Corporate Social Responsibility John O. Okpara,Samuel O. Idowu,2013-12-02 In today s global business environment it is no longer acceptable that a corporation does well simply by doing good It is expected With increasing pressures from stakeholders to improve the bottom line as well as to be good corporate citizens business leaders face tough decisions What social issues should we support What initiatives should we develop that will do the most good for the company as well as the cause Do we include social messages in our advertising encourage our employees to volunteer do we modify our business practices How do we integrate a new initiative into current strategies These and other challenges will continue to face future leaders This book provides thoughtful answers to these important questions and to many more The book offers suggestions on how to choose among major worthy causes and also how to measure the amount of good

achieved both for the recipients and the companies themselves Of course all is not only about challenges there are loads of opportunities that go along with them but it is only responsible and sustainable leaders who would be able to spot these opportunities That is the future which awaits 21st century leaders

Exchange traded fund savings plans as old-age provision tool in Germany , 2021-03-01
 Future German pensioners will face a pension gap in retirement age if they base their income exclusively on the statutory pension Conventional private pension alternatives are not lucrative but they are still the most widely used Exchange traded funds ETFs have features that make them particularly attractive for pension provision The aim of this dissertation is to discover which factors influence the acceptance formation process and thus the usage of ETFs Therefore a model is developed that is based conceptually on the widely known technology acceptance model TAM and theoretically on the results of a comprehensive literature analysis which summarises already identified obstacles within old age provision This model is then tested using an online survey on future German pensioners aged between 19 and 59 years n 615 The descriptive statistics are then calculated for the recorded data and subsequently the relationships within the variable model are analysed for significant dependencies The results show that the assumed external variables have an influence on the acceptance of ETFs In particular the variable of financial literacy as an indicator of a person's general financial knowledge turns out to be of overriding importance within the acceptance formation process Furthermore the results show that the use of an ETF is well recognised but that it is still too complex to obtain information or acquire an ETF which ultimately hampers acceptance formation and thus the use Finally two concepts are developed that would have a positive influence on acceptance in different ways they focus on different variables and behavioural patterns that still act as obstacles thereby increasing the overall use of ETFs in Germany
