Aha The Moments Of Insight That Shape Our World:

Aha! William B. Irvine, 2014-12-01 Great ideas often develop gradually after studying a problem at length but not always Sometimes an insight hits like a bolt from the blue For Archimedes clarity struck while he was taking a bath For Gustav Mahler it came as the blades of his oars touched the water And for Albert Einstein it emerged while he was talking to a friend Why do these moments of insight strike so suddenly Why do they so often come to us when we are focused on something completely unrelated And when great ideas come to us where do they come from In Aha The Moments of Insight that Shape Our World philosopher William B Irvine author of A Guide to the Good Life and On Desire explores these epiphanies from the minor insights that strike us all daily to the major realizations that alter the course of history Focusing on aha moments as they take place in five different domains religion morality science math and art Irvine provides case studies that shed light on the different ways epiphanies happen in the different domains and on their differing social impact Along the way he describes some of the great aha moments in history from ancient times to the present day We like to think that our greatest thoughts are the product of our conscious mind Irvine demonstrates though that it is our unconscious mind that is the source of our most significant insights and that the role the conscious mind plays in eliciting these insights is to try unsuccessfully to solve certain problems Only if the conscious mind is willing to do this and thereby experience considerable frustration is the unconscious mind likely to reward it with a breakthrough insight that the conscious mind will then take credit for Irvine explores not only the neuroscience of aha moments but also their personal and social ramifications How does a person respond to having a breakthrough insight that goes against a dominant paradigm And how does the world respond when she shares that insight Irvine shows that in many cases what is most remarkable about those who have had the great insights of human history is not their but their courage and perseverance in fighting for the world to accept those insights Aha is a must read for cognitive scientists intellectual historians philosophers and anyone who has ever been blown away by the ideas that enlighten us when we least expect it Aha! William Braxton Irvine, 2015 Great ideas often develop gradually after studying a problem at length but not always Sometimes an insight hits like a bolt from the blue For Archimedes clarity struck while he was taking a bath For Gustav Mahler it came as the blades of his oars touched the water And for Albert Einstein it emerged while he was talking to a friend Why do these moments of insight strike so suddenly Why do they so often come to us when we are focused on something completely unrelated And when great ideas come to us where do they come from In Aha The Moments of Insight that Shape Our World philosopher William B Irvine author of A Guide to the Good Life and On Desire explores these epiphanies from the minor insights that strike us all daily to the major realizations that alter the course of history Focusing on aha moments as they take place in five different domains religion morality science math and art Irvine provides case studies that shed light on the different ways epiphanies happen in the different domains and on their differing social impact Along the way he describes some of the great aha moments in history from ancient times to the present day We like to think that our greatest thoughts are the product of our conscious mind Irvine demonstrates though that it is our unconscious mind that is the source of our most significant insights and that the role the conscious mind plays in eliciting these insights is to try unsuccessfully to solve certain problems Only if the conscious mind is willing to do this and thereby experience considerable frustration is the unconscious mind likely to reward it with a breakthrough insight that the conscious mind will then take credit for Irvine explores not only the neuroscience of aha moments but also their personal and social ramifications How does a person respond to having a breakthrough insight that goes against a dominant paradigm And how does the world respond when she shares that insight Irvine shows that in many cases what is most remarkable about those who have had the great insights of human history is not their but their courage and perseverance in fighting for the world to accept those insights Aha is a must read for cognitive scientists intellectual historians philosophers and anyone who has ever been blown away by the ideas that enlighten us when we least expect it The Sceptical Optimist Nicholas Agar,2015-07-09 The rapid developments in technologies especially computing and the advent of many smart devices as well as rapid and perpetual communication via the Internet has led to a frequently voiced view which Nicholas Agar describes as radical optimism Radical optimists claim that accelerating technical progress will soon end poverty disease and ignorance and improve our happiness and well being Agar disputes the claim that technological progress will automatically produce great improvements in subjective well being He argues that radical optimism assigns to technological progress an undeserved pre eminence among all the goals pursued by our civilization Instead Agar uses the most recent psychological studies about human perceptions of well being to create a realistic model of the impact technology will have Although he accepts that technological advance does produce benefits he insists that these are significantly less than those proposed by the radical optimists and aspects of such progress can also pose a threat to values such as social justice and our relationship with nature while problems such as poverty cannot be understood in technological terms He concludes by arguing that a more realistic assessment of the benefits that technological advance can bring will allow us to better manage its risks in future Flourishing in Faith Gillies Ambler,Matthew P. Spark Claudia Kalb, 2021-04-27 Yo Yo Ma's ear for music emerged not long after he learned to walk. By the age of seven he was performing for President Kennedy; by fifteen he debuted at Carnegie Hall. Maya Angelou, by contrast, didn't write her iconic memoir I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings until she was 40. What propels some individuals to reach extraordinary creative heights in the earliest years of life while others discover their passions decades later? Are prodigies imbued with innate talent? How often are midlife inspirations triggered by propitious events like Julia Child's first French meal at the age of 36? Do late bloomers reveal their talents because their skills require life experience and contemplation? Through engaging storytelling and intriguing historical and cutting-edge scientific research, best-selling author and acclaimed journalist Claudia Kalb explores these questions to uncover what makes a prodigy and what drives a late bloomer. In this series of linked biographies, Kalb follows the journeys of thirteen remarkable individuals from Shirley Temple to Alexander Fleming to Eleanor Roosevelt to Bill Gates to discover the secrets behind their talents. Each possessed a unique arc of inspiration. Each, through science, art, music, theater, and politics, reached extraordinary success at different stages of life. And each offers us a chance to explore the genesis and experience of genius.

