

Questions 12–15 refer to the following two passages.

Source 1

"I have long dreamed of buying an island owned by no nation whatsoever and of establishing the World Headquarters of the Dow company there, on the truly neutral ground of such an island, beholden to no nation or society. If we were located on such truly neutral ground, we could then operate in the United States as U.S. citizens, in Japan as Japanese citizens, and in Brazil as Brazilians rather than being governed primarily by the laws of the United States. We could even pay any native workers handsomely to move elsewhere."

Carl A. Gerstacker, chairman of the Dow Chemical Company, a United States corporation, speech before the White House "Conference on the Industrial World Ahead," 1972

"I was asked the other day about United States competitiveness in the world economy. I replied that I don't think about it at all. We at NCR think of ourselves as a globally competitive company that happens to be headquartered in the United States."

Gilbert Williamson, president of NCR Corporation, a United States technology company, interview with the New York Times, 1989

13. The views expressed in the two passages were most directly enabled by which of the following economic trends in the late twentieth century?
- (A) Many of the defeated countries in the Second World War received generous economic assistance from the United States after the war.
 - (B) Governments in newly independent postcolonial states sought to limit their countries' economic reliance on the former colonial powers.
 - (C) The governments of many developed Western countries adopted policies of economic liberalization and deregulation.
 - (D) Governments in Asia cooperated with private businesses in an effort to maximize exports and acquire foreign currencies from Europe and the United States.
