The trail is called a meteor shower. Some meteor showers happen every year, and some happen only once in a while.

The sun is the center of the solar system. When the sun heats the planets and moons, they glow. The planets can be seen from Earth and orbit the sun. They become meteors. The temperature of a meteor is about 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. When people see a shooting star in the sky, it is actually a ball of light called a burning meteor. These light trails can be seen everywhere, any

The color of the light trails behind the meteor depends on the minerals that it is made of. Different minerals have different colors. If there are a lot of minerals falling at once, it is called a meteor shower. Some scientists even study meteor showers to learn more about the solar system.