The Stoic Challenge William B. Irvine, 2019-09-03 The ultimate mental fitness program. David Heinemeier Hansson, coauthor of Rework. The Stoic Challenge teaches us how to respond to the challenges of our increasingly unpredictable age. In this practical, refreshingly optimistic guide, philosopher William B. Irvine explains how centuries-old wisdom can help us better cope with everything from the everyday stresses of modern living to its significant crises. The Stoic Challenge uniquely combines insights from ancient Stoics like Marcus Aurelius, Seneca, and Epictetus with techniques discovered by contemporary psychological research such as anchoring and framing. The result is Irvine's surprisingly simple, updated Stoic test strategy which teaches us how to dramatically alter our emotional response to life's stumbling blocks. Not only can we overcome these obstacles; we can benefit from them too.

Finding your Social Science Project John Gerring, Jason Seawright, 2022-10-13 The most important step in social science research is the first step: finding a topic. Unfortunately, little guidance on this crucial and difficult challenge is available. Methodological studies and courses tend to focus on theory testing rather than theory generation. This book aims to redress that imbalance. The first part of the book offers an overview of the book's central concerns: How do social scientists arrive at ideas for their work? What are the different ways in which a study can contribute to knowledge in a field? The second part of the book offers suggestions about how to think creatively, including general strategies for finding a topic and heuristics for discovery. The third part of the book shows how data exploration may assist in generating theories and hypotheses. The fourth part of the book offers suggestions about how to fashion disparate ideas into a theory.

Self-Transcendence and Virtue Jennifer A. Frey, Candace Vogler, 2018-11-06 Recent research in the humanities and social sciences suggests that individuals who understand themselves as belonging to something greater than the self—a family, community or religious or spiritual group often feel happier have a deeper sense of purpose or meaning in their lives and have overall better life outcomes than those who do not Some positive and personality psychologists have labeled this location of the self within a broader perspective self transcendence This book presents and integrates new interdisciplinary research into virtue happiness and the meaning of life by re orienting these discussions around the concept of self transcendence The essays are organized around three broad themes connected to self transcendence First they investigate how self transcendence helps us to understand aspects of the moral life as it is studied within psychology including the development of wisdom the practice of moral praise and psychological well being Second they explore how self transcendence is linked to virtue in different religious and spiritual traditions including Judaism Islam Christianity Buddhism and Confucianism Finally they ask how self transcendence can help us theorize about Aristotelean and Thomist conceptions of virtue like hope and piety and how this helps us to re conceptualize happiness and meaning in life

You William B. Irvine, 2018-09-07 What are you Obviously you are a person with human ancestors that can be plotted on a family tree but you have other identities as well According to evolutionary biologists you are a member of the species Homo sapiens and as such have ancestral species that can be plotted on the tree of life According to microbiologists you are a collection of cells each of which has a cellular ancestry that goes back billions of years A geneticist though will think of you primarily as a gene replication machine and might produce a tree that reveals the history of any given gene And finally a physicist will give a rather different answer to the identity question you can best be understood as a collection of atoms each of which has a very long history Some have been around since the Big Bang and others are the result of nuclear fusion that took place within a star Not only that but most of your atoms belonged to other living things before joining you From your atoms point of view then you are just a way station on a multibillion year long journey You A Natural History offers a multidisciplinary investigation of your hyperextended family tree going all the way back to the Big Bang And while your family tree may contain surprises your hyperextended history contains some truly amazing stories As the result of learning more about who and what you are and about how you came to be here you will likely see the world around you with fresh eyes You will also become aware of all the one-off events that had to take place for your existence to be possible stars had to explode the earth had to be hit 4.5 billion years ago by a planetesimal and 65 million years ago by an asteroid microbes had to engulf microbes the African savanna had to undergo climate change and of course any number of your direct ancestors had to meet and mate It is difficult on becoming aware of just how contingent your own existence is not to feel very lucky to be part of our universe
