African American Males Castrated:

Race, Gender, and Punishment Mary Bosworth, Jeanne Flavin, 2007 In this book Mary Bosworth and Jeanne Flavin bring together twelve original essays by prominent scholars to examine not only the discrimination that is evident but also the structural and cultural forces that have influenced and continue to perpetuate the current situation Contributors point to four major factors that have impacted public sentiment and criminal justice policy colonialism slavery immigration and globalization In doing so they reveal how practices of punishment not only need particular ideas about race to exist but they also legitimate them Revealing Male Bodies Nancy Tuana, William Cowling, Maurice Hamington, Greg Johnson, 2002-05-06 Revealing Male Bodies is the first scholarly collection to directly confront male lived experience There has been an explosion of work in men's studies masculinity issues and male sexuality in addition to a growing literature exploring female embodiment Missing from the current literature however is a sustained analysis of the phenomenology of male gendered bodies Revealing Male Bodies addresses this omission by examining how male bodies are physically and experientially constituted by the economic theoretical and social practices in which men are immersed Contributors include Susan Bordo William Cowling Terry Goldie Maurice Hamington Don Ihde Greg Johnson Björn Krondorfer Alphonso Lingis Patrick McGann Paul McIlvenny Terrance MacMullan Jim Perkinson Steven P Schacht Richard Schmitt Nancy Tuana Craig L Wilkins and John Zuern American Anatomies Robyn Wiegman, 1995 In this brilliantly combative study Robyn Wiegman challenges contemporary clichés about race and gender a formulation that is itself a cliché in need of questioning As part of what she calls her feminist disloyalty she turns a critical even skeptical eye on current debates about multiculturalism and difference while simultaneously exposing the many ways in which white racial supremacy has been reconfigured since the institutional demise of segregation Most of all she examines the hypocrisy and contradictoriness of over a century of narratives that posit Anglo Americans as heroic agents of racism's decline Whether assessing Uncle Tom's Cabin lynching Leslie Fiedler's racist mapping of the American novel the Black Power movement of the 60s 80s buddy films or the novels of Richard Wright and Toni Morrison Wiegman unflinchingly confronts the paradoxes of both racism and antiracist agendas including those advanced from a feminist perspective American Anatomies takes the long view What epistemological frameworks allowed the West from the Renaissance forward to schematize racial and gender differences and to create social hierarchies based on these differences How have those epistemological regimes changed and not changed over time Where are we now With painstaking care political passion and intellectual daring Wiegman analyzes the biological and cultural bases of racial and gender bias in order to reinvigorate the discussion of identity politics She concludes that for very different reasons identity proves to be dangerous to minority and majority alike Racial Myths and Masculinity in African American Literature Jeffrey B. Leak, 2005 The portrayal of black men in our national literature is controversial complex and often contradictory In Racial Myths and Masculinity in African American Literature Jeffrey B Leak identifies some of the long held myths and stereotypes that persist in the work of black writers from the nineteenth century to the present intellectual inferiority criminality sexual prowess homosexual emasculation and cultural deprivation Utilizing Robert B Stepto's call and response theory Leak studies four pairs of novels within the context of certain myths identifying the literary tandems between them and seeking to discover the source of our culture's psychological preoccupation with black men Calling upon interdisciplinary fields of study literary theory psychoanalysis gender studies legal theory and queer theory Leak offers groundbreaking analysis of both canonical texts representing the call of the call and response dyad and texts by emerging writers representing the response including Frederick Douglass and Charles Johnson Ralph Ellison and Brent Wade Richard Wright and Ernest J Gaines and Toni Morrison and David Bradley Though Leak does not claim that the response texts are superior to the call texts he does argue that in some cases the newer work such as Charles Johnson's Oxherding Tale can address a theme or offer a narrative innovation not found in preceding texts such as Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass In these instances argues Leak the newer texts constitute not only a response to the call text but a substantial revision Leak offers the first in depth criticism of black masculinity in a range of literary texts In a final chapter he expands his discussion to the emerging field of black masculinity studies pointing to future directions for study including memoir film drama and others Poised on the brink of exciting new trends in scholarship Racial Myths and Masculinity in African American Literature is a flagship work enhancing the understanding of literary constructions of black masculinity and the larger cultural imperatives to which these writers are reacting

