

Gender learning in Alice Munro's short story entitled "Boys and Girls"

Ratna Asmarani*

Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University, Indonesia

The issues around gender is inexhaustible since gender can be analyzed from many perspectives. The focus of this paper is to discuss the gender learning experienced by the young girl in a short story entitled "Boys and Girls" written by Alice Munro. The discussion includes the young girl's gender defiance, gender learning, and gender acceptance. To support the discussion several issues around gender are reviewed. Besides a comprehensive definition of gender, issues concerning doing gender, gender identity, gender order, gender segregation, gender learning, gender presentation, gender display, and others are reviewed. The analysis is also combined with the conversation analysis by considering the influence of the language that leads to gender learning of the female character in the short story. The methods used are a combination of library research method with its close reading, qualitative method, and contextual method. The result shows that gender learning is inevitable especially in an isolated place. Although the young girl tries to defy the gender learning she finally has to accept it. This situation correlates with Simone de Beauvoir's statement "ONE is not born, but rather becomes, a woman" (De Beauvoir, 1956: 273) in her phenomenal book The Second Sex. Thus, the short story implies that being a girl in a strict male context is not easy, she has to surrender to the gender roles that are constructed for her, and the chances to actualize herself is limited or even non-existent.

INTRODUCTION

"Boys and Girls" is a short story by Alice Munro, a Canadian female writer (born 1931). This short story "was first published in 1968 in The Montrealer, before it was collected with fourteen other stories and published in Alice Munro's first edition of short stories, Dance of the Happy Shades (1968)" (Thacker, 2013). "Boys and Girls" is narrated by a young girl and it talks about her experience of becoming a woman. Her surrounding taught her through many ways to become an acceptable woman by avoiding certain attitudes and following certain advices. Although at first she tried to resist the normative rules that she considered as limitations, she finally succumbed to the never-ending gender socialization.

The analysis on gender especially on the gender learning experienced by the young girl in Alice Munro's "Boys and Girl" needs a review on several concepts concerning gender and its socialization. Lorber and Farel (1991) remind us that "In reality, girls and boys, women and men are more alike than they are different" or as Holmes (2009) says "women and men are not different species". They want to make us aware that basically girls and boys are the same because they belong to the same species. However the similarity quickly evaporates because of the application of "sameness taboo" (Rubin, 1975 in Lorber, Judith and Farel (1991)).

Nature and Gender in Alice Munro's Short Story "Boys and Girls" Aleksandra Dediukina, 2024-09-09 Seminar paper from the year 2024 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1-3 http://www.uni-jena.de/English_and_American_Studies/course/The_Canadian_Short_Story_language_English/abstract This paper examines Alice Munro's short story Boys and Girls through the lens of ecofeminism. The theoretical part provides the key principles of ecofeminism as a literary theory, and in the analysis part, their realisation in the story is explored. Ecofeminist literary criticism is a branch of literary criticism that first of all uses the principles of feminist literary criticism and ecocriticism but is not restricted to them. Among other approaches with which ecofeminist literary criticism closely interacts, there are radical environmental philosophy, critical animal studies, and radical economic and political theories about globalization, economics, ecology, and politics. Gaard 2010. Historically, ecofeminist literary criticism stems from ecofeminism as a movement with a two-decade history of activism and theoretical work. Ecofeminism first of all operates on the premise that in the male-dominated world, both women and nature have long experienced discrimination. Hierarchical thinking in establishing relationships among humans brought about another form of inequality towards nature. This defines the angle from which ecofeminist literary criticism approaches literary texts; the scholars seek to register two binary, cross-connected oppositions: male/female and nature/culture, and expose a fallacious and dangerous character of this dualism. Study Guide Supersummary, 2019-09-15 SuperSummary, a modern alternative to SparkNotes and CliffsNotes, offers high-quality study guides for challenging works of literature. A Comparative Analysis of Feminist Perspective in the Works of Alice Munro and Ismat Chughtai Shagufta Naj, 2024-03-18 This book is an analytical investigation into the works of renowned story writers Ismat Chughtai and Alice Munro. Both of the writers are known for their feminist perspectives and portrayal of the complexities of women's lives. The book aims to examine the gender issues depicted in their works and offers a fresh perspective on these themes. By studying the synchronic current and diachronic historical debates about gender and its realities, the book seeks to provide a deeper understanding of the complex nature of gender, moving beyond simplistic or generic interpretations and aims to bring these discussions out of the realm of generic discourse. The agenda of the book is to make upcoming scholars aware to advocate for a more inclusive approach to addressing gender.

