1journal Impact Factor Ranking:

Numerical Correlation between Impact Factor and Web Ranking of Electronic Scientific Journals Using Regression Analysis Giorgos Kouropoulos, Γιώργος Κουρόπουλος, 2017-12-15 The present study attempts to examine the numerical correlation between web ranking of electronic scientific journals and impact factor of these journals using the method of regression analysis Regression analysis allows the option of investigating and predicting the numerical relationship between website ranking of scientific journals on the World Wide Web and the value of impact factor of the journals A sample of 57 publishers with 6 272 scientific journals and 50 standalone scientific journals was analyzed during research procedure In this study two different indicators about websites classification on World Wide Web were examined separately for 57 publishers and 50 standalone journals Alexa rank and Statscrops rank The electronic databases through the internet constitute the main information resources of this study about the impact factors The general conclusion that arises is that the impact factor of electronic scientific journals illustrates a very strong positive correlation with classification of websites on the World Wide Web Furthermore it is concluded that the change of web ranking as a function of impact factor is governed by a Gaussian function or rational function with lower Pearson coefficient and presents non linearly correlation Even if there is very strong correlation between impact factor and web rank for electronic journals the prediction of impact factor from web rank is not possible and presents many divergences

Journals of the Century Tony Stankus, 2019-12-06 This book first published in 2002 gathers some of America s top subject expert librarians to determine the most influential journals in their respective fields 32 contributing authors reviewed journals from over twenty countries that have successfully shaped the evolution of their individual specialties worldwide Their choices reflect the history of each discipline or profession taking into account rivalries between universities professional societies for profit and not for profit publishers and even nation states and international ideologies in each journal s quest for reputational dominance Each journal was judged using criteria such as longevity of publication foresight in carving out its niche ability to attract none are in the employ of any publisher but each is fully credentialed and well published and many are award winners The authors guide college and professional school librarians on limited budgets via an exposition of their analytical and critical winnowing process in determining the classic resources for their faculty students and working professional clientele

Multidimensional Journal Evaluation Stefanie Haustein, 2012-04-26 Scientific communication depends primarily on publishing in journals The most important indicator to determine the influence of a journal is the Impact Factor Since this factor only measures the average number of citations per article in a certain time window it can be argued that it does not reflect the actual value of a periodical This book defines five dimensions which build a framework for a multidimensional method of journal evaluation The author is winner of the Eugene Garfield Doctoral Dissertation Scholarship 2011

Global University Rankings T. Erkkilä, 2013-09-26 Global University Rankings explores the novel topic of global university rankings and their effects on higher education in Europe The contributions in this volume outline different discourses on global university rankings and explore the related changes concerning European higher education policies disciplinary traditions and higher education institutions The first global university rankings were published less than a decade ago but these policy instruments have become highly influential in shaping the approaches and institutional realities of higher education The rankings have portrayed European academic institutions in a varying light There is intense reflexivity over the figures leading to ideational changes and institutional adaptation that take surprisingly similar forms in different European countries The contributions in this book critically assess global university rankings as a policy discourse that would seem to be instrumental to higher education reform throughout Europe
