

GENERAL INFORMATION

The 615 Industrial Tractor is designed for use with companion equipment. The tractor can be equipped with many options. The precision operation of the rear 3 Point Hitch has controlled depth by hydraulic position control. The tractor is designed to mount the Industrial 615 Loader and the Industrial 615 Back Hoe as a combination unit.

LUBRICATION

IT PAYS TO PAY A LITTLE MORE FOR QUALITY LUBRICANTS AND FUELS.

It has long been recognized that the life of a tractor is largely determined by the kind of lubrication and daily service it receives. Therefore always use oil and fuels of high quality, manufactured by a dependable oil company who has established a reputation for quality products, and whose success depends on maintaining such quality.

In addition to using high quality oils, it is also necessary to use oils of proper viscosity. Oil which is too heavy cannot reach all points to be lubricated, therefore, it will cause undue wear. Oil that is too light will not form a protective film between moving parts.

For best results do not deviate from the viscosities given in the Lubrication and Service Guide. Some parts need more frequent attention than others. Follow the time interval given in the Lubrication and Service Guide closely.

TRACTOR SERIAL NUMBER

NOTE: On all parts orders and in all correspondence relative to the tractor, it is necessary that both the tractor and engine Serial Numbers be given. This will properly identify the particular unit and will insure obtaining correct replacement parts for it.

ENGINE SERIAL NUMBER

The diesel engine Serial Number is located on a nameplate on the left side of the engine block as shown.

The gasoline engine serial number is located on the engine block behind the carburetor.
