Supplementary Papers Royal Geographical Society (Great Britain),1885 Catalog of the Officers and Students of the University in Cambridge Harvard University,1876 The Value Chain of Foreign Aid Christian Schabbel,2007-04-21

This book assesses the prospects of official development assistance ODA for poverty reduction It analyzes the entire value chain of ODA including provision allocation and utilization Within each of these components coverage examines scope and limits of aid The horizontal interactions between donors and recipients as well as the vertical connections to local and region specific conditions represent the heart of this book s approach The Geography of the World Economy 5th Edition Paul Knox,John Agnew,Linda McCarthy,2014-04-04 The Geography of the World Economy provides an in depth and stimulating introduction to the globalization of the world economy The book offers a consideration of local regional national and global economic development over the long historical term The theory and practice of economic and political geography provide a basis for understanding the interactions within and among the developed and developing countries of the world Illustrated in colour throughout this new edition has been completely reworked and updated to take account of the substantial changes in the world economy and includes a new chapter on services It is ideal for upper level university undergraduates and for post graduates in a variety of specializations including geography economics political science international relations and global studies IMF Staff Papers, Volume 56, No. 2 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept.,2009-06-03 China s growth performance since the start of economic reforms in 1978 has been impressive but the gains have not been distributed equally across provinces We use a nonparametric approach to analyze the variation in labor productivity growth across China s provinces This approach imposes less structure on the data than the standard growth accounting framework and allows for a breakdown of labor productivity into efficiency gains technological progress and capital deepening We have the following results First we find that on average capital deepening accounts for about 75 percent of total labor productivity growth while efficiency and technological improvements account for about 7 and 18 percent respectively Second technical change is not neutral Third whereas improvement in efficiency contributes to convergence in labor productivity between provinces technical change contributes to productivity disparity across provinces Finally we find that foreign direct investment has a positive and significant effect on efficiency growth and technical progress

An Introduction to Place-Based Development Economics and Policy Gilberto Seravalli,2015-02-11 This book introduces the reader to local development economics and policy with a special focus on the place based paradigm that covers its justification its difficulties and the types of public intervention that it suggests The starting point for the analysis is that economic development in lagging places is not to be expected as the result of a mechanism of automatic convergence between backward and advanced regions and that therefore the most appropriate development policy is not to maximize competition among all agents in all sectors and places The failure of the Washington Consensus is examined and the two competing positions to have emerged from this failure spatially blind interventions and place based policies are contrasted The main shortcoming of spatially blind policies namely that immobile resources that could trigger or support a development process often remain untapped or trapped is emphasized The limitations of the big push state intervention and wage flexibility solutions to this trap are analyzed and the merits of place based policies that support intervention and can deal with uncertainty risk and conflict are discussed Monthly Labor Review ,2001 Publishes in depth articles on labor subjects current labor statistics information about current labor contracts and book reviews Economics of Development A.P. Thirlwall, Penélope Pacheco-López, 2017-09-16 This classic bestselling textbook provides a comprehensive introduction to the field of development economics The 10th edition of Tony Thirlwall's book now co written with Pen lope Pacheco L pez provides a clear comprehensive and rigorous introduction to the theory of development economics and the experience of developing countries Balancing a historic approach with current data and references it provides a wide ranging analysis of the subject This all inclusive methodology succeeds at representing different schools of thought with a balance of micro and macro topics An ideal textbook for undergraduate students of economics and other social sciences it is also suitable for upper undergraduate and master's level modules on development economics as an option on a non economics degree New to this Edition A brand new chapter on human capital education nutrition health and the role of women in development New material on the Sustainable Development Goals the measurement of poverty and the multidimensional poverty index Discussion of randomized control trials The role of structural change in economic development New IMF lending facilities Accompanying online resources for this title can be found at bloomsburyonlineresources.com/economics-of-development-10e These resources are designed to support teaching and learning when using this textbook and are available at no extra cost

Regional Economic Development and Policy David Pinder, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1983

when Europe's economies were facing the worst recession since the 1930s this book reviews the outcome of a quarter of a century of research and practical experience in the field of regional economic management In the spatial context of the European Community the author explores central issues by integrating the results of his own research with those of economists geographers economic historians and psychologists It provides a wide survey of the subject demonstrates the complexity of the spatial economic systems which the regional economic planner seeks to modify analyses the strategies for regional development employed by national and international agencies and offers a substantial annotated bibliography Contradictions arising from the contrasting spatial perspectives of national governments and the European Commission are emphasised Among other things it concludes that many regional problems strongly reflect perception and behavioural factors as well as purely economic constraints

The Legacy of Ireland's Economic Expansion Peadar Kirby, Padraig Carmody, 2013-10-18 Ireland underwent a dramatic economic and social transformation from the 1990s onwards earning it the title the Celtic Tiger Rapid economic growth was accompanied by substantial in migration However in the later 2000s Ireland is also experiencing a severe economic recession This book examines the nature and geographies of the Celtic Tiger focusing on the evolution of industries such as information and communication technology and pharmaceuticals. It also examines the changing nature of social ties in cities, trends amongst knowledge workers and the experiences of return migrants. It concludes with reflections on the nature of the Celtic Tiger phenomenon and how this will shape Ireland's geography and society into the future. This book was published as a special issue of Irish Geography Journal of Education and School World, 1887 The Journal of Education, 1887 International Handbook on Geographical Education. Rod Gerber, 2013-03-09. I am very pleased to have been asked by Rod Gerber to provide a preface to such a book. Not least because of the twenty-four chapters, eight are written by former students or colleagues with whom I have worked in the past and whom I still meet at conferences on geographical education. It is with a certain pride and joy that I note the progress which has been made in geographical education both in its day-to-day teaching and in research in the twenty years following the end of my term of office as Chair of the Commission on Geographical Education of the International Geographical Union CGEIUG. My successors Joe Stoltman, Hartwig Haubrich, Rod Gerber and now Lea Houtsonen have done much and are continuing to work hard to foster the development of geographical education. This book is proof, if proof were needed, that the international collaboration in this field is alive and well, with contributions coming from all the continents except Antarctica. It would be a moribund subject that remained unaffected in one way or another by developments on the great world stage as Fairgrieve (1926) would have put it. And as Rod Gerber shows, the issues of globalisation of cultural encounters, of differing value systems, of new technologies, of variable economic development and of environmental quality all feature as topics which influence and are influenced by geographical education.
