

PERSONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PLAN (PLDP)

Throughout the coaching sessions, we'll be discussing your PLDP. Use this template to complete your plan. You need to submit this on Moodle by April 19 23 59.

Using the S.M.A.R.T. goals design:

- write three goals in total (each goal is framed by the category of personal, professional, or academic)
- write a concrete, specific and actionable description for each goal
- break down each goal into specific tasks that must be accomplished
- include a completion date for each task

Name	Ro Cho Kiu		HKUID	3036068266
Coach	Abel
Goal What do you want to achieve? (Create three goals in total, with each goal framed by the category of personal, professional, or academic)	Task How are you going to achieve it? Break down each goal into specific tasks that must be accomplish it	Description What is the purpose of this task? What are you going to do to complete the task?	Completion When do you want to complete this task?
I be the team captain of huli dance team.	I improve personal dancing skills	It is fundamental to dance well before taking the lead as I am a representative of the team and should be the role model. Demonstrating strong dancing skills shows my dedication and commitment to the team which also inspires and motivates teammates to strive for the better. Besides having regular practices, I would go to studios outside to explore different dance styles that I am not yet familiar with to get a wholesome development. I would	I will start going to dancing classes after this semester ends and will keep training regularly by attending classes at least 3 days a week.

		record my own performance during lessons and ask for feedback and advice from tutors on how I can improve my techniques. At the end of the class, I would also record the tutor's demonstration of the choreography and compare it with my own performance and examine parts that I could have done better and further practice those foundations after lessons.
	II. Exhibit leadership qualities	Before I become the team captain, I should showcase my leadership skills to show my responsibility and capability in taking this role to current team captains as they have the authority to pick the next team captain. This is to make sure that the current team captain can have trust in handing me this responsibility. To do that, I should proactively engage in practices, such as offering assistance to teammates that are not getting along or catching up as well as the others by standing next to them during practices. Whenever I spot some teammates having trouble following the choreography and the team captain is not free to help, I could take the initiative to offer guidance to them. Having care and support for each teammate is also vital to show that I am a team player as teamwork is the most critical thing in a dance team. I could also offer assistance to the current team captain in managing costumes needed for shows to show my ability in managing duties not related to dancing.	I would start this once I started training next semester.
	III. Learn from current team captains	It is important to learn from the current team captains as they have the most practical experience in handling the team. During practice I would observe how they lead the team or the wordings they used to tell teammates when they are doing unwell. One of the most challenging parts of being the team captain is to make sure everyone is on the right track and pointing out flaws without giving teammates a hard time. It is vital to observe how they use	As I am living in the same hall with current team captains, I would start asking for opinions now.
