

A large group of African Americans are seated at a formal dinner. The foreground shows two men in tuxedos, one with a patterned vest and the other with a bow tie. Behind them, many other guests are seated at long tables, some looking towards the camera. The setting appears to be a formal event, possibly a museum opening or a gala.

African Americans Of Denver:

African Americans of Denver Ronald Jemal Stephens, La Wanna M. Larson, Black American West Museum, 2008 The city of Denver was born during the great Pikes Peak or Bust gold rush of 1859 when flakes of placer gold were found where the South Platte River meets Cherry Creek With the discovery of more gold Denver became a boomtown and African American pioneers began to arrive in search of prosperity and a better future Initially Denver's African Americans lived scattered throughout the city and in the Cherry Creek area By the late 1890s most had relocated to the Five Points Neighborhood Many worked in Denver during the week and farmed their homesteads in Dearfield on the weekends They often spent their holidays at Winks Lodge and summers at Camp Nizhone

Five Points Neighborhood of Denver Laura M. Mauck, 2001 By the 1870s the word was out about Colorado East coast and Midwest prospectors European immigrants and African Americans newly freed from slavery rushed to Denver to find work and their fortune in silver and gold Captured here in almost 200 vintage images is the story of the African Americans who escaped the oppression and racism of the post Civil War South and created a city within a city the Five Points neighborhood of Denver Named in 1881 for a bustling five way intersection the Five Points area became the commercial and social sector for African American churches businesses clubs and homes and the heart of Denver's black community Showcased here are the photographs of once thriving Five Points businesses in the Welton Street business district such as Otha Rice's Tap Room and Oven and the Rossonian Hotel as well as the familiar faces of the Cosmopolitan Club Madame CJ Walker and Dr Justina Ford Denver's first African American female doctor

The African American Urban Experience J. Trotter,E. Lewis,T. Hunter,2004-03-17 From the early years of the African slave trade to America blacks have lived and laboured in urban environments Yet the transformation of rural blacks into a predominantly urban people is a relatively recent phenomenon only during World War One did African Americans move into cities in large numbers and only during World War Two did more blacks reside in cities than in the countryside By the early 1970s blacks had not only made the transition from rural to urban settings but were almost evenly distributed between the cities of the North and the West on the one hand and the South on the other In their quest for full citizenship rights economic democracy and release from an oppressive rural past black southerners turned to urban migration and employment in the nation s industrial sector as a new Promised Land or Flight from Egypt In order to illuminate these transformations in African American urban life this book brings together urban history contemporary social cultural and policy research and comparative perspectives on race ethnicity and nationality within and across national boundaries

Mac McCloud's Five Points William Wyckoff,2023-11-01 This stunning collection of images celebrates the remarkable career of Burnis Mac McCloud Denver s premiere Black photographer between 1950 and 1980 His remarkable photographs focused on Denver's Five Points community captured the ordinary lives of African Americans during a period that witnessed the end of Jim Crow segregation and the beginning of the Civil Rights era. Assembled from more than one hundred thousand negatives that McCloud left behind, this collection introduces his creative work to the world beyond the Mile High City. Author William Wyckoff also tells McCloud's life story, revealing the challenges to and vitality of Denver's Black community. At a time when much of what McCloud photographed is being swept away by gentrification and urban change, this collection of images preserves a time and place important not only for Denver but for all of Black America.

Denver's City Park and Whittier Neighborhoods Shawn M. Snow, 2009-10-26 Denver was barely 10 years old in 1868 when visionary pioneers such as Alfred B. Case and Jacob W. Downing began amassing real estate holdings far from downtown speculation that paid off when the newly arrived railroad led to a population explosion. With the opening of the Whittier School in 1883, the largest elementary school in the city, a domain for prairie dogs evolved into a middle-class haven of fine Victorian homes. Buffalo Bill Cody's sister even called the Whittier neighborhood home. The convenience and reliability of an expanding streetcar system brought the lifeblood of the city into the neighborhood. Whittier and its residents were also blessed with the establishment of a large 320-acre park just to the east. This park transformed from native prairie to irrigated forest became one of the biggest attractions in Denver. City Park

