Young swimmer saves schoolboy

By Elisabeth Smith

Saturday, 8 September 2015

- 1 Bongi Shabalala, a 12-year-old Grade 5 pupil, saved a schoolboy who was drowning in a dam.
- 2 Eight year old Michael Naidoo was swimming in the Rough Dam near the school on Friday afternoon. According to reports, the Grade 3 boy was trying to dive from a tree, but hit his head on a branch before falling into the water. Bongi, who was on her way home from school, saw the boy floating in the dam. She immediately dived in to save him.
- 3 Bongi brought the boy to land and performed first aid on him. The Red Cross says that if someone stops breathing you must act immediately.
- 4 Luckily, Bongi's friend, Anne Brown, was passing the place of the accident. She went to the place where Bongi was helping the boy. She called the school principal who phoned the rescue services.
- 5 Bongi will receive a reward for her bravery and for saving Michael Naidoo's life.
- 6 The principal, Mr Makhanya, warned all the school children not to go to the dam on their own.

Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities

Bosch, Chantelle, Laubscher, Dorothy Joy, Kyei-Blankson, Lydia, 2021-05-14 Challenges in the educational arena are not new phenomena However with the recent outbreak of the COVID 19 pandemic researchers and educators have been made even more aware of the need for a paradigm shift in education Blended learning as opposed to fully online learning or traditional face to face teaching has been well researched and has been found to have the potential to provide better educational solutions in challenging contexts These contexts range from pandemic situations where social distancing is the order of the day to financial and time constraints regarding full time study as well as limited physical capacity at institutions Blended learning solutions are often designed for resourceful institutions and cannot be easily implemented in developing countries and in communities where resources are limited Typical issues like connectivity accessibility lack of suitable devices and affordability need to be taken into consideration and in cognizance of blended learning interventions These challenges are often neglected in blended learning research but are critical discussions to be had Re Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities shares how institutions in the developing world and less privileged communities have re imagined and restructured blended education to enhance teaching and learning for underprivileged communities This book aims to address blended learning solutions across institutional program course and activity levels The chapters will cover a variety of learning environments from rural settings to less developed countries and more and explore the programs and courses designed to improve student success and accessibility in diverse student populations This book is ideally intended for teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in blended learning opportunities in less privileged settings and to underserved and marginalized populations Handbook of Literacy in Africa R. Malatesha Joshi, Catherine A. McBride, Bestern Kaani, Gad Elbeheri, 2023-07-28 This volume highlights the shortcomings concerning literacy development in Africa and collates the current available literature based on empirical research in various countries in a coherent manner Further emphasized is how the current research can guide practical information to improve the literacy situation in Africa The research studies will encompass various fields such as linguistics neurosciences and education and will provide future research directions and instructional recommendations to improve the literacy situation in Africa Pillars of Salt Lianne Merkur,2019-11-04 In Pillars of Salt Lianne Merkur offers an account of early 21st century immigration as experienced by Israelis in Berlin and Toronto Commonly portrayed as contrary to the territorial emphasis of national integrity these individuals and communities appear to explore a sense of belonging that evaluates and incorporates both foreign and familiar elements Social media allows for an alternative space to balance between new home and homeland studied here as developing simultaneously in multiple sites The author makes use of innovative methodologies to document the participants own perspectives expressed online at events or on paper She thereby challenges established norms of interpretation to prove that personal decisions primarily regarding preferred language or simply self identification are the cornerstones of collective character

'Sisters in the Struggle' Kalpana Hiralal,2023-02-10 Sisters in the struggle Women of Indian Origin in South Africa s Liberation Struggle 1900 1994 unveils an uncharted historical terrain highlighting the contributions of Indian women towards non racialism and equality and their experiences within diverse political parties therefore shifting the post apartheid liberation stories which have been dominated by the journey of the ANC to other political organisations who collectively played a significant role in South Africa s road to democracy In this book Hiralal presents a refreshing perspective of Indians particularly women as contributors and activists in the struggle The book elucidates that the struggle against apartheid was a collective endeavour among the oppressed races and not a one sided endeavour by the ANC The book thus examines the participation of Indian women against apartheid and colonialism within gendered and political frameworks Assessing Multilingual Children Sharon Armon-Lotem,Jan de Jong (professore universitario.),Natalia Meir,2015 Second language learners often produce language forms resembling those of children with Specific Language Impairment SLI At present professionals working in language assessment and education have only limited diagnostic instruments to distinguish language impaired migrant children from those who will eventually catch up with their monolingual peers This book presents a comprehensive set of tools for assessing the linguistic abilities of bilingual children It aims to disentangle effects of bilingualism from those of SLI making use of both models of bilingualism and models of language impairment The book's methods oriented focus will make it an essential handbook for practitioners who look for measures which could be adapted to a variety of languages in diverse communities as well as academic researchers The Advertising & Press Annual of All Africa, 1964 Editor & Publisher, 1934-12 The fourth estate The Oxford Companion to the Economics of South Africa Haroon Borat, Alan Hirsch, Ravi Kanbur, Mthuli Ncube, 2014-11-27 In 1994 South Africa saw the end of apartheid The new era of political freedom was seen as the foundation for economic prosperity and inclusion The last two decades have seen mixed results Economic growth has been volatile While inequalities in public services have been reduced income inequality has increased and poverty has remained stagnant As the twentieth anniversary of the transition to democracy approaches in 2014 the economic policy debates in South Africa are in full flow They combine a stocktake of the various programs of the last two decades with a forward looking discussion of strategy in the face of an ever open but volatile global economy Underlying the discourse are basic and often unresolved differences on an appropriate strategy for an economy like South Africa with a strong natural resource base but with deeply entrenched inherited inequalities especially across race This volume contributes to the policy and analytical debate by pulling together perspectives on a range of issues micro macro sectoral country wide and global from leading economists working on South Africa Other than the requirement that it be analytical and not polemical the contributors were given freedom to put forward their particular perspective on their topic The economists invited are from within South Africa and from outside from academia and the policy world from international and national level economic policy agencies The contributors include recognized world leaders in South African economic analysis as well as the very best of the younger crop of economists who are working on the study of South Africa the next generation of leaders in thought and policy Pacific Automobility Gijs Mom, 2022-09-13 The beginning of the 21st century has seen important shifts in mobility cultures around the world as the West's media driven car culture has contrasted with existing local mobilities from rickshaws in India and minibuses in Africa to cycling in China In this expansive volume historian Gijs Mom explores how contemporary mobility has been impacted by social political and economic forces on a global scale as in light of local mobility cultures the car as an adventure machine seems to lose cultural influence in favor of the car's status character
