Ahamefula The Cultural Significance Of Names:

Ahameful Dike-Ogu Chukwumerije, 2009-03 The naming of a child is a significant event in many African cultures In such cultures names are not just words They have meaning They are either recording the historical circumstances of a child s birth embodying the heart felt prayers the parents bear towards the child or receptacles of poignant cultural philosophies A name often becomes a source of strength and inspiration later in life as the child unravels its meaning In AHAMEFULA Dike Ogu Chukwumerije writes poems celebrating the naming culture of his native tribe the Ibos of South eastern Nigeria The philosophies behind 50 typical Ibo names are expounded in 50 poems written in clear and simple verse From names venerating motherhood to those celebrating valor warning against irresponsibility extolling the virtues of friendship and even recording key historical events like colonialism this collection provides a refreshing introduction into the world view of an African people

Ala Di Mma in Umuohiagu Gerald Chukwudi Njoku, 2014 Among other relevant issues this book adds new insights to the proposed Igbo Christian rites of reconciliation Towards an inculturation the resolutional equations of the Igbo cultural method of reconciliation oriko in ala di mma are balanced with the sacrament of reconciliation in operational life of the people who are pastorally concerned In this context the author refers to the Owerri archdiocesan working document on emume nsacha na ndozi meaning a ritual of purification and peace as well as to the Igbo Christian rite of reconciliation proposed by Augustine Echema The method of these new rites is para liturgical in nature which highlights the importance of reconciliation of human beings with themselves their neighbours and God whenever sin has taken place Paradoxically this new method of reconciliation can broaden ecumenism and strengthens the social cultural political and religious lives of the people In this sense reconciliation can be seen as a natural spiritual cord that ties people to themselves and to God in a communal and Christian environment
