Ausaid Ngo Accreditation Guidance Manual:

The Routledge Handbook of Religions and Global Development Emma Tomalin, 2015-02-11 This Handbook provides a cutting edge survey of the state of research on religions and global development Part one highlights critical debates that have emerged within research on religions and development particularly with respect to theoretical conceptual and methodological considerations from the perspective of development studies and its associated disciplines Parts two to six look at different regional and national development contexts and the place of religion within these These parts integrate and examine the critical debates raised in part one within empirical case studies from a range of religions and regions Different religions are situated within actual locations and case studies thus allowing a detailed and contextual understanding of their relationships to development to emerge Part seven examines the links between some important areas within development policy and practice where religion is now being considered including Faith Based Organisations and Development Public Health Religion and Development Human rights Religion and Development Sustainable Development Climate Change and Religion Global Institutions and Religious Engagement in Development Economic Development and Religion Religion Development and Fragile States Development and Faith Based Education Taking a global approach the Handbook covers Africa Latin America South Asia East and South East Asia and the Middle East It is essential reading for students and researchers in development studies and religious studies and is highly relevant to those working in area studies as well as a range of disciplines from theology anthropology and economics to geography international relations politics and sociology

Stakeholders Ian Smillie, Henny Helmich, Judith Randel, Tony German, 2013-11-05 This unique study from the OECD Development Centre presents a comprehensive review by independent experts of the relationships and division of responsibility between the 22 member governments of the OECD Development Assistance Committee DAC and NGOs from these donor countries working in international development Additional chapters cover the roles of the European Union and the World Bank Among other themes the book looks at two very significant issues First at the way in which an overemphasis on evaluation may be leading NGOs to focus purely on measuring their output thus choosing activities which are easily accountable Second it examines the important impacts of the evolution in the funding relationship between governments and NGOs from matching grants to contracts where NGOs must increasingly compete for contracts

Politics of Human Rights in Southeast Asia Philip J. Eldridge, 2013-01-11 The divide between the West and Southeast Asia seems to be nowhere more apparent than in debates about human rights Within these diverse geographical political and cultural climates human rights seem to have become relative and the quest for absolutes seems unattainable In this new book Philip J Eldridge seeks to question this stalemate He argues that the Association of Southeast Asian Nations inclusion in United Nations human rights treaties could be the common ground that bridges the gap between East and West Eldridge uses topical case studies and primary research from Malaysia Indonesia East Timor and Australia to compare the effectiveness of United Nations human rights directives on local democracies This study presents insightful research into a hotly debated topic As such it will be a thought provoking resource for students of human rights politics and international relations Landmine Monitor Report 2000 ,2000 East Timor Taiwan Australian National Bibliography ,1994-06 ACFOA Development Dossier ,1996 Global Civil Society 2007/8 Professor Martin Albrow,Professor Helmut K Anheier,Marlies Glasius,Monroe E Price,Professor Mary Kaldor,2007-11-21 The annual Global Civil Society Yearbooks provide an indispensable guide to global civil society or civic participation and action around the world The 2007 8 Yearbook focuses on the potentially powerful relationship between communication and democracy promotion The Global Civil Society Yearbook remains the standard work on all aspects of contemporary global civil society for activists practitioners students and academics alike The DAC Journal ,2005 The DAC Journal 2000 Austria, Australia Volume 1 Issue 2 OECD,2000-05-08 The journal of the OECD Development Assistance Committee This issue presents Development Co operation Reviews of Austria and Australia Surrogates of the State Michael Jennings,2008 Uses an instructive historical event to show how NGOs with good intentions are sometimes capable of supporting harmful government policies A fascinating picture of the players involved in misguided development program In Surrogates of the State Jennings explores the delicate relationship between development NGOs and the states they work in using his exhaustive and illuminating case study of Tanzania in the 1960s and 70s During that time Tanzania instituted the rural socialist Ujamaa program resulting in the forced resettlement of 6 million people to villages transforming the map of the country Rather than questioning this policy NGOs working in the area as typified by Oxfam became surrogates of the state helping to carry out the program Jennings argues that the NGO community was seduced by its own interpretations of what Ujamaa represented and was consequently blinded to the dark realities of resettlement Bound by ideological chains of their own forging organizations that in other contexts have criticized over mighty states and the use of overt force NGOs committed themselves fully to Tanzania and its development policy Through this study the book uncovers not just the story of development in Tanzania in this critical period but the history of the NGO itself And in doing so raises questions about the future direction of this institution which has become so prominent in international development Forging Community-managed Primary Health Care Victoria A.
