problems arising from the connection and or disjunction between nation and state The author argues that Puerto Rico's position as a stateless nation puts pressure on traditional conceptions of national cinema which tend to rely on assumptions of state support or a bounded nation state She also contends that the cultural and business practices associated with early cinema reveal that transnationalism is an integral part of national identities and their development Garc a Crespo shows throughout this book that the development and circulation of cinema in Puerto Rico illustrate how the national is built from transnational connections Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press