Rape and Race in the Nineteenth-Century South Diane Miller

Sommerville, 2005-10-12 Challenging notions of race and sexuality presumed to have originated and flourished in the slave South Diane Miller Sommerville traces the evolution of white southerners' fears of black rape by examining actual cases of black on white rape throughout the nineteenth century Sommerville demonstrates that despite draconian statutes accused black rapists frequently avoided execution or castration largely due to intervention by members of the white community This leniency belies claims that antebellum white southerners were overcome with anxiety about black rape In fact Sommerville argues there was great fluidity across racial and sexual lines as well as a greater tolerance among whites for intimacy between black males and white females According to Sommerville pervasive misogyny fused with class prejudices to shape white responses to accusations of black rape even during the Civil War and Reconstruction periods a testament to the staying power of ideas about poor women's innate depravity Based predominantly on court records and supporting legal documentation Sommerville's examination forces a reassessment of long held assumptions about the South and race relations as she remaps the social and racial terrain on which southerners black and white rich and poor related to one another over the long nineteenth century

A Brief History Of Castration Victor T. Cheney, 2006-03-06 Victor T Cheney

has just published a BRIEF HISTORY OF CASTRATION 2nd EDITION This book contains a five page index plus a two page glossary with numerous footnotes to aid the curious history buff and serious researcher Readers unfamiliar with this subject which is most of us will be surprised to learn how important this operation was to many cultures of the world in times past and to a lesser extent even today In Italy thousands of young boys were castrated to prepare their voices for the opera In Arab lands slaves both black and white were castrated in order to become harem guards Chinese emperors found castrated males to be extremely reliable for treasurers and other governmental posts In the past their operation was very dangerous and many died from infections But it also had its beneficial side effects The average castrated male lives 15 years longer than normal men This is because harmful hormones and other impediments were removed from the man's system For instance one cannot get testicular cancer if he has no testicles Many ancient religions as well as the early Christians used their religious duties unhampered by impure thoughts and immoral deeds Though Christians gradually abandoned this practice some breakaway groups continued to castrate young men in Russia and elsewhere even in this 20th century The author believes that castration can still play an important role in modern society He shows that it can be used to prevent serious crimes diseases and the loss of vital spiritual and moral values

Crime as Structured Action James

Messerschmidt, 1997-01-04 The author of this volume skillfully demonstrates that a vital component to understanding crime is to be able to view it as more than a single activity James W Messerschmidt argues that crime operates subtly through a complex series of gender race and class practices and these interwoven elements must be seen as part of all social existence not viewed independently

Imagery of Lynching Dora Apel, 2004 Outside of the classroom and scholarly publications lynching has long been a taboo subject Nice people it is felt do not talk about it and they certainly do not look at images representing the atrocity In Imagery of Lynching Dora Apel contests this adopted stance of ignorance Through a careful and compelling analysis of over one hundred representations of lynching she shows how the visual documentation of such crimes can be a central vehicle for both constructing and challenging racial hierarchies She examines how lynching was often orchestrated explicitly for the camera and how these images circulated on postcards but also how they eventually were appropriated by antilynching forces and artists from the 1930s to the present She further investigates how photographs were used to construct ideologies of whiteness and blackness the role that gender played in these visual representations and how interracial desire became part of the imagery Offering the fullest and most systematic discussion of the depiction of lynching in diverse visual forms this book addresses questions about race class gender and dissent in the shaping of American society Although we may want to avert our gaze Apel holds it with her sophisticated interpretations of traumatic images and the uses to which they have been put

Black Outlaws Carlyle Van Thompson, 2010 In this provocative and original exploration of Black males and the legal establishment Carlyle Van Thompson illuminates the critical issues defining Black male subjectivity Since the days of Black people's enslavement and the days of Jim Crow segregation Black males have been at odds with the legal and extra legal restrictions that would maintain white supremacy and white male privilege Grounded in the voices of Frederick Douglass and David Walker who challenged hegemonic systems designed to socio economically disenfranchise

