Reframing the Reclaiming of Urban Space Megan E.

Heim LaFrombois, 2017-11-30 In Reframing the Reclaiming of Urban Space A Feminist Exploration into Do It Yourself Urbanism in Chicago Megan E Heim LaFrombois explores the concept of do it yourself DIY urbanism from an intersectional feminist analytical framework Interventions based on DIY urbanism are small scale and place specific and focus on urban spaces which can be reclaimed and repurposed often outside of formal urban planning institutions Heim LaFrombois examines the discourses and processes surrounding the institutionalized and embedded nature of DIY urbanism She weaves together sites and sources to reveal the ways in which DIY urbanists make sense of their participation and experiences with DIY urbanism and with the broader political social and economic contexts and spaces in which these activities take place Her research findings contribute to and build on current research that illustrates the importance of gender race class and sexuality to cities local politics urban planning initiatives and the development of communities

Educational Technology

Beyond Content Brad Hokanson, Gregory Clinton, Andrew A. Tawfik, Amy Grincewicz, Matthew Schmidt, 2020-04-09 This book is the outcome of a research symposium sponsored by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology AECT Consisting of twenty four chapters including an introduction and conclusion it argues that informational content should not be the main element of education and that to provide more for learners it is necessary to go beyond content and address other skills and capabilities It also discusses the false premise that learning is complete when the information is known not when learners seek more their own directions answers and ideas The authors assert that the ability to synthesize solve problems and generate ideas is not based on specific content although education often focuses solely on teaching content Further they state that content can be separated from the learning process and that instructional design and educational technology must be about the skills habits and beliefs to be learned

Advanced Introduction to Planning Theory

Robert A. Beauregard, 2020-04-24 In this original approach to the world of planning theory Robert A Beauregard cuts across the many different ways to think about planning by organizing them around four core tasks knowing engaging prescribing and executing In doing so Beauregard explores how a basic concern with the relationship between knowledge and action has evolved into a complex discussion of democracy inclusion and justice      Planning Local Economic Development Nancey Green Leigh, Edward J. Blakely, 2016-11-23 Written by authors with years of academic regional and city planning experience the classic Planning Local Economic Development has laid the foundation for practitioners and academics working in planning and policy development for generations With deeper coverage of sustainability and resiliency the new Sixth Edition explores the theories of local economic development while addressing the issues and opportunities faced by cities towns and local entities in crafting their economic destinies within the global economy Nancey Green Leigh and Edward J Blakely provide a thoroughly up to date exploration of planning processes analytical techniques and data and locality business and human resource development as well as advanced technology and sustainable economic development strategies      Everyday Equalities Ruth Fincher, Kurt Iveson, Helga Leitner, Valerie Preston, 2019-08-13 A timely new look at coexisting without assimilating in multicultural cities If city life is a being together of strangers what forms of being together should we strive for in cities with ethnic and racial diversity Everyday Equalities seeks evidence of progressive political alternatives to racialized inequality that are emerging from everyday encounters in Los Angeles Melbourne Sydney and Toronto settler colonial cities that established through efforts to dispossess and eliminate indigenous societies have been destinations for waves of immigrants from across the globe ever since Everyday Equalities finds such alternatives being developed as people encounter one another in the process of making a home earning a living moving around the city and forming collective actions or communities Here four leading scholars in critical urban geography come together to deliver a powerful and cohesive message about the meaning of equality in contemporary cities Drawing on both theoretical reflection and urban ethnographic research they offer the formulation being together in difference as equals as a normative frame to reimagine the meaning and pursuit of equality in today s urban multicultures As the examples in Everyday Equalities indicate much emotional labor combined with a willingness to learn from each other negotiate across differences and agitate for change goes into constructing environments that foster being together in difference as equals Importantly the authors argue a commitment to equality is not only a hope for a future city but also a way of being together in the present      Reshaping the World Ernesto Castañeda, 2021-03-16 This volume provides information and analyses to better grasp the social implications of geographical borders as well as the individuals who travel between them and those who live in border regions Sociologists anthropologists philosophers linguists and scholars of international relations and public health are just some of the authors contributing to Rethinking Borders The diversity in the authors disciplines and the topics they focus on exemplify the intricacies of borders and their manifold effects This openness to so many schools of thought stands in contrast to the solidification of stricter borders across the globe The contributions range from case studies of migrants sense of belonging and safety to theoretical discussions about migration and globalization from empirical studies about immigrant practices and exclusionary laws to ethical concerns about the benefits of inclusion It is timely that this collective work is published in the middle of a pandemic that has affected every single part of the world Unprecedented border closures and stringent travel restrictions have not been enough to contain the virus entirely As COVID 19 shows diseases ideas and xenophobic and racist discourses know no borders Plans that transcend borders are vital when dealing with global threats such as climate change and pandemics

