Aviation ,1922      Church emerging from the cracks Johann-Albrecht Meylahn,2013-01-01 The drawing Christ of the Breadlines by Fritz Eichenberg 1953 probably says all that this book wants to say about being church

The church is a space in this world where heaven and earth reach out to each other. It is a space in the world but not of the world as it is touched by heaven. Christ is in the breadline yet one can recognise Him as He stands out in the breadline. One can recognise him because of the hallow that surrounds him. He is the incarnation within reality and through the incarnation the place within reality becomes holy not sacred as in separated but sanctified as differentiated offering an alternative within reality. He brings a space that is marked not by the darkness and the vicious cycles of the world which dominate and enslave creation such as poverty but a space that breaks into this darkness with light as it is hallowed in hope. What more can the church hope for than to be allowed to be a space of hallowed hope in the vicious systems of death in a postmodern and post Christian world. This book would like to propose that it does not really matter if you start with theory. Scripture and tradition or with context and practice because theology is circular or spiral and therefore there is no starting point as the two continually influences each other or one could even say the one interprets the other. So for this book the best place to start is with where we are now the now of experience as this now of experience includes both theory and praxis. There is no such thing as experience pure and simple as experience is always interpreted experience and the interpretation is done through the theory that has shaped and formed us. Thus in this book we work with theory laden practice.