Black people Black Outlaws examines legal aspects with regard to Black males during the period of segregation By critically looking at Richard Wright s The Outsider Chester Bomar Himes The Third Generation Walter Mosley s Devil in a Blue Dress and Ernest J Gaines A Lesson Before Dying all of which examine Black males during the Jim Crow period Thompson investigates the challenges that Black males confront and surmount in their journeys to establish their individual and collective agency Black Outlaws helps decipher critical legal and racial issues in the works of four of the most important Black male writers and is suitable for readers in literary studies cultural studies and history Eating the Black Body Carlyle Van Thompson,2006 Textbook Masculinities and Violence Lee H. Bowker,1997-12-18 Masculinities and Violence the latest volume in the Research on Men and Masculinities series takes a sobering look at men and violence Editor Lee H Bowker has carefully chosen essays that shed light on the causes and settings of masculine violence The three essays in Part I lay out the ways in which men learn violence and repeat it Part II focuses on the ways men victimize women and children Part III turns to ways men victimize other men Finally Part IV looks at men and organizational violence Understanding the masculinities violence nexus is crucially important to finding ways to mitigate the masculine tendency to violence This perceptive volume will be an important resource for all those interested in the field of gender roles men s studies and interpersonal violence Castration Gary Taylor,2002 First Published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Crime as Structured Action James W. Messerschmidt,2013-08-08 James W Messerschmidt s groundbreaking book Crime as Structured Action demonstrates that to understand crime we must understand how crime operates through a complex series of gender race sexual and class practices In the second edition of this powerful book Messerschmidt updates both structured action theory as well as several of the original case studies and he includes a new case study that further brings structured action theory to life The book also features expanded discussions of whiteness and sexuality and their relationships to crime White Men Aren't Thomas DiPiero,2002-09-09 A critical psychoanalytic account of white masculinity which argues that it is incorrect to naturalize the power of masculinity and offers an alternative account

Race, Racism and Psychology Graham Richards,2003-09-02 Topics with racial implications have been hotly debated in the psychological literature for most of this century and are often in the news Graham Richards takes a historical look at how the concepts of race and racism emerged within the discipline and charts the underlying premises of some famous studies in their social and political contexts No one is allowed to be objective in this arena as opponents will always argue that they are not This account is bound therefore to be controversial and excite interest whether or not readers agree with Richards stance

When A Black Man Cries P. Jonathan Porterfield,2011-03 This short book takes a look at the condition which faces the African American male of this twenty first century and his woman It will allow him to see themselves in the light of God s Word and the perception of all men The Hate Handbook Martin Oppenheimer,2005-01-01 In clear conversational and shockingly frank prose Martin Oppenheimer explores the causes of hatred and bigotry The Hate Handbook is a unique and brilliant effort by a well known sociologist of social movements to communicate to all who are interested why it is that people hate and kill one another and despite massive tragedy why it is that they continue to do so today      Achieving Blackness Algernon Austin,2006-04-10 Achieving Blackness offers an important examination of the complexities of race and ethnicity in the context of black nationalist movements in the United States By examining the rise of the Nation of Islam the Black Power Movement of the 1960s and 1970s and the Afrocentric era of the 1980s through 1990s Austin shows how theories of race have shaped ideas about the meaning of Blackness within different time periods of the twentieth century Achieving Blackness provides both a fascinating history of Blackness and a theoretically challenging understanding of race and ethnicity Austin traces how Blackness was defined by cultural ideas social practices and shared identities as well as shaped in response to the social and historical conditions at different moments in American history Analyzing black public opinion on black nationalism and its relationship with class Austin challenges the commonly held assumption that black nationalism is a lower class phenomenon In a refreshing and final move he makes a compelling argument for rethinking contemporary theories of race away from the current fascination with physical difference which he contends sweeps race back to its misconceived biological underpinnings Achieving Blackness is a wonderful contribution to the sociology of race and African American Studies      Sex and Disability Robert McRuer,Anna Mollow,2012-01-04 This collection brings together scholars and artists in disability studies sexuality queer theory and feminism to show how much sexuality studies and disability studies have to learn from each other      Ebony ,1972-08 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine
