Who Cares about Maths anyway? Dr Majeda Awawdeh, 2019-06-02

In Who Cares about Maths Anyway? Majeda Awawdeh PhD addresses the top issues with Australia's current education system in her honest analytical overview. Over the course of the book teachers, students, and parents are given the opportunity to explore the deep seated problems of their current school system, including a lack of teacher training and development, one size fits all curricula, and unfocused government funding. Along with this insightful analysis, Dr Awawdeh introduces a long term vision that can improve the system for all involved, resulting in the progression of student success and higher ranking worldwide. Individuals looking for in depth research in the area of the Australian education system will find her book a valuable resource in their quest to solve the problems today's students face.

Adapting to Online and Blended Learning in Higher Education David Kember, Robert A. Ellis, Si Fan, Allison Trimble, 2023-05-19

Higher education has undergone a massive transformation in teaching and learning in a very short period of time since the onset of Covid 19. Students, teachers, and universities have had to adopt online and blended learning often with little or no experience or models of good practice to draw upon. It is clear that blended and online learning are here to stay. This book draws on research from universities that have adopted online and blended learning to facilitate the expansion and diversification of their intake, which resulted in considerable experience and expertise in online and blended teaching. The book describes a model tested with qualitative and quantitative data, which shows how teachers can support the retention and success of online and blended learners with four high quality pedagogical elements: bite sized videos of interest and relevance, learning materials that are well organised, and provide a clear learning roadmap, discussion forums which are set up and moderated so as to result in lively student-student and student-teacher interaction, and online teachers being approachable and responsive to communication with individual students through email, phone, and online communication platforms. This model is explained and profusely illustrated with examples from the teaching of award winning teachers. This book introduces the concept of a spectrum from traditional to contemporary models of admission and course delivery in higher education. It explains how universities which have adopted a contemporary model with high levels of blended and online learning have been able to expand their intake and markedly diversify the student body. It discusses how to support the retention and success of online and blended learners. Student support services are examined from the perspectives of service providers and online and blended learners, and the case is made for support services being aligned with student needs. The book has a discussion of university management systems which utilise feedback at all levels to improve alignment between support service provision and student needs.

School leaders are tasked with assisting students to make the next steps in their learning journeys regardless of the students starting points For students who are struggling the next steps are often clear but for students who are achieving beyond the expected level it can be difficult to know how best to challenge them Leading improvement for gifted and talented students provides a framework for a set of high impact strategies that individually and together can be the focus of improving high level outcomes for gifted and high ability students across the school Professor John Munro brings his considerable experience to this complex problem addressing the theoretical understandings of how high ability students flourish and the practical requirements of meeting their needs in today s classrooms Key chapters discuss what high ability looks like what high level outcomes are how to identify students who display high level outcomes in fields beyond literacy and numeracy and how school leaders can equip their educators to differentiate the curriculum and their teaching Topics such as twice exceptional students classroom culture students from diverse backgrounds and social and emotional wellbeing are also addressed as part of a whole school strategy for enhancing educational provision for high ability students Leading improvement for gifted and talented students is an essential evidence based resource for all school leaders to ensure that every child achieves their full potential

Interculturality in Schools
Robyn Moloney,Maria Lobytsyna,John De Nobile,2022-07-26 This book provides a comprehensive study of professional learning courses in intercultural settings exploring how this impacts teachers and brings about change in classrooms culture across schools as a whole and children s lives The authors argue that teachers and schools must raise the stakes globally in an intercultural practice grounded in educational equity and anti racism Identifying the attributes that make a difference in teacher intercultural learning and change through analysis of both quantitative and qualitative data the study throws up marked tensions and contradictions between the desire to explore both an abstract personal concept and achieve practical outcomes in schools As case studies of two primary schools dig deep into teachers lives the book proposes a model of personal teacher interculturality which is constructed from the inside out The potential of neglected spaces in schools for intercultural identity is also highlighted by images of new practice This book is a supportive resource for schools or educational institutions in any global context that are seeking a fresh approach to intercultural education and holistic change

OECD Reviews of Evaluation and Assessment in Education: Australia 2011 Santiago Paulo,Donaldson Graham,Herman Joan,Shewbridge Claire,2011-10-28 This book provides for Australia an independent analysis of major issues facing its educational evaluation and assessment framework current policy initiatives and possible future approaches
