N.B: Consists of Essay Questions for A World of Poetry.

1. The speakers in A Lesson for this Sunday and Birdshooting Season both witness an act of cruelty. Write an essay in which you describe the experience of the speaker in EACH of these poems. In this essay, you must compare the reaction of the speakers to what they have witnessed, and examine one device that is used to present the speaker's experience in EACH poem.
2. The poems Mirror and Little Boy Crying both present a painful experience. Write an essay in which you compare the pain experienced by ONE person selected from EACH poem, and comment on the effective use of allusion in EACH poem.
3. In the poems, An African Thunderstorm and Sonnet Composed upon Westminster Bridge, the speaker is impressed with the majesty of nature. Write an essay in which you describe the scene witnessed in EACH poem, and EACH speaker's reaction to that scene. You must also comment on the effective use of ONE poetic device in EACH poem.
4. Both Duice Et Decorum Est and The Woman Speaks to the Man Who Has Employed Her Son both consider the tragic loss of young lives. Write an essay in which you show from EACH poem, how and why the lives of young men too end in tragedy. In your essay, you must also show how the person affected responds to the loss and examine ONE device used in each poem to effectively convey the intensity of that response.
5. Choose two poems you have studied in which an individual is discriminated against or persecuted by others in society. Write an essay in which you outline the discrimination or persecution taking place in each poem. In this essay, you must discuss the speaker's attitude to that discrimination or persecution, and examine one device that is effectively used to evoke a response from the reader.
6. Choose two poems you have studied that deal with an individual's love of his/her native land. Write an essay in which you outline the situation that prompts each speaker to reveal that love of his/her native land and examine ONE device in EACH poem that is used to carry forward the poem's message.
7. Choose TWO poems you have studied in which the speaker is awakened to the beauty in the world around. Write an essay in which you outline the situation in which beauty is found in EACH poem. You must also examine ONE device that is effectively used to evoke a similar response from the reader.
8. Choose TWO poems you have studied in which the device of personification is effectively used. Write an essay in which you outline the situation described in EACH poem, showing, for EACH poem, what effect is created by the use of personification.