Economic Development for Everyone Mark M. Miller, 2017-05-09 How do we create employment grow businesses and build greater economic resilience in our low income communities How do we create economic development for everyone everywhere including rural towns inner city neighborhoods aging suburbs and regions such as Appalachia American Indian reservations the Mexican border and the Mississippi Delta and not just in elite communities Economic Development for Everyone collects organizes and reviews much of the current research available on creating economic development in low income communities Part I offers an overview of the harsh realities facing low income communities in the US today their many economic and social challenges debates on whether to try reviving local economies vs relocating residents and current trends in economic development that emphasize high tech industry and high levels of human capital Part II organizes the sprawling literature of applied economic development research into a practical framework of five dynamic dimensions empower your residents begin with basic education enhance your community build on existing assets encourage your entrepreneurs diversify your economy and sustain your development This book assembled and presented in a unified framework will be invaluable for students and new researchers of economic development in low income communities and will offer new perspectives for established researchers professional economic developers and planners and public officials Development practitioners and community leaders will also find new ideas and opportunities along with a broad view on how the many complex parts of economic development interconnect

The Globalisation of Urban Governance

Helmut Philipp Aust, Anél du Plessis, 2018-12-07 The adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs by the UN General Assembly in 2015 represents the latest attempt by the international community to live up to the challenges of a planet that is out of control Sustainable Development Goal 11 envisages inclusive safe resilient and sustainable cities around the world by the year 2030 This globally agreed vision is part of a trend in international policy toward good urban governance and now awaits implementation Fourteen original contributions collectively examine how this global vision has been developed on a conceptual level how it plays out in various areas of global urban governance and how it is implemented in varying local contexts The overarching hypothesis presented herein is that SDG 11 proves that local governance is recognised as an autonomous yet interrelated part of the global pursuit of sustainable development The volume analyses three core questions How have the normative ideals set forth in SDG 11 been developed What are the meanings of the four sub goals of SDG 11 and how do these relate to each other What does SDG 11 imply for urban law and governance in the domestic context and how are local processes of urban governance internationalised The Globalisation of Urban Governance makes an important scholarly contribution by linking the narrative on globalisation of good urban governance in various social sciences with legal discourse It considers global governance and connects the existing debate about cities and their place in global governance with some of the most pertinent questions that lawyers face today

Boundaries and Motherhood Deepra Dandekar, The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the South Asian region a vast body of research on this important and yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over 50 research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to ensure that impunity for perpetrators is more or less inbuilt As many of the authors argue the very nature and conditions of sexual violence in the South Asian region lend themselves to a silencing process or at a minimum a reluctance to address it head on something that may at least partially explain why accountability for sexual violence remains such a distant horizon This volume focuses on Bangladesh a nation born in 1971 in a birth that was as marked by bloodshed as it was by sexual violence The history of widespread sexual violence and incidents of sexual slavery as well as the absence of accountability for the perpetrators is by now well known The essays here address the structural dynamics of impunity at the individual and societal levels looking not only at the conditions that go into its creation but also the elements that fuel it They ask what helps it to become so embedded and point to its human global and national costs Together they explore the ways in which the women s movement and feminist practice have worked to demand accountability and recognition for the victims and survivors of sexual violence challenging the impunities embedded in the patriarchal structures of Bangladeshi society In doing so they bear witness to the continuing efforts of women s groups in Bangladesh to give this crucial issue the attention that it deserves for without that justice for victims and survivors will remain elusive

The Rankins of Montana Katherine H. Adams, 2021-07-27 This is the story of the Rankins a family that embodied the risk and ambition that transformed America John Rankin arrived in the West chasing the adventure of gold mining but soon turned to ranching and building in the new town of Missoula There he met Olive Pickering who had left New Hampshire in 1878 to become a teacher and seek a husband on the American frontier John and Olive s children continued to demonstrate their parent s ambition and nerve Their son became one of the biggest landowners in the country one of the first personal injury lawyers and a crusader against railroads and mining Jeannette became the first woman in a national legislature voted against two world wars and led marches protesting the Vietnam War As a dean Harriet helped develop the modern co educational university Edna traveled the world advocating for birth control The Rankins faced both national adulation and condemnation for the choices they made Their family story concerns independence and education activism the boundaries created by gender religious choices and the changing meaning of the West

