Wheeler, 1999 The future of computing ever increasingly lies in ever increasing mobility in which computers continue their network operations while physically changing their location and code moves from system to system performing its designated tasks throughout a network This book brings together in one single resource the leading edge of research and practice in three areas of mobility process migration mobile computing and mobile agents Presented chronologically the papers in this book each written by leading experts in that particular area track the development of critical technologies that have influenced mobility Introductions by the editors and original afterwords by many of the papers authors provide information on implementation and practical application technological context and updates on the most recent advances The book highlights many common challenges and solutions inherent in various aspects of mobility infrastructure scalability security standards robustness naming and locating mobile entities and more Individual papers describe specific research and development in each of the three major areas covering such topics as An analysis of process migration from the earliest work to contemporary commercial systems Barriers to effective mobile connectivity mobile IP and ubiquitous computing Descriptions of various mobile agent systems such as Telescript Aglets Agent TCL and the mobile agent system standard
