2015 2016 University Admission List In Kenya:

High quality design on a low budget Dorothea Sommer, Janine Schmidt, Stefan Clevström, 2016-03-07 This publication brings together a range of building projects from National Academic and Public Libraries from different countries of the world showing how these libraries are able to continue to provide high quality library space that is affordable in times of difficult economic circumstances We will hear about the building processes co operation with architects and engineers and how librarians and users have reacted to these new buildings

Managing Digital Records in Africa Mpho Ngoepe, 2022-05-23 Managing Digital Records in Africa draws on the research work of the InterPARES Trust ITrust project that investigated interrelated archival issues focusing on legal analysis infrastructure trust authentication and education within the African context This research focused book provides a legal analysis and systematic assessment of how African institutions manage digital records in four countries i e Botswana Kenya South Africa and Zimbabwe It also examines the extent to which records are managed using Internet based applications trust in such records and digital record authentication to support the auditing process Finally it provides a curriculum analysis in digital records at institutions of higher learning in 38 African countries The book s case studies illustrate the threads of discussion which span the ITrust domains of legislation infrastructure authentication trust and education in archives and records management The book can be used as a premier reference source by private and public organizations researchers educators archivists records managers and postgraduate students to make informed decisions about digital records records management systems cloud based services authenticating records and identifying universities on the continent that offer archival programmes The book may also find expression to practitioners in other fields such as law and auditing

Research Universities in Africa Nico Cloete, Ian Bunting, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa
