Getting to the Common Core Sharon L. Spencer,Sandra Vavra,2015-01-01 The Common Core Standards have recently been adopted in most states across the nation and teachers are in the process of getting to the core of these standards Teaching to standards is not a new concept teachers have adapted to new standards every few years for quite some time And teachers are adaptable as can be seen in this book We are writing this book to demonstrate how teachers use research based strategies to meet Common Core Standards while still focusing on students Our goal is to help teachers visualize students in action as other teachers describe the implementation of research based strategies in their own classrooms show student work samples and provide reflections of student success in achieving the standards Many Common Core Standards books focus on the standards but our approach focuses on strategies that engage the students in the classroom showing how different teachers at varying grade levels have used the strategies to meet the standards With this focus we believe that teachers gain a new and positive perspective on approaching the new standards and see the flexibility of strategies for meeting standards across subject areas We have examined research on the strategies with the purpose of giving teachers a brief description of why these strategies work before giving actual examples from classrooms We also work closely with teachers in the public schools and have our finger on the pulse of what is happening in the public schools one of the current stressors being unpacking the Common Core Standards This book actually focuses on practice We begin by laying out a rationale in our first chapter The Core Value s of Education Then each chapter focuses on a strategy including 1 a brief description about the research supporting each strategy and 2 several examples from different grade levels which include a description of how the strategy was used student work samples and a reflection on the use of the strategy The research descriptions are fairly short because while we believe professional educators aka teachers in this case should know the research that supports practice we know they are not typically interested in long diatribes about the research Daily organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for profit farmers for profit processors for profit wholesalers and for profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumers own money but a significant amount is purchased by low income individuals using food stamps Why can t education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for profit enterprises to provide our food Why can t we trust for profit enterprises to provide K 12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for profit K 12 education sector would please and amaze its customers Standardization in X-Ray CT Imaging-GALACTIC-(Second edition) ,2019-03-28 General Statements Recommended Protocols Head Head and Neck Chest Cardiovascular Abdomen Emergency Pediatrics Orthopedics Reference Protocols Appendix Energy Poverty Antoine Halff,Benjamin K. Sovacool,Jon Rozhon,2014-11-27 This edited volume looks at energy poverty an issue whose pivotal role in the fight for human development is only now being recognised by policymakers Nearly one quarter of humanity still lacks access to electricity Close to one third rely on traditional fuels like firewood and cow dung for cooking at great cost to their health and welfare While most prevalent in parts of Africa and Asia energy poverty is a global problem which concerns us all This book which brings together economists policymakers entrepreneurs and other practitioners from all over the world is dedicated to a single goal finding a solution to this haunting problem It is part history part economics part political analysis part business case review and part field handbook Part One focuses on defining and measuring the problem and benchmarking progress in solving it an obvious prerequisite to any successful energy access policy Part Two reviews past and current energy access programs with an eye towards finding out what worked and what didn t and what can be replicated elsewhere These case reviews are told as seen on the ground China s experience by top Chinese officials and Africa s by African regulators and scholars Based in part on those cases the book s last more forward looking section aims to present practitioners with a tool kit a menu of options to speed up their efforts The energy access agenda is gaining traction at a time of rising concerns about climate change and resource constraints This book shows that bringing modern energy to those who lack it not just a moral imperative but will likely benefit the world as a whole without harming the environment or unduly stretching finite resources

Teaching History with Big Ideas S. G. Grant,Jill M. Gradwell,2010-07-16 In the case studies that make up the bulk of this book middle and high school history teachers describe the decisions and plans and the problems and possibilities they encountered as they ratcheted up their instruction through the use of big ideas Framing a teaching unit around a question such as Why don t we know anything about Africa offers both teacher and students opportunities to explore historical actors ideas and events in ways both rich and engaging Such an approach exemplifies the construct of ambitious teaching whereby teachers demonstrate their ability to marry their deep knowledge of subject matter students and the school context in ways that fundamentally challenge the claim that history is boring Cancer Vincent T.
