Greening the South African Economy Mark Swilling, Josephine Kaviti Musango, Jeremy

Wakeford, 2016-02-23 The depletion of South Africa's and in some cases the world's natural resources and the degradation of environmental sinks including the atmosphere, lakes and rivers and land are continuing at such a rate that natural resource prices are climbing and many critical ecosystem services that underpin human welfare are increasingly threatened. The concept of the green economy has gained increasing traction in South African policy discourses over the past few years. However, in much of this discourse it is viewed in a piecemeal way as one part or sector of the economy, e.g. an industrial sector dealing with manufacture and installation of renewable energy technologies and energy efficient equipment and appliances. In the view of the authors, greening the South African economy requires an application of sustainability principles and practices across the full range of primary, secondary and tertiary sectors of the economy in an integrated manner. The aim of this book is therefore to apply principles of sustainability and green economics to the entire South African socio-economic system and its major elements in an integrated and comprehensive manner.

Fees Must Fall Susan

Booyesen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall, the student revolt that began in October 2015, was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly, it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business, the ruling elite and the liberation movement. The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left. Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles. The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top-down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students' interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance. University managements, while on one level amenable to change, have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution. This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt. Student voices dissect colonialism, improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa, feminism, worker rights and meaningful education. In-depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism, its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt.

Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries Ndayizigamiye, Patrick, Barlow-Jones, Glenda, Brink, Roelien, Bvuma, Stella, Minty,

Rehana, Mhlongo, Siyabonga, 2020-10-09 Technology has been hailed as one of the catalysts toward economic and human development. In the current economic era of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, information acquisition, transformation and dissemination processes are posed to be the key enablers of development. However, in the context of developing countries, there is a need for more evidence on the impact that ICT has on addressing developmental issues. Such evidence is needed to make a case for investments in ICT led interventions to improve people s lives in developing countries Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries is a collection of innovative research on current trends that portray the ICT and development nexus ICT4D from economic and human development perspectives within developing countries While highlighting topics including mobile money poverty alleviation and consumer behavior this book is ideally designed for economists government officials policymakers ICT specialists business professionals researchers academicians students and entrepreneurs

Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman,2021-06-01 Building on the work of economic historian Douglass North and Ugandan political scholar Mahmood Mamdani Friedman argues that the difficulties besetting South African democracy are legacies of the past not products of the post 1994 era South Africa s democracy is often seen as a story of bright beginnings gone astray a pattern said to be common to Africa The negotiated settlement of 1994 it is claimed ended racial domination and created the foundation for a prosperous democracy but greedy politicians betrayed the promise of a new society In Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman astutely argues that this misreads the nature of contemporary South Africa Building on the work of the economic historian Douglass North and the political thinker Mahmood Mamdani Friedman shows that South African democracy s difficulties are legacies of the pre 1994 past The settlement which ushered in majority rule left intact core features of the apartheid economy and society The economy continues to exclude millions from its benefits while racial hierarchies have proved stubborn apartheid is discredited but the values of the pre 1948 colonial era the period of British colonization still dominate Thus South Africa s democracy supports free elections civil liberties and the rule of law but also continues past patterns of exclusion and domination Friedman reasons that this path dependence is not as is often claimed the result of constitutional compromises in 1994 that left domination untouched This bargain was flawed because it brought not too much compromise but too little Compromises extended political citizenship to all but there were no similar bargains on economic and cultural change Using the work of the radical sociologist Harold Wolpe Friedman shows that only negotiations on a new economy and society can free South Africans from the prison of the past

Diplomatic Strategies of Nations in the Global South Jacqueline Braveboy-Wagner,2016-10-19 At a time of change in the international system this book examines how non traditional leading nations from the Global South have fared to date and what the chances are of their rise to continue In the second decade of the twenty first century the enthusiasm of observers of the international scene about the rise of the rest is waning as many countries that were expected to lead the evolving multipolar order are experiencing economic contraction and governance problems In order to predict further developments the contributors to this volume focus on the types and sources of the diplomatic strategies that must be executed by rising states if they are to preserve domestic advances as well as gain influence regionally and internationally Through a comprehensive examination of case studies from Latin America Africa Asia and the Middle East they show that while there are commonalities among these rising states unique domestic conditions values and traditions impact and predict diplomatic strategizing and the ability for sustained projection on the international scene Anatomy of State Capture Nina Callaghan, Robyn Foley, Mark Swilling, 2021-11-26 Following the release of the Public Protector's State of Capture Report in November 2016 South Africans have been witness to an explosion of almost daily revelations of corruption mismanagement and abuses by those entrusted to lead the nation The extent of this betrayal is overwhelming and it is often difficult to distil what actually happened during the Zuma administration This book draws on the insights and expertise of 19 contributors from various sectors and disciplines to provide an account of what transpired at strategic sites of the state capture project The ongoing threat of state capture demands a response that probes beyond what happened to understanding how it was allowed to happen The stubborn culture of corruption and misgovernance continue to manifest unabated and the predatory practices which enable state capture have not yet been disrupted It is our hope that the various case studies and analyses presented in this book will contribute to confronting these shortcomings in current discourse and open avenues for progressive deliberation on how to collectively reclaim the prospects of a just and prosperous South Africa for all Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa Pascall Taruvunga, 2022-08-25 Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa argues that World Heritage Sites WHS across the African continent should adopt practical innovative creative and alternative management approaches that bring greater socio economic benefits to society whilst protecting their Outstanding Universal Value Drawing on empirical evidence gathered in conversation with stakeholders at WHS across Africa the book explores the challenges involved in implementing conservation and socio economic development as a stakeholder driven process Demonstrating that heritage can no longer be viewed as totally separate from its socio economic context Pascall argues that decisions about the management of heritage need to make sense at the local level if they are to be supported by stakeholders As the book shows heritage is still viewed and managed through systems approaches and strategies inherited from the colonial period despite the increasing availability of inclusive governance systems Stakeholders offer alternative creative and innovative approaches that capitalize on the potential of World Heritage to contribute to socio economic development whilst ensuring that its credibility and integrity are maintained Stakeholder Perspectives on World Heritage and Development in Africa offers unique insights into local perspectives on World Heritage and development in Africa The book will be essential reading for academics students development partners and practitioners around the world who are interested in museums and heritage conservation development and the African continent Also the book will be useful in the preparation of nomination dossiers management plans development plans and in disaster risk management at WHS Proceedings of the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics 2016: Sustainable economies in the information economy Joy E. Child Rights and International Discrimination Law Marit Skivenes, Karl Søvig, 2019-02-22 Societies and states are at a crossroad in how children are treated and how their rights are respected and protected Children's new position and their strong rights create tensions and challenge the traditional relationships between family and the state The United Nations

