Transformation of Tradition and Culture ???????? Miho Tsukamoto, 2018-02-07 The book Transformation of Tradition and Culture is a work of comparative literary research and culture investigation. The book studies world literatures from the USA, the DR Mexico, Spain, Portuguese and Japan. US cultures such as the Barbie doll, Mexican mural studies, Japanese subcultures, manga, anime movies and food culture, media study and women in society. It is a book of an author's experiences, culture and historical footsteps with people from all over the world. Sharing one's own culture with people from different cultural backgrounds is vital for everyone to learn about their own culture, languages, society, economy, politics and customs.

Origination Andy Pike, 2015-03-24 Origination: The Geographies of Brands and Branding offers innovative theoretical and conceptual frameworks relating to the ways that actors create meaning and value in commodity brands and branding through processes of geographical association. Provides innovative conceptualization and theorization to facilitate an understanding of the geographical dimensions of brands and branding. Challenges current interpretations of brands as vehicles of homogenization in globalization. Establishes the theoretical and conceptual foundations of a more geographically sensitive approach through rigorous empirical examination of the under-researched geographical differentiation of commodity brands and branding. Presents innovative new research and analysis of the socio-spatial biographies of the Newcastle Brown Ale, Burberry and Apple brands. Forges strong new connections between political and cultural economy approaches within geography. Provides a distinctive and incisive conceptual and theoretical framework capable of engaging other branded commodities and their branding in other times and places. OPSC General Studies Paper 1 (For Odisha Civil Service Preliminary Exams) 2021

Empires and Colonial Incarceration in the Twentieth Century Philip J. Havik,Helena Pinto Janeiro,Pedro Aires Oliveira,Irene Flunser Pimentel,2021-09-26 This book engages with a controversial issue namely the establishment of penal colonies and concentration camps in imperial spaces which have informed ongoing debates on the repressive practices of colonial rule and popular resistance against it The contributors offer a reassessment of the history of politically motivated incarceration based upon a multi disciplinary perspective in a global imperial setting during the twentieth century The introduction and seven chapters engage with comparative and transnational perspectives on political persecution forced confinement and colonial rule in British French German Belgian and Portuguese dominions in Africa Asia Oceania and Latin America Addressing political incarceration s global imperial dimensions they focus upon the organisation strategies narratives and practices associated with political internment in Africa Angola Tanzania Rhodesia South Africa Latin America French Guyana and the Pacific region New Caledonia Penal legislation policies of convict transport and political imprisonment resettlement prison regimes resistance and liberation struggles counter insurgency prisoner agency and prisons as cultural spaces and of memory are discussed here for different time periods from the mid 1800s to the late twentieth century The chapters build upon the ongoing debate on political incarceration in the empire and the remarkable dynamic scientific research witnessed over the last decades As a result they provide novel insights into the nature of legal systems colonial discourse memory racial segregation and persecution prisoners narratives of practices of punishment and incarceration and human rights abuses in imperial spaces The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of The Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History The editors have also written an original conclusion to the present volume Arctic Marine Sustainability Eva Pongrácz,Victor Pavlov,Niko Hänninen,2020-03-06 This book presents the latest scientific views on resource use conflicts in the Arctic seas The main areas of focus are the biological resources of Arctic seas vs exploitation of oil and gas resources and the conflicts in between In addition climate change is presented as a stressor which both limits and facilitates the economic availability of resources in the Arctic The book is divided into five parts Part 1 examines Arctic ecosystems resilience of the marine environment and possible conflicts between industrial sector and biological world The focus of Part 2 is on transport infrastructure along the northern routes Issues such as Arctic maritime operations black carbon and unmanned aerial vehicles are considered Part 3 focuses on resource use conflicts in Arctic seas and on the most recent threats in terms of Arctic oil and gas exploration offshore logistics operations as well as transportation of oil and oil products Discussions in Part 4 of the book are concentrated around social aspects and involvement of local communities Tourism development preservation of indigenous culture engagement of communities on relevant Arctic issues search and rescue in the cold marine environment are examples of questions raised The book reviews Arctic specific petroleum regulations the state of preparedness to oil spill accidents in the region as well as the latest developments in oil spill response technologies and their limitations Search and rescue operations are reviewed and how working in this harsh Arctic environment affects the ability of rescue technicians to perform the required technical skills Part 5 considers the sustainability challenges arising from the marine resource exploitation The focus is on the vulnerability of Arctic ecosystems to disturbance both natural and anthropogenic Geopolitics by Other Means Antonella Mori,2019-03-07 The Asia Pacific has become the Indo Pacific region as the US Japan Australia and India have decided to join forces and scale up their political economic and security cooperation The message coming from Washington Tokyo Canberra and New Delhi is clear China s Belt and Road Initiative BRI is no longer the only game in town and Beijing s policymakers better get ready for fierce competition Japan s ongoing and future quality infrastructure policies and investments in the Indo Pacific in particular make it very clear that Tokyo wants a much bigger slice of the pie of infrastructure investments in the region China s territorial expansionism in the South China Sea and its increasing interests and presence in countries in South Asia have done their share to help the four aforesaid countries expand their security and defence ties Beijing of course smells containment in all of this and it probably has a point Who will have the upper hand in shaping and defining Asian security and providing developing South and Southeast Asia with badly needed infrastructure the US and Japan together with its allies or the increasingly assertive and uncompromising China and its Belt and Road Initiative

