All-Attainment Teaching in Secondary Mathematics Colin Jackson, 2022-02-09 This book is about the promotion of all attainment teaching in the mathematics classroom The book contains the individual stories of six teachers working in three different schools an inner London comprehensive with a largely working class intake a comprehensive on the south coast and a rural comprehensive in Cambridgeshire Each story describes and explains in brief the background of the teacher and how each came to teach all attainment groups in mathematics The research reported in this book is the only close examination and analysis of the practices and methodologies of successful all attainment educators in the modern age Three major themes are identified and examined what sustains the teachers how they introduce develop and maintain all attainment teaching and how they make all attainment work in the classroom From an analysis of these findings the book presents two interrelated models of the knowledge and understandings the research has generated The first one is an overarching model of situation and horizon Used as a means of visualizing and understanding the current situation for teachers it can aid in encouraging change for the better The second model offers teachers a way to think of all attainment teaching as an enabler for all students most especially for disadvantaged students Both models have original and explanatory power and offer new ways of conceptualizing how mathematics teaching for social justice might be understood and implemented offering fresh perspectives and unique insights As such it will be of help to students at undergraduate Masters and doctoral level and to education researchers more widely

Sessional Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1892 Darwen Born, Blackburn Bred: Growing up in the Age of Affluence Paul Laxton, 2016-05-25 This book is not a scholarly work of history nor is it truly a memoir or an autobiography as I am under no illusions that my life merits that kind of treatment My standpoint is that of the participant observer and the backdrop is provided by the proud communities of Blackburn and Darwen where my family lived where I was educated and where I worked before moving on to make my own way in life I am sure that the experiences I describe will resonate with readers in many other once prosperous industrial areas The key theme of this book is what is what like to grow up in working class communities during what I have called the Age of Affluence the thirty years that followed World War Two in which the working people of the United Kingdom for the only time in our industrial history experienced unbroken full employment and saw their lives transformed as a consequence

Fragments Graham Spaid,2024-10-15 Memoir that revels in glimmering snapshot impressions subtle and intriguing absurd comedy hilarious Foreword Clarion Reviews These are real memories This volume has two parts The first The big bad teacher describes school teaching and private tuition in inner city London plus some memories of my own schooldays The second Doing violence to the fruit describes my life in Greece There is pathos humour compassion irony resignation In my photos the streets are bare These are the streets I walked on When I look at them now I fill them with the people I knew Reading Fragments you may do the same There are plenty of expats See Dead Dave and some lively English girls a kissing consul and a smoking monk You ll meet my Greek neighbours along with a pungent landlady Join me and Bryan on the paths of Mt Athos and even stay the night in a monastery or two In London you ll find Monica Help her put her pen back together then watch us deal with her prying family Yawn along with the parrot in my boring old lesson and keep up with Kirin as he stays a step ahead of the awful Mummy There are more rebellious kids and a few impressionable ones like Varahna the piranha and the sideways heart From the author Fragments anecdotes random or loosely ordered like memory However much you want to you can t get the past back again I ve tried to do it here in lots of little ways
