Afrikaans Paper3 2013:

Afrikaans Linguistics WAM Carstens, Nerina Bosman, 2024-10-03 Offering a contemporary exploration of the multifaceted landscape of Afrikaans linguistics Afrikaans Linguistics Contemporary Perspectives marks a seminal contribution to the field This volume for the first time presents accessible insights into diverse linguistics subdisciplines inviting international scholars to familiarise themselves with Afrikaans language studies Throughout much of the late 19th and 20th centuries Afrikaans scholars predominantly communicated in Afrikaans resulting in a significant gap in the dissemination of knowledge about the language The chapters in this book written by prominent South Africans as well as international scholars working in the field of Afrikaans serve as a pivotal bridge by providing essential historical context while also paying attention to the development of Afrikaans linguistics during the 20th century The primary focus remains on illuminating 21st century research trajectories offering a comprehensive snapshot of contemporary scholarship in Afrikaans linguistics Nelson Mandela Crain Soudien, 2017-03-22 The death of Nelson Mandela the great South African fighter for freedom in December 2013 prompted several colleagues within the World Council of Comparative Education Societies community to come together to think about the significance of his life and his work for education This book is the result of that coming together The contributing authors reflect on what his life the commitments he made and principally the values he took into the struggle for freedom in South Africa mean for education The point of departure for the book is that of honouring the man It begins with the argument that the values for which he stood namely the unconditional dignity of all human beings respect for difference and principally his lifelong commitment to justice have a special significance for how we as inhabitants of an increasingly connected and interdependent world conduct our personal lives our relationships with one another and with the material and living space which surrounds us It is an ecological approach As the world moves into a twenty first century where paradoxically we know so much and yet appear to understand so little and so find ourselves struggling to create social lives in which all of us can feel respected can offer respect to others and live lives free of fear and anxiety the values for which he stood have specific relevance for how we do the important job of teaching and what we put into it Mandela poses deeply provocative questions about the kinds of lives we seek for ourselves and for everybody else around us The Bloomsbury Handbook to J. M. Coetzee Lucy Valerie Graham, Andrew van der Vlies, 2023-08-24 J M Coetzee novelist essayist public intellectual and Nobel Laureate in Literature 2003 is widely recognized as one of the towering literary figures of the last half century With chapters written by leading and emerging scholars from across the world The Bloomsbury Handbook to J M Coetzee offers the most comprehensive available exploration of the variety range and significance of his work The volume covers a wealth of topics including The full span of Coetzee's work from his poetry to his essays and major fiction including Waiting for the Barbarians Disgrace and the Jesus novels Biographical details and archival approaches Coetzee's sources and influences including engagements with Modernism South African Australian Russian and Latin American literatures

Interdisciplinary perspectives including on visual cultures music philosophy computational systems and translation The Bloomsbury Handbook to J M Coetzee provides indispensable scholarly perspectives covers emerging debates and maps the future direction of Coetzee studies The Final-Over-Final Condition Michelle Sheehan, Theresa Biberauer, Ian Roberts, Anders Holmberg, 2017-10-27 An examination of the evidence for and the theoretical implications of a universal word order constraint with data from a wide range of languages This book presents evidence for a universal word order constraint the Final over Final Condition FOFC and discusses the theoretical implications of this phenomenon FOFC is a syntactic condition that disallows structures where a head initial phrase is contained in a head final phrase in the same extended projection domain The authors argue that FOFC is a linguistic universal not just a strong tendency and not a constraint on processing They discuss the effects of the universal in various domains including the noun phrase the adjective phrase the verb phrase and the clause The book draws on data from a wide range of languages including Hindi Turkish Basque Finnish Afrikaans German Hungarian French English Italian Romanian Arabic Hebrew Mandarin Pontic Greek Bagirmi Dholuo and Thai FOFC the authors argue is important because it is the only known example of a word order asymmetry pertaining to the order of heads As such it has significant repercussions for theories connecting the narrow syntax to linear order

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Cape Town Harmonies Armelle Gaulier, Denis-Constant Martin, 2017-07-19 Cape Town's public cultures can only be fully appreciated through recognition of its deep and diverse soundscape We have to listen to what has made and makes a city The ear is an integral part of the research tools one needs to get a sense of any city We have to listen to the sounds that made and make the expansive mother city Various of its constituent parts sound different from each other There is the sound of the singing men and their choirs teams they are called in preparation for the longstanding annual Malay choral competitions The lyrics from the various repertoires they perform are hardly ever written down There are texts of the hallowed Dutch songs but these do not circulate easily and widely Researchers dream of finding lyrics from decades ago not to mention a few generations ago back to the early 19th century This work by Denis Constant Martin and Armelle Gaulier provides us with a very useful selection of these songs More than that it is a critical sociological reflection of the place of these songs and their performers in the context that have given rise to them and sustains their relevance It is a necessary work and is a very important scholarly intervention about a rather neglected aspect of the history and present production of music in the city