Leroy Smith: 20th Century Impresario of Denver's Five Points District LeRoy O. Smith, 2022-01-03 This memoir of a man who was instrumental in shaping the vibrant Five Points neighborhood that is now Denver's only Historic Cultural District begins with his roots. His parents fled the Jim Crow laws of Texas on an eight-month 1903 wagon train into Indian Territory where Leroy Smith was born in the oldest black town of what had by then become Oklahoma. His personal Great Migration began when he walked across the border into Arkansas. Working and vagabonding his way northeast to be rescued when he received a bus ticket from a friend who suggested he come west to Utah for a decent job on the railway. Working the trains, Leroy was drawn to Denver which he had learned was the Harlem of the West. There he met Lulu Ann Green, convinced her in a whirlwind courtship to marry and join him as a partner in a tiny shop they rented for ten dollars a month. Leroy bought black newspapers, hair products, and vinyl music on his Chicago train runs that Lulu sold to Denver's fast-growing black population. By 1941, Leroy could quit the railroad to create the Rhythm Record Shop in a two-story building he purchased in the busy Wellton Street business district known as The Points. In 1944, he held his first dance concert, which his ingenuity handily saved from disaster and began booking the great names of rock and roll, rhythm and blues, gospel, jazz, etc. to cities in Colorado and surrounding states. Often referred to as the Mayor of Five Points, he was known as a cool band leader who sold race music, black hair products, and quality goods within the red lines. Smith was also a gifted sportsman who hunted, fished, and pitched on black baseball teams. He soon added the words and Sporting Goods to the already expanded merchandise found in his shop, offering fishing and hunting licenses with gear. He became Colorado's first black outfitter licensed to sell firearms with his sports equipment. He was named an honorary game warden and after lobbying for an officer manned lockup only three doors away an honorary police officer An audacious masonic leader Leroy fought city hall to bring black Shiners to his ingeniously desegregated Denver hotels for conventions He paid to advertise his ventures on the radio by becoming his own disc jockey on his midnight Rockin with Leroy show His sharp instincts for enterprise and entertainment lifted him into business cultural mining and other endeavors that inspired the diverse neighborhood to action His political inclinations led him to success in opening the second floor of his building as the Voters Club a swinging night club with live music and famed visitors which he used to rally African Americans to vote and fight for their American civil rights All proceeds from sale of this scrapbook of photos letters and memories are destined solely for the support of Denver s Black American West Museum Heritage Center From Every Mountainside R. Drew Smith,2013-06-27 It has become popular to confine discussion of the American civil rights movement to the mid twentieth century South From Every Mountainside contains essays that refuse to bracket the quest for civil rights in this manner treating the subject as an enduring topic yet to be worked out in American politics and society Individual essays point to the multiple directions the quest for civil rights has taken into the North and West and into policy areas left unresolved since the end of the 1960s including immigrant and gay rights health care for the uninsured and the persistent denials of black voting rights and school equality In exploring these issues the volume s contributors shed light on distinctive regional dimensions of African American political and church life that bear in significant ways on both the mobilization of civil rights activism and the achievement of its goals Denver's Favorite Places Jackie Shumaker,2006 Updated to include 30 new photographs and descriptions of your favorite places Denver s best selling Littlebook presents a fresh view of the ever changing metro area Showcased are many of the cultural recreational and historical treasures that make the Mile High City unique Also new to this edition is the forward by Denver Mayor John Hickenlooper African American Political Thought and American Culture Alex Zamalin,2015-10-07 This book demonstrates how certain African American writers radically re envisioned core American ideals in order to make them serviceable for racial justice Each writer s unprecedented reconstruction of key American values has the potential to energize American citizenship today Organizing Black America: An Encyclopedia of African American Associations Nina Mjagkij,2003-12-16 With information on over 500 organizations their founders and membership this unique encyclopedia is an invaluable resource on the history of African American activism Entries on both historical and contemporary organizations include African Aid Society African Americans forHumanism Black Academy of Arts and Letters BlackWomen s Liberation Committee Minority Women in Science National Association of Black Geologists andGeophysicists National Dental Association NationalMedical Association Negro Railway Labor ExecutivesCommittee Pennsylvania Freedmen s Relief Association Women s Missionary Society African Methodist EpiscopalChurch and many more
