After His Likeness:

Created in God's Image Anthony A. Hoekema, 1994-09-06 According to Scripture humankind was created in the image of God. Hoekema discusses the implications of this theme, devoting several chapters to the biblical teaching on God's image, the teaching of philosophers and theologians through the ages, and his own theological analysis. Suitable for seminary-level anthropology courses yet accessible to educated laypeople. Extensive bibliography, fully indexed. NPNF2-06. Jerome:

The Principal Works of St. Jerome, Let This Mind Be in You JAMES L. WILLIAMS, 2005-03-24 Man's plight in this world of physical existence is due in part to his inability to recognize and understand the source and purpose of all that exists in it. Spiritual laws are the driving force shaping and determining the character and nature of all things. A careful look into Scripture helps us to understand that all that has been created, be it the simple microcosm of the atom or the more complex macrocosm of the stars and planets, holds a unique place in understanding ourselves. Even the character of man is governed by laws and principles originating beyond the natural self. LET THIS MIND BE IN YOU is a comprehensive biblical and scientific study into how behavior is governed by laws and natures, revealing insight into creation and the purpose for which all exists. All of creation has the unique ability to reveal the character and nature of its creator. For the invisible things of Him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse. Romans 1:20 The Wonder of the Cross Richard A. Shenk, 2013-05-08 When considering and confronting the problem of evil, we may be asking the wrong question. Why is there evil in the world if God is good and powerful? It may be wrong because it smuggles in an unbiblical premise: God can and should use his coercive power to relieve suffering, since he is both good and able. But what if coercive power does not work to accomplish God's goals? This book is an investigation into the possibility that the noncoercive power of the Cross must be at the center of this issue and that the Cross could reform this question. We could ask instead: How is God destroying evil and suffering, and why is he taking so long? The answer to this reframed question might be: He is using evil and suffering to destroy evil and suffering for His People; this is how long it takes. While not a solution to the problem of evil, could this help us learn to delight in God in a world in which evil and suffering seem at times so relentless?

Empire to Byzantium Geoffrey Dunn, Wendy Mayer, 2015-07-14 The essays collected in Christians Shaping Identity celebrate Pauline Allen's significant contribution to early Christian, late antique, and Byzantine studies, especially concerning bishops, heresy, orthodoxy, and christology. Covering the period from earliest Christianity to middle Byzantium, the first eighteen essays explore the varied ways in which Christians constructed their own identity and that of the society around them A final four essays explore the same theme within Roman Catholicism and oriental Christianity in the late 19th to 21st centuries with particular attention to the subtle relationships between the shaping of the early Christian past and the moulding of Christian identity today Among the many leading scholars represented are Averil Cameron and Elizabeth A Clark
