FemPoetiks of American Poetry and Americana

Music Linda Nicole Blair, 2021-06-10 From the poems of Anne Bradstreet Phillis Wheatley and Emily Dickinson emerges what the author calls FemPoetiks a discourse of female empowerment Situating the work of these poets in their historical eras Linda Nicole Blair considers a sampling of their poems side by side with a number of song lyrics by singer songwriters Brandi Carlile Rhiannon Giddens and Lucinda Williams having found commonalities of theme motif and language between them Blair argues that while FemPoetiks has continued to develop in various ways in American poetry by women the fact that this discourse finds expression in songs by Americana female artists indicates a matrilineal line of influence from the 1630s to today In order to show the omnipresence of this powerful feminist discourse she closes this book with eleven interviews she conducted with female singer songwriters from around the United States The phenomenon of FemPoetiks is not limited to the arts but extends into all areas of American life from the domestic to the political FemPoetiks is a woman's truth

The Death of Things Sarah Wasserman, 2020-10-20 A comprehensive study of ephemera in twentieth century literature and its relevance to the twenty first century Nothing ever really disappears from the internet has become a common warning of the digital age But the twentieth century was filled with ephemera items that were designed to disappear forever and these objects played crucial roles in some of that century's greatest works of literature In The Death of Things author Sarah Wasserman delivers the first comprehensive study addressing the role ephemera played in twentieth century fiction and its relevance to contemporary digital culture Representing the experience of perpetual change and loss ephemera was central to great works by major novelists like Don DeLillo Ralph Ellison and Marilynne Robinson Following the lives and deaths of objects Wasserman imagines new uses of urban space new forms of visibility for marginalized groups and new conceptions of the marginal itself She also inquires into present day conundrums our fascination with the durable our concerns with the digital and our curiosity about what new fictional narratives have to say about deletion and preservation The Death of Things offers readers fascinating original angles on how objects shape our world Creating an alternate literary history of the twentieth century Wasserman delivers an insightful and idiosyncratic journey through objects that were once vital but are now forgotten

Rock Music in American Fiction Writing, 1966-2011 Martin Moling, 2021-09-20 Can rock music help us understand literature Rock Music in American Fiction Writing 1966-2011 argues that a close analysis of the rock music incorporated into a literary text an investigation of the lyrics a musicological exploration of the sounds and rhythms a cultural historical inquiry into the production and reception of a song may yield exciting new insight into and expand our understanding of American literary production from the mid 20th century onwards Reading major works by Joyce Carol Oates Alice Walker Don DeLillo Jeffrey Eugenides Sherman Alexie and Jennifer Egan from such a rock musicological vantage point Rock Music in American Fiction Writing adds a new dimension to recent work in American literary criticism by seeking to establish rock music as an analytical tool for literary investigation The book concentrates on the way these literary artists have struggled to come to terms with the dichotomies inherent in rock music its liberating and revolutionary impulses as well as its adherence to the bleakest laws of consumer capitalism in their work By combining a musicological with a literary analysis Rock Music in American Fiction Writing highlights the crucial and complex role rock music has played in shaping the artistic outlook and cultural sensibilities of literary artists since the 1960s in America and beyond

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Identity Re-creation in Global African Encounters John Ayotunde Isola Bewaji, Adedoyin Aguoru, 2019-08-07 Identity Re creation in Global African Encounters explores race racial politics and racial transformation in the context of Africa s encounters with non African communities through various perspectives including oppression racialization of ethnic difference and identity deconstruction While the contributors recognize that ethnicity has long been a staple analytical category of engagements between African and non African communities they present a holistic view of the continent and its diaspora through race outside of both colonial and neocolonial binaries allowing for a more nuanced study of Africa and its diaspora

African Women Writing Diaspora Rose A. Sackeyfio, 2021-04-26 African Women Writing Diaspora Transnational Perspectives in the Twenty First Century examines contemporary fiction by African women authors to resonate diaspora perspectives on what it means to be African within transnational spaces Through a critical lens the collection interrogates the ways in which women construct new ways of telling the African story in the global age of social economic and political transformation African Women Writing Diaspora illustrates that for African women life in the diaspora is an uncharted journey across new landscapes of identity beyond Africa s borders as a unifying theme The fictional works analyzed represent the leading women writers who dominate the African literary canon and the contributors explore diverse themes of immigrant life racialized identities and otherness within transnational spaces of the west

UNTOLD HISTORY Bernadine E. Ahonkhai, ED. D, 2025-01-06 UNTOLD HISTORY illustrates how African history is intertwined with and foundational to American history The book begins this narrative in the fourteenth century when European seafarers discovered the coastal regions of Africa describes the meeting of the three worlds aEUR Europe Africa and the New World later known as America and details the increasing interactions of the three

After Postmodernism Christopher K. Coffman, Theophilus Savvas, 2020-12-17 Several of American literature s most prominent authors and many of their most perceptive critics and reviewers argue that fiction of the last quarter century has turned away from the tendencies of postmodernist writing Yet the nature of that turn and the defining qualities of American fiction after postmodernism remain less than clear This volume identifies four prominent trends of the contemporary scene the recovery of the real a rethinking of historical engagement a preoccupation with materiality and a turn to the planetary Readings of works by various leading figures including Dave Eggers Jonathan Franzen A M Homes Lance Olsen Richard Powers William T Vollmann and David Foster Wallace support a variety of arguments about this recent revitalization of American literature The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Textual Practice

It's Just the Normal Noises Timothy Gray, 2017-05 Taking a personal approach to the subject matter Timothy Gray reads criticism and listens to music as though rock n roll not only explains American culture but also shores up his life In It s Just the Normal Noises Gray examines a wide array of writing about roots music from the 1960s to the 2000s In addition to chapters on the genre defining work of Peter Guralnick and Greil Marcus he explores the influential writings of Grant Alden and Peter Blackstock the editors of No Depression magazine and the writers who contributed to its pages Bill Friskicks Warren Ed Ward David Cantwell and Allison Stewart among them A host of memoirists and novelists from Patti Smith and Ann Powers to Eleanor Henderson and Dana Spiotta shed light on the social effects and personal attachments of the music s many manifestations from punk to alt country to hardcore

Unjust Restitution Michael Kingsley Brown, 2025-02-04 The question of economic justice for Black Americans remains unresolved and continues to be the subject of contentious political debate In Unjust Restitution Michael K Brown examines the meaning of racial equality during three transformative periods in American history when significant changes to economic status and opportunity appeared to be a real possibility in the US Reconstruction the New Deal and the Great Society Political leaders believed slavery and Jim Crow degraded Black people and enacted policies to rehabilitate formerly subjugated individuals Black Americans challenged this conception and repudiated the idea that they were damaged people in need of repair Repeatedly Black people s vision of economic justice was based on anti privilege egalitarianism the idea that a just restitution for their oppression required abolishing the political and legal privileges whites had acquired Black opposition reveals what was at stake at each historical moment and what might constitute economic justice in the twenty first century Equality of opportunity can be a just restitution for continuing durable racial inequality only if it changes the structure of people s economic opportunities
