Automated Essay Scoring Beata Beigman Klebanov,Nitin Madnani,2022-05-31 This book discusses the state of the art of automated essay scoring its challenges and its potential One of the earliest applications of artificial intelligence to language data along with machine translation and speech recognition automated essay scoring has evolved to become both a revenue generating industry and a vast field of research with many subfields and connections to other NLP tasks In this book

we review the developments in this field against the backdrop of Elias Page's seminal 1966 paper titled The Imminence of Grading Essays by Computer. Part 1 establishes what automated essay scoring is about why it exists where the technology stands and what are some of the main issues. In Part 2 the book presents guided exercises to illustrate how one would go about building and evaluating a simple automated scoring system while Part 3 offers readers a survey of the literature on different types of scoring models the aspects of essay quality studied in prior research and the implementation and evaluation of a scoring engine. Part 4 offers a broader view of the field inclusive of some neighboring areas and Part 5 closes with summary and discussion. This book grew out of a week long course on automated evaluation of language production at the North American Summer School for Logic Language and Information NASSLLI attended by advanced undergraduates and early stage graduate students from a variety of disciplines. Teachers of natural language processing in particular will find that the book offers a useful foundation for a supplemental module on automated scoring. Professionals and students in linguistics applied linguistics educational technology and other related disciplines will also find the material here useful.

Reading, Writing, and Rigor Nancy Boyles, 2018-04-12 What does rigor a word that frequently pops up in conversations about education really mean. More specifically what does it mean for literacy instruction and how does it relate to challenging standards based assessments. In this informative and practical guide literacy expert Nancy Boyles uses the framework from Webb's Depth of Knowledge DOK to answer these questions offering experience based advice along with specific examples of K-8 assessment items. Boyles defines rigor and shows how it relates to literacy at each DOK level and explains the kind of thinking students will be expected to demonstrate. She then tackles the essence of what teachers need to know about how DOK and its associated rigors are measured on standards based assessments. Specifically readers learn how each DOK rigor aligns with standards text complexity close reading student interaction the reading writing connection and formative assessment. Teachers coaches and administrators will find clear guidance easy to implement strategies dozens of useful teaching tools and resources and encouragement to help students achieve and demonstrate true rigor in reading and writing.
