Student body, faculty, academic programs, athletics, computers, and campus technology and admission information. Dozens of in-depth descriptions and displays offer photos of students and school campuses as well as essential information to help parents find the right private secondary school for their child. Extra Summer Programs section offers additional details on fascinating summer opportunities at private secondary schools.

R.A.C.E. Mentoring Through Social Media Donna Y. Ford, Michelle Trotman Scott, Ramon B. Goings, Tuwana T. Wingfield, Malik S. Henfield, 2016-12-01 The Ivory Tower is and can often be a lonely place for faculty of color. Social injustices run deep and are entrenched within academia. Faculty of color (FOC) more specifically Black and Hispanic often lament about the Black Brown tax that frequently takes its toll both personally and professionally and pushes them out of the academy. Similar to trends in P-12 settings, educators of color in postsecondary contexts represent less than 10% of the profession. In essence, we are an anomaly, and the implications of this are clear and dire as evidenced by persistent achievement access and expectation gaps within the academy. Scholars of color (SOC) at all stages but particularly during doctoral training frequently struggle to not just survive but to thrive in the academy. Too many fail to earn their doctoral degree with many wearing the All But Dissertation (ABD) as a badge of honor. Although ABD is not a degree, many scholars of color receive inadequate mentoring, often substandard in comparison to the handholding White students receive, which leaves far too many doctoral students of color lost, bewildered, angry, indignant, and defeated. This righteous indignation is justified but excused away using the myth of meritocracy and colorblind notions of success followed by a myriad of problems steeped in victim-blaming as noted in the classic Presumed Incompetent: The Intersections of Race and Class for Women in Academia by Gutiérrez y Muhs, Niemann, González Harris (2012). The aforementioned work was not the first treatise on higher education and how the non-status quo along with those grappling with oppression and double standards experience the profession called higher education. Moreover, The Chilly Climate (Sandler Silverberg Hall, 1996) report which focused on females was also telling but not enough was addressed and disclosed about females of color until version two. But these issues do not stop with females of color but instead extend to all faculty of color. R.A.C.E. Mentoring, a social media Facebook group with several subgroups (see Figures 1 and 2) was created by Donna Y. Ford, Michelle Trotman Scott, and Malik S. Henfield in 2013 to tackle the numerous thorny and contentious issues and challenges in higher education. We began by intentionally attending to the needs of students enrolled at mostly White universities as well as those who attended historically Black

colleges and universities while keeping the unique nuances and challenges of each setting in mind We wanted scholars of color to thrive in both Fondly and affectionately called RM our charge and challenge is to affirm the dignity and worth of scholars of color Additionally we recognize that there are scholars outside of academe and their contributions as well to impact and affect change for Black and Brown people inside and outside of academe need to be acknowledged These scholars are community organizers activists P 12 teachers and families It truly takes a village

Data Leadership for K-12 Schools in a Time of Accountability Mense, Evan G.,Crain-Dorough, Mindy,2017-12-15 The monitoring of data within educational institutions is essential to ensure the success of its students and faculty By continually analyzing data educational leaders can increase quality and productivity in their institutions Data Leadership for K 12 Schools in a Time of Accountability explores techniques and processes of educational data analysis and its application in developing solutions and systems for instructional concerns and next generation learning Providing extensive research covering areas such as data driven culture student accountability and data dissemination this unique reference is essential for principals administrators practitioners academicians students and educational consultants looking to maximize their institution s performance

Charter School Report Card Shawgi Tell,2016-04-01 What is a charter school Where do they come from Who promotes them and why What are they supposed to do Are they the silver bullet to the ills plaguing the American public education system This book provides a comprehensive and accessible overview and analysis of charter schools and their many dimensions It shows that charter schools as a whole lower the quality of education through the privatization and marketization of education The final chapter provides readers with a way toward rethinking and remaking education in a way that is consistent with modern requirements Society and its members need a fully funded high quality public education system open to all and controlled by a public authority
