Carafoli,G. Semenza,2012-12-06 This manual collects in the form of laboratory protocols a series of experiments in the field of Membrane Transport and Membrane Bioenergetics It represents the experience accumulated during four advanced courses held at the Department of Biochemistry of the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology on behalf of Federation of European Biochemical Societies FEBS in the years 1975 through 1978 The idea of collecting the experiments into a laboratory manual developed as a response to a demand from the students who took part in the courses Further motivation came with the finding that in planning the laboratory sessions the teaching staff had no organized modern source of information in the literature The experiments presented cover most areas of importance in the subject matter Their presentation has been continuously modified in the course of the four years during which the manual took shape to accommodate to experience and various suggestions In their present form all of the experiments described have been repeatedly practiced to optimize their execution Efforts have been made to combine in the manual classical experiments and techniques which require relatively unsophisticated instrumentation and can therefore be carried out in most laboratories with more modern experiments and relatively newer technologies In its present form the manual should therefore provide a useful tool in the hands of researchers and laboratory teachers at different levels of sophistication and instrumentation Kobe Journal of Medical Sciences ,1974 Government Reports Index ,1970 Power Plant Engineering ,1956 Bibliography of Scientific and Industrial Reports ,1970 Communication and Electronics ,1959 Transactions of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers American Institute of Electrical Engineers,1960 British Abstracts ,1936 Circuit Cellar Ink ,1991 High Content Screening D. Lansing Taylor,2008-02-04 There has always been some tension between proponents of hypothesis driven and discovery driven research in the broad field of life sciences Academic research has been primarily focused on hypothesis driven research However the success of the human genome project a discovery driven research approach has opened the door to adding other types of discovery driven research to a continuum of research approaches In contrast drug discovery research in the pharmaceutical industry has embraced discovery driven research for many years A good example has been the discovery of active compounds from large chemical libraries through screening campaigns The success of the human genome project has also demonstrated the need for both academic researchers and industrial researchers to now understand the functions of genes and gene products The cell is the basic unit of life and it has been at the cellular level where function can be demonstrated most cost effectively and rapidly High content screening HCS was developed by Cellomics Inc in the mid 1990s to address the need for a platform that could be used in the discovery driven research and development required to understand the functions of genes and gene products at the level of the cell