The Comprehensive Autism Planning System (CAPS) Shawn Henry, Brenda Smith Myles, 2024-08-06 The Comprehensive Autism Planning System for Individuals CAPS is a reflection of its creator In his role as a state and national leader Shawn Henry serves as an advocate for autistic individuals Shawn and co author Brenda Smith Myles clearly describe each element of the CAPS model in a well organized text Throughout the book the authors and expert contributors highlight a variety of evidence based strategies that correspond to each area of the CAPS The CAPS model illustrates their ability to create meaningful change through realistic and practical means It s a simple yet powerful system This innovative approach helps teachers and educational teams plan and implement a student s education across the school including the Individualized Education Program IEP and the curriculum relevant to the student It takes the team through the process of planning out the goals objectives to be targeted in each activity of the day the modifications and accommodations that should be provided to support the student in each activity the sensory supports needed to help the student stay engaged and the communication and social supports for successful learning It shows the type of data to collect for each area and helps to note what reinforcers have been shown to be successful While this system was developed for use with individuals on the autism spectrum it can also be an essential tool for any student regardless of the types of supports and needs they have There are also vocational and transitional formats that are available for students making the transition to work The CAPS has been updated to address current trends in special education instruction and research In this edition emphasis is placed on Inclusion Successful practices that support learning for autistic students Updated evidence based practices and case studies that apply the CAPS system to post secondary education and employment Through the CAPS autistic individuals have access to meaningful instruction that will allow them to reach their potential      Religion in the Américas Christopher D.

Tirres,Jessica L. Delgado,2025-04-01 Religion in the Am ricas explores the fluid dynamic and complex nature of religion across Latin America and its diasporic communities in the United States Utilizing a transdisciplinary and trans hemispheric lens this groundbreaking anthology transcends traditional scholarly boundaries geographical disciplinary and temporal as it explores ideas and cultural practices that share a common history of Iberian colonialism This robust collection of essays forges a dialogue among scholars throughout the Americas who represent a variety of disciplinary perspectives The book is divided into five sections Fluidity in the Afro Latine Diaspora Aesthetics in Las Am ricas Critical Feminist Epistemologies and Activism The Limits of Institutional Religion and Spiritual Invasions and Contagions Throughout the volume the concept of experience serves as a foundational lens as chapters examine how individuals and communities actively interpret and negotiate their realities within diverse historical and social contexts Focusing on religion as a culturally conditioned epistemic practice Religion in the Am ricas invites readers to engage with religion in the Americas on multiple intersecting levels of knowledge including local insights scholarly analyses and the positionality and queries of readers themselves The book s dialogical approach encourages not only continual reevaluation of the complexities of religious experience in the Americas but also creative innovation that will inspire new avenues of inquiry      Rhetoric and Technical Communication in HOPE VI Christopher J. Morris,2024-11-07 Rhetoric and Technical Communication in HOPE VI presents a rhetorical analysis of key documents and technical writing associated with HOPE VI a federal mixed income public housing program Despite mandating resident participation HOPE VI increased homelessness reinforced racial segregation and facilitated gentrification projects that priced out low income residents Christopher J Morris considers this phenomenon of participatory capture in which participation works against the most vulnerable participants By articulating participatory capture in contemporary American housing Morris articulates the dominant narratives discourses and methods the U S Department of Housing and Urban Development used to leverage participatory methods and discourses to maintain social inequity In exploring participation s pitfalls the author also offers scholars and practitioners alike an alternative to participation sovereign design rhetoric

Resilience for All Barbara Brown Wilson, 2018-05-24 In the United States people of color are disproportionately more likely to live in environments with poor air quality in close proximity to toxic waste and in locations more vulnerable to climate change and extreme weather events In many vulnerable neighborhoods structural racism and classism prevent residents from having a seat at the table when decisions are made about their community In an effort to overcome power imbalances and ensure local knowledge informs decision making a new approach to community engagement is essential In Resilience for All Barbara Brown Wilson looks at less conventional but often more effective methods to make communities more resilient She takes an in depth look at what equitable positive change through community driven design looks like in four communities East Biloxi Mississippi the Lower East Side of Manhattan the Denby neighborhood in Detroit Michigan and the Cully neighborhood in Portland Oregon These vulnerable communities have prevailed in spite of serious urban stressors such as climate change gentrification and disinvestment Wilson looks at how the lessons in the case studies and other examples might more broadly inform future practice She shows how community driven design projects in underserved neighborhoods can not only change the built world but also provide opportunities for residents to build their own capacities