Convention on the Rights of the Child was adopted unanimously by the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1989 and came into force in 1990 Article 2 places states under an obligation to accord primacy to the best interests of the child in all actions concerning children and to ensure and regulate child protection This book offers a comparative and critical analysis of the implementation of Article 2 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child In order to examine how Article 2 is being implemented it is essential to have a sound understanding of the obligations it imposes The opening chapters will explore the precise content of these obligations in terms of the legislative history of the text its underlying philosophy its amplification by the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child and subsequent authoritative interpretations of it by courts around the world The book will then drill down into the conceptual and theoretical challenges posed by the very nature of the obligations and will offer in depth exploration of the long running rights v welfare debate that has always presented something of a challenge in giving effect to children s rights Contributors are leading academics in the children s rights field drawn from a wide range of countries and jurisdictions worldwide including those with common law civilian and mixed traditions Disciplines represented in the book include law psychology political science childhood studies social work and anthropology By drawing together the various facets of Article 2 and analysing it from a range of perspectives the volume provides a coherent and comprehensive inter disciplinary analysis on discrimination and the rights of the child

In the Balance Hein Marais,2022-07-01 Examines the need and prospects for a UBI As jobs disappear and wages flat line paid work is an increasingly fragile and unattainable basis for dignified life This predicament deepened by the COVID 19 pandemic is sparking urgent debates about alternatives such as a universal basic income UBI Highly topical and distinctive in its approach In the Balance The Case for a Universal Basic Income in South Africa and Beyond is the most rounded and up to date examination yet of the need and prospects for a UBI in a global South setting such as South Africa Hein Marais casts the debate about a UBI in the wider context of the dispossessing pressures of capitalism and the onrushing turmoil of global warming pandemics and social upheaval Marais surveys the meaning history and appeal of a UBI before even handedly weighing the case for and against such an intervention The book explores the vexing questions a UBI raises about the relationship of paid work to social rights about prevailing notions of entitlement and dependency and the role of the state in contemporary capitalism Along with cost estimates for different versions of a basic income in South Africa it discusses financing options and lays out the social economic and political implications This incisive new book advances both our theoretical and practical understanding of the prospects for a UBI

Early Detection and Intervention in Audiology Katijah Khoza-Shangase,Amisha Kanji,2021-02-01 A textbook with case studies for audiologists and speech pathologists to make recommendations for early detection and intervention of hearing impairments in the South African context Early hearing detection and intervention EHDI is the gold standard for any practicing audiologist and for families of infants and children with hearing impairment EHDI programs aim to identify diagnose and provide intervention to children with hearing impairment from as early as six months old as well as those at risk for hearing impairment to ensure they develop and achieve to their potential Yet EHDI remains a significant challenge for Africa and various initiatives are in place to address this gap in transferring policy into practice within the southern African context The diversity of factors in the southern African context presents unique challenges to teaching and research in this field which has prompted this book project The South African government's heightened focus on increasing access to health care which includes ongoing Early Childhood Development ECD programs make this an opportune time for establishing and documenting evidence based research for current undergraduate and postgraduate students Early Detection and Intervention in Audiology An African Perspective aims to address this opportunity Grounded in an African context with detailed case studies this book provides rich content that pays careful attention to contextual relevance and contextual responsiveness to both identification and intervention in hearing impairment With diverse contributions from experts in local and international contexts but always with an African perspective this textbook will be an invaluable resource for students researchers and practitioners

