John Lennon with Bob Marley and hanging with Frank Sinatra And beyond the world of popular music we witness memorable encounters with writers like Graham Greene painters like Andy Warhol and Salvador Dali and scores of notable misfits miscreants eccentrics and geniuses known and unknown Even if they re not famous in their own right they are stars on the page and we discover how they inspired the indelible lyrics to songs such as Tiny Dancer Candle in the Wind Bennie and The Jets and so many more Unique and utterly compelling Scattershot will transport the reader across the decades and around the globe along the way meeting some of the greatest creative minds of the 20th century and into the vivid imaginings of one of music s most legendary lyricists

Creating Their Own Image Lisa E. Farrington, 2005 Creating Their Own Image marks the first comprehensive history of African American women artists from slavery to the present day Using an analysis of stereotypes of Africans and African Americans in western art and culture as a springboard Lisa E Farrington here richly details hundreds of important works many of which deliberately challenge these same identity myths of the carnal Jezebel the asexual Mammy the imperious

Matriarch in crafting a portrait of artistic creativity unprecedented in its scope and ambition In these lavishly illustrated pages some of which feature images never before published we learn of the efforts of Elizabeth Keckley fashion designer to Mary Todd Lincoln the acclaimed sculptor Edmonia Lewis internationally renowned for her neoclassical works in marble and the artist Nancy Elizabeth Prophet and her innovative teaching techniques We meet Laura Wheeler Waring who portrayed women of color as members of a socially elite class in stark contrast to the prevalent images of compliant maids impoverished malcontents and exotics others that proliferated in the inter war period We read of the painter Barbara Jones Hugu s collaboration on the famed Wall of Respect even as we view a rare photograph of Hugu in the process of painting the mural Farrington expertly guides us through the fertile period of the Harlem Renaissance and the New Negro Movement which produced an entirely new crop of artists who consciously imbued their work with a social and political agenda and through the tumultuous explosive years of the civil rights movement Drawing on revealing interviews with numerous contemporary artists such as Betye Saar Faith Ringgold Nanette Carter Camille Billops Xenobia Bailey and many others the second half of Creating Their Own Image probes more recent stylistic developments such as abstraction conceptualism and post modernism never losing sight of the struggles and challenges that have consistently influenced this body of work Weaving together an expansive collection of artists styles and periods Farrington argues that for centuries African American women artists have created an alternative vision of how women of color can are and might be represented in American culture From utilitarian objects such as quilts and baskets to a wide array of fine arts Creating Their Own Image serves up compelling evidence of the fundamental human need to convey one s life one s emotions one s experiences on a canvas of one s own making

Stepdaughters of History Catherine Clinton, 2016-11-02 In Stepdaughters of History noted scholar Catherine Clinton reflects on the roles of women as historical actors within the field of Civil War studies and examines the ways in which historians have redefined female wartime participation Clinton contends that despite the recent attention white and black women s contributions remain shrouded in myth and sidelined in traditional historical narratives Her work tackles some of these well worn assumptions dismantling prevailing attitudes that consign women to the footnotes of Civil War texts Clinton highlights some of the debates led by emerging and established Civil War scholars which seek to demolish demeaning and limiting stereotypes of southern women as simpering belles stoic Mammies Rebel spitfires or sultry spies Such caricatures mask the more concrete and compelling struggles within the Confederacy and in Clinton s telling a far more balanced and vivid understanding of women s roles within the wartime South emerges New historical evidence has given rise to fresh insights including important revisionist literature on women s overt and covert participation in activities designed to challenge the rebellion and on white women s roles in reshaping the war s legacy in postwar narratives Increasingly Civil War scholarship integrates those women who defied gender conventions to assume men s roles including those few who gained notoriety as spies scouts or soldiers during the war As Clinton s work demonstrates the larger questions of women s wartime contributions remain important correctives to our understanding of the war's impact Through a fuller appreciation of the dynamics of sex and race Stepdaughters of History promises a broader conversation in the twenty first century inviting readers to continue to confront the conundrums of the American Civil War Spies smugglers nurses plantation mistresses liberators of slaves traders writers freedom fighters wives and mothers Catherine Clinton considers the many roles of diverse groups of southern women from the Civil War to the late nineteenth century in these lively and provocative essays Jacqueline Jones author of Labor of Love Labor of Sorrow Black Women Work and the Family from Slavery to the Present Clinton's sweeping synthesis is a timely call for rethinking women's roles in the Civil War Her panoramic view of the existing scholarship her revealing new histories and the questions that she raises for the future offer a rich scholarly feast that is useful for undergraduates and seasoned historians alike Glenda Elizabeth Gilmore Peter V and C Vann Woodward Professor of History Yale University Stepdaughters of History is a timely treatise on the legacy of the Civil War and how Americans both remember and forget the women who dreamt and helped build the landscape with which we reside The writing is accessible and engaging Clinton integrates gender studies political history and current events into this slim volume and challenges us to continue to build a Civil War historiography that is full and more honest Deirdre Cooper Owens professor of history Queens College CUNY Catherine Clinton delights in disentangling the ambiguities and contradictions of the experiences of southern women whether they were free or enslaved or rich or poor in Stepdaughters of History In this beautifully written volume she explores how the field of Civil War history has demolished the Lost Cause shibboleths of the devoted mammy and the submissive plantation mistress Clinton reminds us that history should never offer the comfort of a bedtime story and in Stepdaughters of History there is plenty for us to ponder late into the night Peter Carmichael director of the Civil War Institute and author of The Last Generation Young Virginians in Peace War and Reunion Garage Sale & Flea Market Annual Sharon Huxford, Collector Books, 2003-02-15 Packed with descriptions and current values for items readily available at flea markets or garage sales this book contains listings for 25 000 collectables representing virtually every collectable category on today's market old books ornaments toys cookie jars and movie memorabilia 750 photos