issues in academic work and thought processes The book aims to highlight the importance of not solely focusing on women's issues as this can lead to a biased or sexist perspective Instead it promotes acknowledging communicating empathizing with and granting representation to issues faced by men and people of other genders as well in order to create a more inclusive and balanced discourse on gender related topics

Alice Munro and the Anatomy of the Short Story Oriana Palusci,2018-01-23 Alice Munro has devoted her entire career to the short story form in her fourteen collections having won the Nobel Prize in Literature as master of the contemporary short story This edited volume investigates her art as a storyteller the processes she performs on the contemporary short story genre in her creative anatomical theatre Divided into five topical sections it is a collection of scholarly chapters which offer textual insights into a single story compare two or more texts or casts a more panoramic view on Munro's literary production embracing stories from her first collection Dance of the Happy Shades to her last published Dear Life Through different critical approaches that range from post structuralism to cultural studies from linguistics and rhetorical analyses to translation studies the authors insist on the concept that no fixed patterns prevail in her short stories as Munro has constantly developed challenged and revised existing modes of generic configuration while discussing the fluidity the elusiveness the indeterminacy the ambiguity of her superb writing

Reading Alice Munro with Jacques Lacan Jennifer Murray,2016-10-01 It is unlikely that Jacques Lacan and Alice Munro were ever aware of each other's work Yet because of Munro's intuitive grasp of the complexities of human subjectivity and her ability to articulate subtleties and ambiguities her fiction shares many of the insights of Lacan's theoretical advancements of the same period They are both concerned with bringing the obscure undercurrents of the psyche to light Jennifer Murray's Reading Alice Munro with Jacques Lacan brings the works of the writer and the psychoanalyst into dialogue offering innovative interpretations of a selection of Munro's stories Approached from a Lacanian perspective a close reading of Munro's texts reveals the libidinal energy at the heart of the stories and offers particular insight into aspects such as shame and humiliation feelings that Munro presents with disconcerting acuity Taking into account stories both of childhood and of adult experiences Murray analyses the child's bewilderment as she confronts the incomprehensibility of parental injunctions and symbolic functions while stories about women later in life speak of subjectivity in the field of relationships where desire and love are central concerns. Including extended reflections on fantasy, sublimation, persistence of purpose, transmission of love and the roles of both paternal and maternal figures in Munro's work. Reading Alice Munro with Jacques Lacan also reshapes literary debate on feminine subjectivity and sexuality. The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-20 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro. The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s. This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present. The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro. Alice Munro Coral Howells, 2024-07-30 This is the first full length study of Alice Munro's work to be published in Britain. Highlights Munro's distinctive storytelling methods where everything becomes both touchable and mysterious. Alice Munro's Bestiary Héliane Ventura, 2024-10-09 Taking its cue from medieval bestiaries this alphabet book is composed of 63 entries ranging from ADDER to WOLFHOUSES with each entry juxtaposing an image, an excerpt from a story by Alice Munro and a commentary. The images are reproduced from original medieval illuminations the excerpts feature an animal or a human being depicted through animal comparison and the commentaries highlight the way Munro suggests relationality between the human and the non human. Munro troubles the boundaries between good and evil as she troubles the boundaries between human and non human. Through the mask of the animal she effects a release from strict morality and proposes an uncommon and undomesticated representation of human life revolving on simultaneous transcendence and derision. The volume will appeal to Munro scholars and to lovers of Alice Munro alike because it solves some of the enigmas set by her stories but suggests other riddles and more secrets. A Multimodal Stylistic Approach to Screen Adaptations of the Work of Alice Munro Sabrina Francesconi, 2022-12-27 This volume brings together perspectives from multimodal stylistics and adaptation studies for a unified theoretical analysis of adaptations of the work of Alice Munro demonstrating the affordances of the approach in furthering interdisciplinary research at the intersection of these fields. The book considers films and television programmes as complex multimodal stylistic systems in and of themselves in order to pave the way for a clearer understanding of screen adaptations as expressions of modal, medial and aesthetic change. In focusing on Munro Francesconi draws attention to a writer whose body of work has been adapted widely across television and film for an international market over several decades offering a diachronic overview and insights into the confluence of socio-cultural contexts, audiences and dynamics of production and distribution across adaptations. The volume complements this perspective with a microanalysis of the adaptations themselves exploring the varied creative use of audio-visual dimensions including sound, light and movement. The book seeks to overcome

simplified fidelity based understandings of screen adaptations more broadly showcasing creative multi layered approaches to a creator s oeuvre to effect true transformation across media and modes The volume will be of interest to scholars in multimodality adaptation studies film studies and comparative literature