Thrive Ben Wright, Emily Clements, Martha Boyne, 2018-05-16 Martha Emily and Ben are thriving teachers In Thrive they share their personal experiences and demonstrate how you too can thrive during the tricky training year the daunting NQT year and the crucial RQT year Using their collective insights and plenty of evidence informed strategies and advice they detail how you can get to grips with the classroom basics from behaviour management and lesson planning to differentiation and providing for SEND and effectively continue your professional development This book is not just a survival manual to help teachers get through their first three years in teaching Nor is it an academic text that has been written by authors who have only a distant memory of what it takes to stand in front of a class of teenagers for the first time Thrive is something very different It gives both the aspiring and the newly qualified the support and guidance to become a thriving teacher and has been co authored by three recently qualified teachers who in this book invest their passion and practical knowledge to inspire and inform others who want to pursue enjoyable and rewarding careers in teaching Thrive is divided into three parts specifically detailing what can be expected in the training year NQT year and RQT year respectively with the authors

commentary threaded throughout to demonstrate how the ideas discussed can be successfully put into practice Their accounts are also complemented by expert advice from two people who are at the very top of their profession Lianne Allison and Dr Simon Thompson who provide wider perspectives drawn from a wealth of teaching experience Forty of the book's forty six chapters begin with a checklist outlining what a developing teacher is expected to do and each chapter ends with a to do list that can be used as a quick reference point to structure the strategies implemented These to do lists are also followed by lists of suggested further reading so that readers can delve deeper into topics and fields of research that they find particularly interesting or relevant Furthermore the book offers helpful counsel on choosing the best training route as well as an in depth analysis of the change in priorities for busy teachers as they progress encouraging constant reflection outlining potential pathways and emphasising the importance of evidence based practice and how new teachers can and should incorporate this into their teaching Rooted in practical strategies and innovative ideas Thrive is the essential guide for trainee secondary school teachers and teacher trainers

The Narrative Turn in Urban Planning Lieven Ameel, 2020-11-15 Narratives in the context of urban planning matter profoundly Planning theory and practice have taken an increasing interest in the role and power of narrative and yet there is no comprehensive study of how narrative and concepts from narrative and literary theory more broadly can enrich planning and policy The Narrative Turn in Urban Planning addresses this gap by defining key concepts such as story narrative and plot against a planning backdrop and by drawing up a functional typology of different planning narratives In two extended case studies from the planning of the Helsinki waterfront it applies the narrative concepts and theories to a broad range of texts and practices considering ways toward a more conscious and contextualized future urban planning Questioning what is meant when we speak of narratives in urban planning and what typologies we can draw up it presents a threefold taxonomy of narratives within a planning framework This book will serve as an important reference text for upper level students and researchers interested in urban planning

Sonic Rupture Jordan Lacey, 2017-12-28 Sonic Rupture applies a practitioner led approach to urban soundscape design which foregrounds the importance of creative encounters in global cities This presents an alternative to those urban soundscape design approaches concerned with managing the negative health impacts of noise Instead urban noise is considered to be a creative material and cultural expression that can be reshaped with citywide networks of sonic installations By applying affect theory the urban is imagined as an unfolding of the Affective Earth and noise as its homogenous and homogenizing voice It is argued that noise is an expressive material with which sonic practitioners can interface to increase the creative possibilities of urban life At the heart of this argument is the question of relationships how do we augment and diversify those interconnections that weave together the imaginative life and the expressions of the land The book details seven sound installations completed by the author as part of a creative practice research process in which the sonic rupture model was discovered The sonic rupture model which aims to diversify human experiences and urban environments encapsulates five soundscape design approaches and ten practitioner intentions Multiple works of international practitioners are explored in relation to the discussed approaches Sonic Rupture provides the domains of sound art music creative practice urban design architecture and environmental philosophy with a unique perspective for understanding those affective forces which shape urban life The book also provides a range of practical and conceptual tools for urban soundscape design that can be applied by the sonic practitioner