City of Forests, City of Farms Lindsay K. Campbell, 2017-10-15 City of Forests City of Farms is a history of recent urban forestry and agriculture policy and programs in New York City Centered on the 2007 initiative PlaNYC this account tracks the development of policies that increased sustainability efforts in the city and dedicated more than 400 million dollars to trees via the MillionTreesNYC campaign Lindsay K Campbell uses PlaNYC to consider how and why nature is constructed in New York City Campbell regards sustainability planning as a process that unfolds through the strategic interplay of actors the deployment of different narrative frames and the mobilizing and manipulation of the physical environment which affects nonhuman animals and plants as well as the city's residents Campbell zeroes in on a core omission in PlaNYC's original conception and funding Despite NYC having a long tradition of community gardening particularly since the fiscal crisis of the 1970s the plan contained no mention of community gardens or urban farms Campbell charts the change of course that resulted from burgeoning public interest in urban agriculture and local food systems She shows how civic groups and elected officials crafted a series of visions and plans for local food systems that informed the 2011 update to PlaNYC City of Forests City of Farms is a valuable tool that allows us to understand and disentangle the political decisions popular narratives and physical practices that shape city greening in New York City and elsewhere

The Urban University and the Knowledge Economy Patrizia Ingallina, 2025-10-03 This book presents international experiences of territorial strategies and urban projects in which universities have played a major role over the past fifteen years through spatial planning and within a multiscalar approach This approach constitutes the book's first originality illustrating the complexity of certain cases such as New York London or the Greater Paris Metropolis by highlighting the significant interconnections between spatial and institutional scales The second innovative aspect lies in the selection of case studies some of which are addressed for the first time in international literature Benguerir in Morocco Bergamo in Italy Grenoble Lille Marseille and Lyon in France and Hanoi in Vietnam while others are still little known from the perspective of university planning and its political and economic role in major metropolitan areas Greater Paris Metropolis Seoul The third key point explores the opportunity to directly compare well established Western metropolises like New York and London with the evolving Greater Paris Metropolis It also highlights Montreal a city blending Anglo Saxon and French influences while seeking its own unique path Additionally Asia's dynamic role is explored from China's innovative university planning to Hanoi's ambitious projects and Seoul's tension between national policies and metropolitan ambitions All chapters have been designed to raise questions provoke reflections and develop a perspective on the ongoing evolution of territorial strategies that leverage universities and the research conducted within them as a means to drive economic growth and increase productivity These strategies also converge toward an image of the city as a knowledge hub facilitating relationships between universities businesses and city users Shattered Nation Danny Dorling,2023-09-19 Britain is broken but how did it become so divided Britain was once the leading economy in Europe it is now the most unequal In A Shattered Nation leading geographer and author of Inequality and the 1% shows that we are growing further and further apart Visiting sites across the British Isles and exploring the social fissures that have emerged Danny Dorling exposes a new geography of inequality Middle England has been hit hard by the cost of living crisis and even people doing comparatively well are struggling to stay afloat Once affluent suburbs are now unproductive places where opportunity has been replaced by food banks Before COVID life expectancy had dropped as a result of poverty for the first time since the 1930s Fifty years ago the UK led the world in child health today twenty two of the twenty seven EU countries have better mortality rates for newborns No other European country has such miserly unemployment benefits university fees so high housing so unaffordable or a government economically so far to the right In the spirit of the 1942 Beveridge Report Dorling identifies the five giants of twenty first century poverty that need to be conquered Hunger Precarity Waste Exploitation and Fear He offers powerful insights into how we got here and what we must do in order to save Britain from becoming a failed state

Energy Resources and Policies for Sustainability A. Tadeu,2020-04-15 An increasing interest in renewable energy resources and the search for maintainable energy policies have inspired the research contributions included in this book Energy production and distribution need to respond to the modern world s dependence on conventional fuels To achieve this collaborative research is required between multiple disciplines including materials energy networks new energy resources storage solutions waste to energy systems smart grids and many other related subjects Energy policies and management are of primary importance for sustainability and need to be consistent with recent advances in energy production and distribution Challenges lie as much in the conversion from renewable energies such as wind and solar to useful forms like electricity heat and fuel at an acceptable cost including environmental damage as in the integration of these resources into existing infrastructure
