thinkers on historiography such as Foucault and Hobsbawm and Said's ideas on Orientalism with analyses of both mainstream and marginal media texts Bowman arrives at the surprising insight that media representations created martial arts rather than the other way around In this way he not only deepens our understanding of martial arts but also demonstrates the productive power of media discourses

Manga's Cultural Crossroads Jaqueline Berndt, Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2014-03-14 Focusing on the art and literary form of manga this volume examines the intercultural exchanges that have shaped manga during the twentieth century and how manga's culturalization is related to its globalization Through contributions from leading scholars in the fields of comics and Japanese culture it describes manga culture in two ways as a fundamentally hybrid culture comprised of both subcultures and transcultures and as an aesthetic culture which has eluded modernist notions of art originality and authorship The latter is demonstrated in a special focus on the best selling manga franchise NARUTO
