

Gathering Guide

Introduction

Gathering is a rather long and dull process of collecting materials for crafts. While many crafts are not attempted except for some of the best gear at the end of the game, these materials are commonly used for siege weapons, cooking, or alchemy.

There are two types of gathering. Essencetapping, which is the more involved process and occurs with items lying on the ground, and Aethertapping, which involves items flying in the air.

It is highly suggested that if you are going to be Aethertapping, you should bring along a lot of fine wind serums, or a songweaver with a skill that increases your flight time dramatically.

It is not advised to gather until you are finished with levelling, as it is much easier to run around and gather without mobs aggroing you. However, if you want to gather while you are levelling, you should take your level, subtract 9, and then multiply that number by 10. That is the level of essencetapping you should be at. For instance, at level 22, you should be at  $22 - 9 = 13 * 10 = 130$ .

Both essencetapping and aethertapping should be at maximum level (495) if you are planning to do the Sief's Forgotten quests.

To gather a node, simply right click on it. A success/failure bar will appear.
