Metrics Vincanne Adams, 2016-03-05 This volume s contributors evaluate the accomplishments limits and consequences of using quantitative metrics in global health Whether analyzing maternal mortality rates the relationships between political goals and metrics data or the links between health outcomes and a program s fiscal support the contributors question the ability of metrics to solve global health problems They capture a moment when global health scholars and practitioners must evaluate the potential effectiveness and pitfalls of different metrics even as they remain elusive and problematic Contributors Vincanne Adams Susan Erikson Molly Hales Pierre Minn Adeola Oni Orisan Carolyn Smith Morris Marlee Tichenor Lily Walkover Claire L Wendland Rankings and the Reshaping of Higher Education Ellen Hazelkorn, 2015-03-23 University rankings have gained popularity around the world and are now a significant factor shaping reputation This second edition updates Ellen Hazelkorn's first comprehensive study of rankings from a global perspective drawing in new original research and extensive analysis It is essential reading for policymakers managers and scholars Gender and Divorce Law in North Africa

Maaïke Voorhoeve, 2014-04-25 Personal status laws remain a highly politicized area of debate in the Middle East as the arena in which the contentious issues of women's rights religion and minority groups meet This is especially so when it comes to divorce In Tunisia with the moderate Islamist party Ennahda winning the first elections following the 2011 revolution questions of religion in public life have gained greater primacy The country is often hailed for its progressive personal status code seen as an exception to the practice in many other Muslim countries Polygamy is banned for example and in divorce cases there is gender equality However Tunisia's legal system contains many gaps and leaves much room for interpretation Bearing in mind this importance of the role of Islam in judicial courts Maaïke Voorhoeve investigates whether the more progressive and ostensibly secular principles enshrined in Tunisia's Personal Status Code of 1956 are in fact adhered to in divorce cases And if not whether judges frequently turn to the Sharia custom or societal norms as their primary sources of guidance Through extensive research in the Tunisian courts Voorhoeve investigates the different types of divorce the arguments presented to the court and the consequent legal decisions made She focuses on the role of female judges testing the assumption that they adjudicate in a more gender neutral way and examining the impact they have had on Tunisian legal culture and through this Tunisian society Gender and Divorce Law in North Africa therefore sheds light on the wide reaching debate throughout North Africa and the Middle East concerning the role of Islam and Sharia in the public political legal and private spheres This debate which often pits secularists against Islamists but is in reality much more nuanced is key in a variety of fields including Middle East studies and Islamic law The New Class Society Earl Wysong, Robert

Perrucci, David Wright, 2013-07-11 The New Class Society introduces students to the sociology of class structure and inequalities as it asks whether or not the American dream has faded The fourth edition of this powerful book demonstrates how and why class inequalities in the United States have been widened hardened and become more entrenched than ever The fourth edition has been extensively revised and reorganized throughout including a new introduction that offers an overview of key themes and shorter chapters that cover a wider range of topics New material for the fourth edition includes a discussion of The Great Recession and its ongoing impact the demise of the middle class rising costs of college and increasing student debt the role of electronic media in shaping people's perceptions of class and more Failed States and Institutional Decay Natasha M. Ezrow, Erica Frantz, 2013-07-18 What do we mean by failed states and why is this concept important to study The failed states literature is important because it aims to understand how state institutions or lack thereof impact conflict crime coups terrorism and economic performance In spite of this objective the failed state literature has not focused enough on how institutions operate in the developing world This book unpacks the state by examining the administrative security judicial and political institutions separately By doing so the book offers a more comprehensive and clear picture of how the state functions or does not function in the developing world merging the failed state and institutionalist literatures Rather than merely describing states in crisis this book explains how and why different types of institutions deteriorate Moreover the book illustrates the impact that institutional decay has on political instability and poverty using examples not only from Africa but from all around the world

The Process of Stratification Robert M. Hauser, David L. Featherman, 2013-09-03 The Process of Stratification Trends and Analyses discusses the conceptual scheme developed by Blau and Duncan The book elaborates Blau and Duncan's description and analysis of socioeconomic inequality stratification and inequality of opportunity in American society during the early 1960s The authors review the assumptions and methods they point to a different direction from the widely held assumption that occupational socioeconomic status is the primary determinant to mobility They also use the Alphabetical Index as the basis for better collection method on data relating to occupation industry and class of worker As regards occupational mobility the authors note that such mobility is limited by the depletion of occupational groups that higher status occupations have sourced from They also point that American society is homogenous in the sense of the determinants of socioeconomic achievements can exert influence The authors then discuss an exercise in theory construction of intergenerational transmission of income They conclude that income mobility is similar to occupational or educational mobility to be more precise they note that empirical evidence should be gathered This book can prove useful for economists sociologists policy makers as well as academicians involved in societal studies

Demacopoulos, Aristotle Papanikolaou, 2013-09-02 The category of the West has played a particularly significant role in the modern Eastern Orthodox imagination It has functioned as an absolute marker of difference from what is considered to be the essence of Orthodoxy and thus ironically has become a constitutive aspect of the modern Orthodox self The essays collected in this volume examine the many factors that contributed to the Eastern construction of the West in order to understand why the West is so important to the Eastern Christian's sense of self
