demonstrates how it fluctuates between federal elections To explain why this variance exists the author examines the relationship between federal reforms such as the National Voter Registration Act NVRA and the Help America Vote Act and state level reforms such as Online Voter Registration Thessalia Merivaki argues that the weak relationship between the two is not surprising since it hides dramatic variations in administrative practices at the local level which take place in shorter intervals than the most frequently used two year estimates In closing she shows that challenges to successfully registering to vote persist largely because of how when and where eligible citizens have to register Statutes of California

Christian Tourist Attractions Mythmaking and Identity Formation examines a sampling of contemporary Christian tourist attractions that position visitors as the inheritors of ancient sacred traditions and make claims about the truth of the historical narratives that they promote Rather than approaching these attractions as sacred expressions of religious experience or as uncontested accounts of history the book applies recent work on mythmaking and identity formation to argue that these presentations of the past function as strategic discourses that serve material concerns in the present From an approach informed by social and materialist theories of religion the volume draws upon a variety of methodological approaches that enable readers to understand the often bewildering array of objects claims demands and activities not to mention the seemingly endless array of gifts and personal items available for purchase that appear at attractions including Ark Encounter the Creation Museum the Holy Land Experience Bible Walk Museum Christian Zionist tours of Israel and the recently opened Museum of the Bible Discourse analysis practice theory rhetorical criticism and embodied theories of cognition help make sense not only of the Christian tourist attractions under examination but also of the ways that religion is entangled with contemporary social political and economic interests more broadly
