X-kit Fet G11 Life Sciences Clitheroe, F,2010      AIDS, Intimacy and Care in Rural KwaZulu-Natal Patricia C. Henderson,2011 This book describes how HIV AIDS became part of the lives of the people of the mountainous Okhahlamba in the South African province of KwaZulu Natal Based on extensive research in the area between 2003 and 2006 the author shows what impact the disease had and still does for adults and children and the different ways people tried to find answers to the devastating presence of HIV AIDS Henderson focuses on informal care by family members and volunteers at a time when anti retroviral drugs were not yet available She also shows what it meant to the community once the drugs became available      Global Knowledge Production in the Social Sciences Dr Christian Ersche,Dr Ercüment Çelik,Dr Veronika Wöhrer,Dr Wiebke Keim,2014-10-28 An innovative contribution to debates on the internationalization and globalization of the social sciences this book pays particular attention to their theoretical and epistemological reconfiguration in the light of postcolonial critiques and critiques of Eurocentrism Bringing together theoretical contributions and empirical case studies from around the world including India the Americas South Africa Australia and Europe it engages in debates concerning public sociology and explores South South research collaborations specific to the social sciences Contributions transcend established critiques of Eurocentrism to make space for the idea of global social sciences and truly transnational research Thematically arranged and both international and interdisciplinary in scope this volume reflects the different theoretical and thematic backgrounds of the contributing authors who enter into dialogue and debate with one another in the development of a more inclusive more representative and more theoretically relevant stage for the social sciences A rigorous critique of the contemporary state of the social sciences as well as an attempt to find another way of doing transnational sociology Global Knowledge Production in the Social Sciences will appeal to scholars of sociology political science and social theory with interests in the production of social scientific knowledge postcolonialism and transnationalism in research      Life History Research ,2009-01-01 Much has been written about lifehistory research in recent times It has been paraded as a counterculture to the traditional research canon and celebrated as a genre that promotes methodological pluralism However lifehistory researchers have an obligation to transcend spurious claims about the perceived merits of the methodology and extend the debates around how the genre simultaneously problematises and responds to the competing challenges of Epistemology Methodology and Representation In conceiving of each of the chapters from an epistemological perspective the authors focus on how their individual work has crossed or expanded traditional borders of epistemology and ontology of how the work has satisfied the rigours of thesis production and contributed to changing conceptions of knowledge what knowledge gets produced and how knowledge is produced when we make particular methodological choices Since any methodological orientation is invariably selective and the researcher is always involved and implicated in the production of data the authors focus on what selections they have made in their projects what governed these choices what benefits deficits those choices yielded and what the implications of their research are for those meta narratives that have established the regimes of truth legitimacy and veracity in research Knowledge production is inextricably linked to representation In the process of articulating their findings each author made particular representational choices sometimes transgressing conventional approaches The book explores why these choices were made and how the choices influenced the kinds of knowledge generated The book provides theoretical justifications for these transgressions and reflect on how the experience of representation helped disrupt the authors essentialist notions of research production and for whom it is produced This book is not another celebration of lifehistory as a counterculture The book hopes to be a deeply critical contribution to disrupt notions around epistemological authority voice and power and how these are mediated by the delicate relations of the researcher and researched The problematises and complicates the assumptions that frame this genre with a view to highlighting the potential hazards of the method while demonstrating its potentiality in shaping our conceptions of Ethics Methodology and Representation

Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World Lena Dominelli, 2018-02-06 Revitalising Communities in a Globalising World explores the opportunities and constraints that the dynamics of globalisation present for human development in a range of different countries and situations. Arguing that globalisation is currently a system of organising social relations along neoliberal lines, this timely volume examines practical examples of how people respond to significant social changes in their communities. The idea of communities is deconstructed to show that globalisation has collapsed the boundaries of time, space, and place in ways that have exacerbated inequalities at the same time, giving rise to unparalleled riches for some. The book encompasses a number of case studies that speak to policymakers, practitioners, educators, and students interested in studying globalisation and making the most of its potential for change.

Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks, 2015-05-08 The aggressive poaching of rhinos needs to be countered with equal aggression. So argued Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, the founder-president of the World Wildlife Fund (WWF), at a 1987 meeting with John Hanks, conservation expert and WWF's head in Africa. The result was Operation Lock, a secret initiative funded by Prince Bernhard and staffed by former SAS operatives. Operation Lock set up headquarters in Johannesburg and extended its reach into neighbouring states: Namibia, Zambia, Botswana, Swaziland, and Mozambique. Its operatives planned to train game rangers to pose as rhino horn traders in order to entrap buyers and to expose the kingpins who were driving the trade. It was a controversial approach all the more because it was working within apartheid South Africa in the late 1980s When the existence of the project was finally leaked WWF denied any involvement and John Hanks took the fall In Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks finally tells the story of these explosive events from 25 years ago As a leading international authority on conservation he also deals with the scourge of rhino poaching up to the present and gives powerful and controversial criticism of some of the current policies to curb poaching