Legitimizing Nationalism Katie L Stewart, 2024 Russia is a large diverse and complicated country whose far flung regions maintain their own histories and cultures even as President Vladimir Putin increases his political control Powerful autocratic regimes still need to establish their legitimacy in Russia as elsewhere developing a compelling national narrative and building a sense of pride and belonging in a national identity is key to maintaining a united nation It can also legitimate political power when leaders present themselves as the nation's champions Putin's hold thus requires effective nation building propagating the ever evolving and often contested story of who exactly is Russian and what exactly that means Even in the current autocratic system however Russia's multiethnic nature and fractured political history mean that not all political symbols work the same way everywhere not every story finds the same audience in the same way The message may emanate from Moscow but regional actors including local governments civic organizations and cultural institutions have some agency in how they spread the message some regionalization of identity work is permitted to ensure that Russian national symbols and narratives resonate with people and to avoid protest This book investigates how nation building works on the ground through close studies of three of Russia's ethnic republics Karelia Tatarstan and Buryatia Understanding how the project of legitimizing nationalism in support of a unified country and specifically Putin's regime works in practice offers crucial context in understanding the shape and story of contemporary Russia

Naturalizing Inequality Michela Marcatelli, 2021-10-05 More than twenty five years after the end of apartheid water access remains a striking reminder of racial inequality in South Africa This book compellingly argues that in the post apartheid period inequality has not only been continuously reproduced but also legitimized Michela Marcatelli unravels this inequality paradox through an ethnography of water in a rural region of the country The Waterberg Plateau is a space where agriculture conservation and extraction coexist and intersect Marcatelli examines the connections between neoliberalism race and the environment by showing that racialized property relations around water and land are still recognized and protected by the post apartheid state to sustain green growth She argues that the government depicts growth as the best if not only solution to inequality While white landowners maintain access to water however black ex farmworkers are dispossessed once again of this essential to life resource If the promise of growth serves to normalize inequality the call to save nature has the effect of naturalizing it even further

Lawfare Michelle le Roux,Dennis Davis,2019-04-15 What happens when South Africa s tumultuous political life becomes entangled in the courts of law Throughout the past 50 years the courts have been a battleground for contesting political forces as more and more conflicts that were once fought in Parliament or in streets or through strikes and media campaigns find their way to the judiciary Certainly the legal system was used by both the apartheid state and its opponents But it is in the post apartheid era and in particular under the rule of President Jacob Zuma that we have witnessed a dramatic increase in lawfare the migration of politics to the courts The authors show through a series of case studies how just about every aspect of political life ends up in court the arms deal the demise of the Scorpions the Cabinet reshuffle the expulsion of the EFF from Parliament the nuclear procurement process the Cape Town mayor the list goes on and on This book offers a highly readable analysis of some of the most widely publicised and decisive instances of lawfare It argues that while it is good that the judiciary is able to shoulder the burden of supporting democracy it is showing signs of immense strain under the present deluge of political cases Whether the courts will survive this strain undamaged remains to be seen

Domains of Freedom Thembela Kepe,Melissa Levin,Bettina von Lieres,2016-09-12 After more than 20 years of freedom in South Africa we have to ask ourselves difficult questions are we willing to perpetuate a lie search for facts or think wishfully Freedom has been enabled by apartheid s end but at the same time some of apartheid s key institutions and social relations are reproduced under the guise of democracy This collection of essays acknowledges the enormous expectations placed on the shoulders of the South African revolution to produce an alternative political regime in response to apartheid and global neo liberalism It does not lament the inability of South Africa s democracy to provide deeper freedoms or suggest that since it hasn t this is some form of betrayal Freedom is made possible and or limited by local political choices contemporary global conditions and the complexities of social change This book explores the multiplicity of spaces within which the dynamics of social change unfold and the complex ways in which power is produced and reproduced In this way it seeks to understand the often non linear practices through which alternative possibilities emerge the lengthy and often indirect ways in which new communities are imagined and new solidarities are built In this sense this book is not a collection of hope or despair Nor is it a book that seeks to situate itself between these two poles Instead it aims to read the present historically critically and politically and to offer insights into the ongoing iterative and often messy struggles for freedom

Transformative Innovation for Sustainable Human Settlements Andrew Emmanuel Okem, Sithembiso Lindelihle Myeni, Tshepang Mosiea, 2024-11-18. This book uses the transformative innovation policy (TIP) as a lens to show how innovative processes practices and systems could address critical challenges and facilitate the delivery of sustainable human settlements in South Africa. The TIP approach shows that addressing societal problems is not a function of a technical solution within a government department but one that requires partnership with multiple stakeholders. The book argues that it is essential to understand and embrace innovation policy that is transformative and responds to the social and environmental needs at local provincial and national levels. It demonstrates that innovation policy should focus on transforming the socio-technical systems that demand embracing notions such as experimental delivery and learning directionality and inclusivity. Chapters explore the ability of the state to transform its organisational processes and capacity to improve and align its planning implementation monitoring and evaluation systems to high levels of efficiency and sustainability targets. Bringing together various theoretical and empirical perspectives on innovation in the context of sustainable human settlement, this book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of Housing Human Settlements Architecture Public Policy Development Studies Civil Engineering Political Science and Public Administration.
